ITALY ORDERS EXPULSION OF POST WAR JEWS

ROME, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Italian Government today ordered all Jews who have established themselves in Italy since the Great War to leave the country within six months. The order was contained in a decree approved at a cabinet meeting over which Premier Mussolini presided.

May 9, 1938, open to the banished Jews if they are not able to get into any other country. Affects 10,000. Definite information on the number affected will not be known until results of a recent census of Jews are published but estimates placed the figure at more than 10,000.

same pensions as Italian Great War veterans. The Government was given full power to make any use it desires of any industrial or commercial establishment in the event of full or partial mobilization.

Minutes of July meeting read and adopted. There were no reports from committees. Mrs. L. Miller favored the meeting with an interesting reading of the programme of Y. M. C. A. Education which will be carried on this season will, it is hoped, result not only in a wider knowledge of the Association and its services, but also in some measure of financial support from citizens and organizations who are benefiting by its services and giving perhaps little thought to the resources needed to maintain them.

FIELD DAY AT ST. THERESA There will be a Field Day held at St. Theresa on Friday, September 9th. The meeting will be addressed by representatives of the Dominion Livestock Branch as well as representatives of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Y. M. C. A. Policy

The Y. M. C. A. according to the charter and constitution under which it is operating in Charlottetown is, strictly speaking, a membership organization. As an agency takes on age in a given community and continues to function year after year without interruption, rendering its services day in and day out, there is a generally prevalent tendency to take such organizations for granted and simply assume the continuance of their services. This is particularly true of institutions and movements closely related to the church and having a definitely Christian basis for their operations. The Charlottetown Y. M. C. A. was organized in 1856 and in the course of its existence it has carried on its work continuously without a break. Since the inception of the Association in our own City it has passed through several different social settings in response to the needs of the community. It has witnessed marked changes in the philosophy of its leaders as to the mission and function of the Y. M. C. A. Our local Association has seen and shared in the transition from one point of view to another. In the course of time the community services of the Association had much wider ramifications than in earlier years and the need was felt for a more comprehensive rendering of such services would not militate against the continued growth or strength of the Y. M. C. A. as a membership organization. In recent years the community services of the Association have not abated and during depression years down to the present have been maintained as meeting the need of many young people during a period of increased and enforced idleness due to unemployment. The experience locally however, has been that the increase in the number of unemployed has not been from unemployed young men. In this event it might well be contended that the Y. M. C. A. would be justified in doing other than continuing the policy indicated. The great increase has been on the part of folk who would have no reason to relate depression years to unemployment to attendance at the Y. M. C. A. Membership revenue in the Association, which is essential for the carrying on of the work, in addition to voluntary contributions, has been kept pace with the increasing use of the plant. It is observed that the Y. M. C. A. building is regarded as an open community or public centre and its services and conveniences are simply assumed as belonging to all and sundry. The community has gradually come to take this for granted without giving thought to the maintenance of a generation of young people of today are more or less schooled to this idea. The business public of Charlottetown have always supported the Association liberally and have decided that in interest to all, the solution of the situation should be shared by all who wish to habitually avail themselves of the Association's privileges. The Y. M. C. A. this season will give a fresh emphasis and a strict regard to the constitution and charter under which it is operating as a membership organization. The facilities of the Association Building—gymnasium, programme, shower baths, bowling alleys, reading room, lobby games and such other facilities as the Y. M. C. A. has to offer will be open only to members of the Y. M. C. A. and guests who may be regarded as visitors. In using the term "membership" it is not the thought that this necessarily means the payment of a fee by the member concerned. The purpose of the Board is to attach some significance to membership in the Y. M. C. A. and every boy and girl, young man or young woman who wishes to have the privileges which membership in the Y. M. C. A. affords, will fill out a membership application form and present it at the Association office. The filing of this application must be considered as essential regardless of any membership fee which has been paid by or for the membership candidate. Members hereof will be available for any boy or girl who is sponsored or recommended by an adult, having knowledge of the circumstances of a case. A fee may or may not be required. The important point is that individuals will not regularly frequent the Y. M. C. A. Building regarding it as an "open house". The filling out of membership application forms, the signing of it, and the presenting of it at the Y. M. C. A. office involves a procedure that will, it is believed, give some meaning to membership in the Young Men's Christian Association. This procedure is only in line with what the Y. M. C. A. by the very nature of its organization is supposed to do. The more strict observance of its membership requirements will in time increase the membership and at the same time will maintain an open door to all those who have a desire and purpose to affiliate with the Association, regardless of his or her ability to pay a stipulated fee. Numerous organizations and societies throughout the year are accorded the accommodations of the Association Building for meetings and gatherings of different kinds from time to time. Some of these organizations in return contribute to the support of the Y. M. C. A.—others do not. No rents or fees are charged and any contributions received from groups or societies come voluntarily. A programme of Y. M. C. A. Education which will be carried on this season will, it is hoped, result not only in a wider knowledge of the Association and its services, but also in some measure of financial support from citizens and organizations who are benefiting by its services and giving perhaps little thought to the resources needed to maintain them.

Having time on his hands he walked through the cemetery reading inscriptions on the tombstones. He saw the names of many with whom he was well acquainted, many who were prominently identified with the social, industrial, mercantile and professional life of not only Montague but the surrounding country as well. He was greatly impressed with the way the cemetery was kept, quite in contrast to the olden days, when little attention was paid to the resting place of the departed. Those in charge of the cemetery are to be commended for the care exercised. Mrs. John Murphy, of Charlottetown, is enjoying a pleasant holiday in Kensington, the guest of her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacLellan. The old saying, "A habit once formed is hard to break" is proving to be true, in Kensington, as a great many, when in need of telephoning, dashes up to the old stand over Mr. Joseph Davison's restaurant, instead of going to the new office which is situated on the corner of Victoria St. and the Free-town Road. Mr. George Brookings, a prominent and energetic business man, has taken over the former Mac-Bur restaurant. A number of young friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baker, Margate recently to wish their daughter Miss Marjorie many happy returns of the day. The large number of individual gifts Marjorie received is ample proof of her popularity. Songs and games along with much chatter and fun caused a pleasant evening to pass all too quickly. Their dependancy was over, however, with the serving of a dainty lunch which brought each member back to a Horse lovers throughout the Maritimes will regret to hear that "Trampagile" 2:10 1-4, who in former years did his stuff on the tracks throughout the Maritimes is dead. On Friday afternoon when he was being taken into Mr. Phillip McNally's blacksmith shop in Kensington for a new set of shoes he dropped dead. The cause of his death no one as yet knows.
