Removal Of Latin From Course In P. E. I. Schools

For the information of the public, the Department of Education has just issued the following statement:

Experience, both in this province and elsewhere, has shown that it is impossible for one-teacher schools and in some cases for two or three-room schools to do effective work in the fundamental subjects under the heavy burden of Grades IX and X. In these grades, two languages other than English have been required in this province. Recent Standardized Tests, at the end of Grade VIII, as well as the Entrance Examinations to Prince of Wales College, have shown pronounced weakness in the fundamental work in English, Arithmetic, the Social Studies and Health. With a view to improving these basic subjects, and after careful study by the Department, and through discussions with the Governors of the Prince Edward Island Teachers' Federation, and the Council of Education, it has been decided to remove Latin from the Course in Grade IX and X in the one-teacher schools and possibly in some of the two and three-room schools.

This, however, does not mean that any pupil wishing or requiring Latin will be unable to secure the same. On the contrary, provision will be made so that no pupil will be denied the privilege of studying Latin. Indeed, with more time available for the fundamental work in the schools generally, and with the teaching of Latin in the hands of those best qualified to handle it, the whole programme, including Latin, should show improvement.

So that no pupil may be without the privilege of studying Latin, the following provisions have been made:

1. Correspondence Lessons, prepared and corrected by our most competent teachers of the subject will be provided.

2. Latin Courses will be taught in two and three-room schools, if the supervisor of schools for the districts approves and, in larger schools, at the discretion of the School Boards.

3. Latin will be taught in Grades IX and X in schools teaching Grade XI.

4. A Beginners' Course (Grade IX and X) will be given by a competent teacher in Prince of Wales College to those who enter that Institution without Latin, but who wish to study the subject.

Briefly, then, the position will be as follows:

1. Additional time will be available in the smaller schools for the fundamental subjects, and improvement should therefore result.

2. As in other provinces, a high-school course will be available without the Latin requirement This is merely bringing ourselves in line with the general practice throughout Canada.

3. Provision will be made so that all pupils desiring Latin in their highschool courses will be able to secure the same.

4. Teaching the Learning in Latin should improve because of a more solid foundation in the fundamental subjects and because the teaching of Latin will be in the hands of the institutions and the teachers most competent to handle it. In this too the province is following the practice general throughout Canada.

Study, looking to further changes in the work of the high-school grades, will be continued by the Department with the co-operation of the Teachers' Federation, and the Council of Education. Constructive comments and suggestions from interested persons or groups are always welcome.

If all the world were ours to give

Treasure him with care

Who was killed in action in France on July 28, 1944.

There is someone who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went,
There is someone who thinks of you daily
And tries to be brave and content.

Our eyes shed many a tear,
God alone knows how we miss you
At the dawn of another year.

DISTRICT SCOUT CAMP

Are you all ready for Camp Buchan from August 1st. to August 10th? Don't forget that the point of Assembly for transportation down is the Market Square at 2 o'clock on Thursday, August 1st

We are planning to have a daily report appear in the local press about the progress and general activities of the Scouts at Buchan so tell your folks to watch for the little news items that appear from time to time. This reporting was very much appreciated last year by parents of Scouts and the public in general who are interested in Scouting and we have decided to carry the news again this year.

THE BASILICA TROOP CAMP REPORT

Here is the continuation of Tall Timber's report of the First's Troop Camp:

Fire-By-Friction

One of the most interesting experiments of the Camp was Fire-by-friction which was, even with the advance party, a highlight of spare time activities. During any slack spell in the program there were always some Scouts busily engaged in endeavoring to get fire by the old Indian method, using white pine, cedar and tamarack for both fire-board and spindle. Combinations of these were also used and a goodly amount of success was attained by the Scouts who took up the practice of the art.

First to get fire was T.L. Abraham Zakem, who, on the advance party, experienced the great thrill of having the tinder burst into flame after working very hard with the fire-bow, and twirling the tinder around and round. Next was P.L. Frank Zakem of the Owls and second Charles Ready of the Foxes who experienced a little more difficulty, but who finally mastered the difficult work and had the satisfaction of success. Others who attained quite an amount of success with the fire-lighting sets were Tommy Kays Gussie Martin and Willie Dunn. Most of the Scouts tried their hands at it, but only the more persistent ones attained any amount of success.

It is hoped that some members of the First will soon become quite expert in this Scouty pastime and that they may be able to demonstrate the art publicly.

PATROL COMPETITION

As the Patrols consisted of Scouts who had been working as units during the past year, a wonderful Patrol Spirit was shown in all camping activities, especially in the competition which was conducted during the whole camp. Total daily inspection points were amazingly close. At no time did any Patrol fall down far below average. A fine wholesome Scouty spirit prevailed throughout the whole of the competition and each Scout carried his weight in all the items which affected his Patrol. P.L. Frank Zakem of the Owls, with a grand total of 672 1-2 points won the Troop totem. His Patrol was successful in winning the Troop flag four days during the Camp.

The Robin Patrol, under P.L. Maurice DeCoste held the Troop Flag on five of the inspection days, but dropped a few points one day while acting as Duty Patrol and also on Field Day. Maurice was awarded the Troop's "Registered Camp" card, as a souvenir for his Patrol. This card, which is really the permission of the Provincial Council for a Troop to conduct a camp, was signed by each member of the Camp. It also bears the signature of the Provincial Commissioner. Although the Robins held the flag more times than the other Patrols, its total was lower than the Owls.. 659 was the Robins' total.

The Foxes, under P.L. Ed. Mullins held the Troop flag only once, but was consistently well up in points, being on four days second in the number of competition points. The P.L. of this Patrol arrived in camp four days late, having been ill just prior to Camp. Under the circumstances, it may be said that Ed did exceedingly well, as, because of doctor's orders, he was unable to sleep out and spent his nights in the Big Hut away from his Patrol. The Foxes had a total of 626 points for the whole of Camp. Much credit is due to Second Charlie Ready of the Foxes who so capably handled the Patrol before Ed arrived.

how many Judges constitute the bench of each court. Of course we have something to say in the matter. We do not admit that they can provide for any number of Judges, a number that would be out of all proportion to the number required to handle the judicial business. But we try to meet the desires of the provincial authorities in providing sufficient Judges for the courts which they organize as being the ones required for their local needs.

"The suggestion of having one more High Court Judge and one less County Court Judge is one that has not been abandoned. It has not yet been accepted. It is a matter about which I understand the local authorities would like to get acceptance by the population of the Counties. It may well be that it would require having the County Court Judges given jurisdiction over the whole Island and not over just one district, because I do not think any one County would wish to abandon its rights to a judge in favour of the other Counties. It is a matter which is still under consideration, I understand, by the local authorities of the Province.

"The suggestion would involve some additional expense, but the local authorities have been told that I would undertake to recommend to Parliament the additional expense that would be involved in the difference between the salary of a County Court Judge and a High Court Judge. It is something which the people of Prince Edward Island will have to make up their minds about. I do not think the Hon. Member would suggest that there be one Judge added; I think he would agree that there are enough Judges in Prince Edward Island to take care of all the judicial work which arises there. It is a matter for the people of the Province to determine how they want that Judicial talent used to the best advantage."

Mr. McLure: "When I asked the question I put it this way: to provide an efficient appeal court without adding to the existing number of Judges."

Mr. St. Laurent: "Yes."

Mr. McLure: "I should like to ask one more question. Could a County Court Judge sit with the two Supreme Court Judges on an appeal case?"

Mr. St. Laurent: "That suggestion has been considered, and so far the information I have is that that would not be an acceptable solution. It has been given consideration, but the Hon. Member knows that there are personal feelings which would enter into it, and so far it has not been found by the local authorities to be an acceptable solution."

Mr. Hackett: "In Ontario do not Judges of different jurisdictions sit as an appeal tribunal?"

Mr. St. Laurent: "They do not form part of the Court of Appeal. I understand that District or County Court Judges hear appeals from magistrates, but the Ontario Court of Appeal is composed exclusively of Judges who are appointed to that court and who call in occasionally as ad hoc Judges some of their brethren of the High Court or of the trial side."

In Memoriam

MRS. JOHN A. CAMPBELL

At the Prince County Hospital on May 16th 1946, after a short illness, there passed peacefully to her eternal home a highly respected citizen of Freetown in the person of Mrs. John A. Campbell.

Fifty-four years ago Lulu Ballem was born to the late Joseph Ballem and his wife formerly Amelia Ings on the Ballem homestead in Pownal, P.E.I. Having received her primary education at Mt. Mellish public school she matriculated to Prince of Wales College from the MacDonald Consolidatel school Mt. Herbert. After receiving her first class licence she taught in Mt. Albion for two years. The following year after graduating from Union Commercial College she went to Winnipeg and while there was employed with the C. S. Judson and Co. After returning to her native island at the outbreak of the first World War. She held a position with Prowse Bros., of Charlottetown. Twenty seven years past she married John A. Campbell and moved to Freetown where she had been a good neighbor, true friend, faithful wife and mother.

She took an active part in church work being a member of the Church of Scotland and adherent of the United Church. She was a member of the Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society. Her rich soprano voice added much to the service of song in the choir.

Left to mourn are her husband; a son Leeman and a daughter Jean of Freetown also a brother Percy and a sister Viola of Pownal.

The funeral arrangements were under the charge of Joseph L. Davison of Kensington. Rev. Harvey Bishop conducted the service assisted by Rev. Ralph Wagner and James MacGowan. The hymns sung were "the twenty-third Psalm" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." A solo "Have Thine Own Way Lord" was beautifully and sympathetically rendered by Mrs. W. N. Jenkins.

The pallbearers were, William Mutch, William Drake, Heber Weeks, Austin Scales, Frank Deacon, Reginald Reeves.

The floral tributes were beautiful. Interment was made in the People's Cemetery, Freetown.

been done by the Legislature. The Legislature has stated the bench of the Supreme Court shall consist of four Judges. The part to be played by the Dominion Government, if the terms of Confederation are to be fulfilled, is to appoint four Judges. They have only appointed three.

"Cases have been referred to in the past where an appeal from a trial Judge has come up, by way of appeal, to one Judge alone, sitting as the Court of Appeal. This single Judge, sitting as an Appeal Court, has power to reverse, and has reversed, the judgment of his fellow judge, (sometimes the judgment of a senior judge.)

"If justice is to be administered in the Province, a proper Court of Appeal should be constituted, and its bench filled. The Court has been constituted, but for twenty-four years past the Dominion Government has left Prince Edward Island without any adequate Court of Appeal, notwithstanding the Act of its Legislature and the repeated remonstrances of the members of its Bar."

Noting the Minister's reference to a suggestion that the number of County Court Judges be reduced to two, which would affect a saving of $5.000 annually to be applied to the salary of a fourth Supreme Court Judge, Mr. Bentley recalled that as secretary of the Law Society he had laid this proposal before the Federal Department some years ago, and that it had practically been agreed to. Nothing came of the proposal however, though he was interested to note by Mr. St. Laurent's statement that it is again being considered.

Reddin-O'Hanley Nuptials

A very pretty summer wedding was solemnized at St. Dunstan's Basilica in Charlottetown, on Thursday morning, July 18th, 1946 at 8:30 o'clock, when Catherine Marcella O'Hanley, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. O'Hanley, of St. Peter's Bay, became the bride of Frederick O'Meara Reddin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reddin, Charlottetown.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Emmet O'Hanley, Ph.D., of the faculty of St. Dunstan's University, brother of the bride. Dr. O'Hanley also celebrated the Nuptial Mass. Hymns appropriate to the occasion were very pleasingly rendered by Miss Phyllis Blanchard and Mr. S. F. Doyle with Mrs. Joseph Dougan as organist. John McAleer and Harold Hennessey ushered the guests for the occasion.

Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Gavin Monaghan, Ph.D., Paed.D., Diocesan Supervisor of Schools in Oklahoma, and Rev. Martin Monaghan.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked very charming in a beautiful gown of white satin fashioned on empire lines, with floor length skirt, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. She wore a finger-tip veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Simon P. Paoli, sister of the groom, as matron of honor. Mrs. Paoli looked very lovely in a floor length gown of aquamarine crepe, with which she wore a small hat of fuschia velvet flowers, matching gloves and muff of American Beauty roses.

The groom was attended by his brother-in-law. Mr. Simon P. Paoli.

The bride's mother was gowned in a becoming dress of biege crepe, large leghorn hat, and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception and breakfast were held at The Charlottetown for the immediate relatives and close friends of the bride and groom.

At the wedding breakfast Simon P. Paoli very capably performed the duties of toast-master. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Dr. Gavin Monaghan, who referred very eloquently to the happy occasion and of his pleasure at being able to attend. The groom responded to this toast and thanked Dr. Monaghan and the guests for their many good wishes. Mr. Harold Hennessey proposed the toast to the matron-of-honour and Mr. Paoli responded on behalf of Mrs. Paoli in most pleasing terms.

Rev. Dr. O'Hanley spoke briefly, extending the family's good wishes to the bride and groom. The good wishes of the guests were extended to the bride and groom by Mr. Emmett MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Reddin later left on a motor tour through the Maritimes and other parts of eastern Canada. The bride travelled in a brown and white striped dress with brown and white accessories.

Mrs. Reddin is very well and favourably known in Charlottetown, having been attached to the Nursing Register at the Charlottetown Hospital.

The groom is prominent in business circles on the Island.

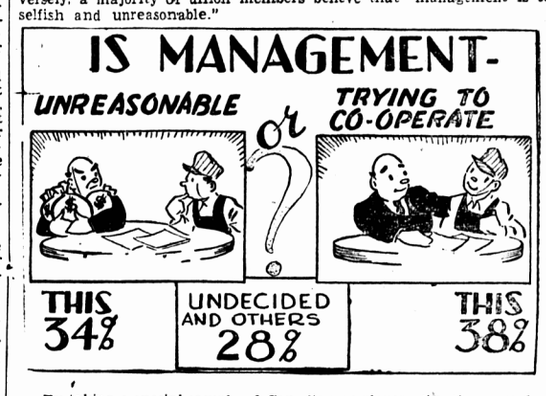
Gallup Poll of Canada

EMOTIONAL THINKING ON BOTH SIDES SHOWN IN LABOR-MANAGEMENT ISSUES

Majority of Employers Think Labor Leaders Mostly "Trouble Makers"

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

TORONTO, July 27 — Just how much prejudice emotional thinking there is in the human relations of labor and management is shown by the fact that today a majority of employers believe that there are "too many trouble makers and agitators" among union labor leaders. Conversely, a majority of union members believe that "management is too selfish and unreasonable."



By taking a special sample of Canadian employers (ie. those employing 15 or more people), the Canadian Institute is able to compare the opinions of employers with those of organized labor.

To cross sections of both groups (as well as to the public-at-large) Gallup opinion reporters across Canada posed an identical set of questions, one of which was:

"SOME PEOPLE SAY THERE ARE TOO MANY TROUBLE MAKERS AND AGITATORS AMONG UNION LABOR LEADERS. OTHERS SAY THAT THIS TALK IS ONLY ANTI-LABOR PROPAGANADA. WHAT ARE YOUR VIEWS ON THIS?"

Below, the views of employers, union labor, and the general public are compared in tabular form:

	Employers	Labor*	Public
Agitators	58%	31%	50%
Propaganda	12	42	23
Other	15	7	6
No Opinion	15	20	21
	100%	100%	100%

*Labor includes only the views of union members, and their families

Second question asked about management:

"SOME PEOPLE SAY THAT MANAGEMENT IS TOO SELFISH AND UNREASONABLE. OTHERS SAY MOST OF THEM ARE SINCERELY TRYING TO CO-OPERATE WITH LABOR. WHAT ARE YOUR VIEWS ON THIS?"

	Employers	Labor*	Public
Unreasonable, etc	10%	51%	34%
Sincere	68	25	36
Other	10	5	7
No Opinion	12	19	21
	100%	100%	100%

The survey showed a notable cleavage in the thinking of organized and unorganized labor on these issues. The views of unorganized labor are about halway between those of employers and those of union labor.

It will be noticed from the above tables that, on the question of "troublemakers" and "agitators" among labor leaders, the general public's point of view is closer to those of the employer group than it is to organized labor. On the other hand, on the issue of the sincerity or otherwise of management, the general public is practically evenly divided between the two extreme points of views.

No matter how much one discounts the importance of the human relationship in management-labor disputes, it still remains a fact that highly-charged emotional attitudes can seriously interfere with the reasonable solution of whatever issues there are.

HOGS--LAMBS--CALVES

HOGS

In spite of the lower hog prices on Montreal and Toronto market, we are still paying the high price that has prevailed during the past few weeks. Take advantage of this price by shipping us next week all hogs ready for market and over 200 lbs. live weight. But don't sacrifice the Government Bonus by shipping light hogs.

LAMBS

We are buying Lambs and Sheep daily on either "live weight" or "rail grade" basis. Remember the Provincial Government is again paying a bonus on rail grade Lambs only, of 60c each on A grade, and 40c each on B grade, up to 46 lbs. hot dressed weight. It is important that you watch your live weights, and ship before they go over 95 lbs.

Keep in mind that the ceiling price on Lambs drops 3¾c per pound dressed weight within the next few weeks. Ship everything that is ready NOW.

This is the time to ship all fat Sheep and old Bucks while there is a demand before Lambs become plentiful.

CALVES

We appreciate your response to our circular letter on Veal Calves. We have noted considerable improvement in quality of Calves marketed and the large percentage of sucker calves has been especially noticeable. If you intend to market any Calves keep them with the cow until marketed.

We earnestly solicit your shipments of livestock.
