How You Can Best Keep Your Butter Fresh and Clean

BUTTER, like any other dairy product can't be exposed to the air for any length of time without becoming stale and tainted.

EDDY'S

will keep butter in its original fresh state for an indefinite period of time because not only can they be made air tight, but the material from which it is made is such as to keep it always clean and free from taint.

INDURATED FIBREWARE is light and strong, made into one solid hardened mass of heavy hydraulic pressure.

FOR the farmer there is nothing better than Eddy's Fibreware Buttertubs, pails, etc., because of their endurance and light weight.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON XII. MARCH 24.

FEASTING AND FASTING.

Mark 2: 13-22.

GOLDEN TEXT.

"I came not to call the righteous, but sinners. (R.V.).—Mark 2: 17.

POINTED SUGGESTIONS.

By Rev. P. W. Snider.

There were many who, for one reason and another, had not access to the services of the synagogue. But Jesus gave them their opportunity as He went forth by the seaside. If the Church today has suffered social barriers to be raised of such a sort that many are virtually compelled to remain outside, the gospel must be taken into the open places. No man must be left without his opportunity.

It is not possible that any moment in one's lifetime can be crowded with so great importance as the moment when the voice of Jesus is heard within the soul, saying, "Follow Me." It was the supreme moment for Matthew when Jesus spoke to him. And the example he set is forever to be commended and taken: "And he arose and followed Him."

Social customs which are built upon false principles—principles which express injustice, inequality, pride, Phariseeism, bigotry, and the like—such ignoble customs Jesus Christ never respects. He walks through them as through paper walls. He derides them and scorns them. Unless indirectly or directly to condemn them, He will have nothing to do with social or political or religious standards which are inconsistent with the freest and fullest and most open exercise of compassion and mercy and brotherhood.

Jesus will not forsake the upper four hundred or deny to them His love, but it is manifest that if there are any with hunger of soul who are despised or neglected by others that He has a gracious thought for them. "All the fitness He requires is to feel your need of Him."

Note the mighty claim which Jesus makes for Himself—a claim to which the gospel narrative assures us that He measured, namely, the Physician of the soul. And never a sin-sick soul came to Him that He did not heal. What is said about those who crowded His path for physical healing applies without reservation to those who have come to Him for pardon and spiritual renewal: "As many as touched Him were made perfectly whole."—The Great Physician.

Fasting is for the unattained or for the lost. When the soul is greatly exercised for these and would gain them, fasting is in order, and none rightly condemn it. Moreover, success may lie that way and be found in no other way.

But the presence of Jesus among men is the presence of all that the heart needs. Consciousness of His presence is the supply of food. Nothing which God has ever promised to men can be absent where Jesus Christ is present. Fasting, therefore, while the soul is thus flooded with satisfaction and joy would be as irreconcilable as a bride who is heavy-hearted when her bridegoom has come.

Taxes and tariffs have been, and still are, the source of international conflict and of divisive national opinion. But those who must carry out the civil will are not to be despised for that. The decent have always been among them. Matthew was a thousandfold more worthy than many who affected to abhor him.

One thing he did that more of us ought to do: he went about to confess Jesus in the most open and hospitable and evangelistic way it was possible.

Note the instruction of Jesus about the application of New things to old conditions. Do not try to fasten your Christian life upon unchristian habits. Fling such habits away. The new life in Christ Jesus is sufficient; indeed far better.
