Mrs. Gladstone's Tact.

No one would have called Mrs. Gladstone a highly-educated woman, says a writer in the "Times." As a girl she had lived out of doors, in the saddle, on the water, on the hills, in the archery-field, and in whatever form of athletic exercise that iron age permitted to young ladies; and her married life, full of public and private interests, had left her no leisure for reading. But she had a much better gift than education—an immense natural shrewdness, concealed by a simplicity of manner which completely deceived superficial observers. She was entirely superior to affectation, and, when she did not know a fact or understand a question, she was eager to ask for information, and then she took the point with singular readiness and hit it off in some quaintly humorous phrase. A sense of humor was, indeed, one of her most marked traits. Like many geniuses, she was, in the petty concerns of life, untidy and unmethodical, and this quality, playing round the social duties of a Premier's wife, not seldom landed her in difficulties. But here, again, her mother-wit always came to her aid, and Mr. Gladstone once proudly said to the present writer: "My wife has a marvellous faculty of getting into scrapes, but an even more marvellous faculty of getting out of them."

CHRONIC INDIGESTION

By far the most important part of digestion takes place in the intestines and it is folly to expect stomach medicines to cure a severe case of indigestion or dyspepsia. The kidneys, liver and bowels must first be made regular and active and the only remedy which acts directly on these organs is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are purely vegetable, act pleasantly and naturally and positively cure dyspepsia, biliousness and stomach troubles. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, take no substitute.

REV. J. G. SHEARER addressed a meeting in the Presbyterian Church, on Friday evening, on the subject of Sabbath observance. The address was a particularly interesting one and referred to the dangers threatening the integrity of the Sabbath in Canada. He also outlined the good work being done by the Lord's Day Alliance of Ontario in perfecting and enforcing legislation. At the close of the address it was decided to organize a branch of the Alliance in Summerside. THE editor of the Pioneer quotes the approval of the undertaker and the coroner, as proof of the safety of the new Gasoline Plant, now being installed in the press room of that paper. Had he reminded the Town Council that a gas producing machine of much greater capacity than the new one, had been in operation in his office during the past three years without any particular result, it would have gone much further toward satisfying them. This column would respectfully suggest that the editor's sanctum be moved over to the opposite side of the building from that in which the other machine is being placed. Have only one on each side.

Members of the Canadian Continent took 1000 boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment with them to South Africa to relieve the sufferings of campaigning life. Little Willie—Where do sea horses come from, pa?
