—On Monday afternoon about one o'clock the residence of Paul Thompson, Margate, was completely destroyed by fire. The blaze is said to have originated from a spark from a chimney. Some of the furniture was saved but with this exception the dwelling and its contents were destroyed. The wind, fortunately, was off the other buildings and while the fire fighters had some difficulty in saving one of them the others were not endangered. The loss is about $1500.

—Holman's guessing competition contest last Saturday in Summerside was a splendid success. Despite the disagreeable weather about two hundred guesses were registered. The "guessbox" with sealed lid refused to disclosa any secrets until the close of the contest. On Monday morning the judging was taken up and the prizes awarded as follows:—First, Ida Nolan, Summerside; second Fred Larkin, Summerside; third, Miss P. Deegan, Summerside. The amount of chocolates imported by Holman's during the past year proved to be five thousand four hundred and eight pounds, (5408). This firm imports these chocolates at regular intervals and buys them direct from the best manufacturers—and this is just what the public appreciates.

Gentlemen,—In July 1905 I was thrown from a road machine, injuring my hip and back badly and was obliged to use a crutch for 14 months. In Sept. 1906 Mr. Wm. AMBASSADOR BRYCE TALKS IN BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—Before a large audience in the Brooklyn Academy of music last night James Bryce Ambassador from Great Britain to Washington delivered an address on "Great Britain and the United States and What They Have Done for Progress." The meeting was held under the auspices of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science, before which Ambassador Bryce appeared on his last visit to Brooklyn twenty-one years ago. Dr. St. Clair McKelway presided in the absence of Mayor Gaynor, who sent his regrets. President Taft sent this telegram to the trustees of the institute :—

"I heartily congratulate you on the pleasure you are to have in hearing Ambassador Bryce this evening. I very much regret that I cannot be with you."

After referring to what England and America had done in the way of exploration, conquest and the settlement of new countries, the Ambassador observed that if they had not displayed any greater daring and resource than had the Spaniards, Portuguese and French the results of what they achieved had been more permanently profitable. The Ambassador then dealt with the contributions made by England and America to the science and practice of political institutions and political life.

He dwelt upon the way in which methods of local and self-government and of national government by the people had been worked out in England down to the seventeenth century, and how thereafter the development of these methods had been further continued so as ultimately to produce in Britain the cabinet and parliamentary system and in the United States the federal system.

WOMEN PREPARE FOR ATTACK ON PARLIAMENT

LONDON, Nov. 20—The Suffragettes are preparing to renew their attacks on Parliament with a battle tomorrow night which will surpass all previous campaigns. A few days ago a delegation of Suffragettes interviewed Premier Asquith and attempted to obtain a pledge that the Government would undertake to pass a bill giving equal suffrage to both sexes. Premier Asquith declined to make such a pledge, but told the women instead that he had always been opposed to women suffrage.

At a subsequent meeting the Suffragettes decided to inaugurate a "war of demonstration" in Parliament Square on Nov. 21. They have summoned all their followers and male sympathizers to assemble around the Parliament building at eight o'clock in the evening. The fact that the gathering is fixed for after dark may make unusual trouble for the police. Mrs. Pethick Lawrence explains it thus :

"The gathering has been arranged late for the express reason that the decent, honest working man will be in the streets. We have found that their presence affords women moral protection against violence by the police and hooligans."

Miss Christobel Pankhurst declared tonight that the women certainly will push their way to the floor of the House of Commons this time, to make their protest against "the great insult Mr. Asquith has given."

It is reported that another womens movement, incited by a Conservative newspaper is preparing for a monster meeting and is sending out a petition, signed by several members of the nobility, in addition to many others, against the feature of Chancellor Lloyd George's Insurance Bill, compelling women employees to make joint contributions of six pence weekly on the German plan.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL MARITIME WINTER FAIRS AT AMHERST

In less than three weeks the Maritime Winter Fair at Amherst will be in full swing opening on Monday, December, 4th and continuing until Thursday Evening the 7th

This Educational Institution has been growing by leaps and bounds until not withstanding that two additions have been made to the original building it was found necessary to add additional space for the Dairy Cattle this year. This is now complete and the Management will have bigger and better quarters for this years fair.

The numereus enquiries for prize lists from those who have not heretofore exhibited justify the belief that the Fair will be bigger than ever.

The Railways have promised the usual low rates, and in addition the Management are asking for special trains over the short Lines to enable the visitors to come and return the same day.

Those who have never visited the Fair should do so this year as it is both entertaining and instructive.
