A Splendid Meeting At Hartsville Called by Progressives But Audience Was Captivated by Mr. J. H. Myers

The Progressives are waging a keen fight throughout Queens County. On Friday they held a good meeting at Hartsville, where the candidate, Mr. Jones and Mr. John A. Dewar, spoke two hours, while Mr. J. H. Myers talked opposition. On the same night Mr. Jones spoke at Lot 65, five miles distant. On Saturday night a very successful meeting was held at Bonshaw, addressed by Messrs. Jones and Dewar, who were opposed by Mr. Angus McPhee and Mr. A. J. McNevin. There are meetings proposed for Tracadie, Eldon, Grandview and Vernon River and possibly Hartney Hall, if the people agree to turn out afterwards.

HARTSVILLE MEETING

A correspondent sends the following report of the meeting at Hartsville:—
A meeting called by the National Progressives was held at Hartsville Hall on Friday night. The attendance was discouragingly small and the proceedings more discouraging still to the Progressives. Mr. Gordon McLeod occupied the chair and the speakers were, Mr. J. Walter Jones, Progressive Candidate; Mr. John H. Myers and Mr. J. A. Dewar, M.L.A.

Mr. Jones opened up with a rehearsal of the origin, progress and prospects of the Progressive party. He regretted that he had not been called earlier into the field and admitted that his hopes centered more on the completion of an organization than on any hopes of personal victory. He spoke of certain by-elections supposed to be held in Ontario since the last general election and won by the Progressives' but had no definite recollection of where the by-elections were held. Referring to the question to Mr. Dewar, the latter was equally at sea on the matter. He spoke at considerable length on the alleged extravagance of the government, and criticized some legislation by which the Progressives, when in power would meet the necessary expenditures of the country. Among these were a proposed inheritance tax by which taxes could be extorted from a man after he was dead and it wouldn't hurt him; a tax on uncultivated lands. For the ladies he had a Mothers' Pension Act. He criticized the two old line parties and declared the tariff was not an issue in the coming election.

Mr. J. H. Myers followed, in his usual pleasant manner, he dealt lightly with the Jones' showing the absurdity of the Progressive proposal to cut into the existing revenue by an all round reduction of duties and the abolition of other important duties without specifying in any definite manner how these losses in revenue could be made up. He very effectively replied to all Mr. Jones' criticisms of the government showing that not a dollar was expended without the full knowledge of the whole

105 TO 110 GOVERNMENT SUPPORTERS IS NOW AN ASSURED ESTIMATE

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 28.—Throughout Canada Hon. J. A. Calder has long been recognized as one who has the necessary sixth sense to forecast with some degree of certainty, the results of elections. For some six or eight weeks he has been actively assisting Hon. J. A. Stewart, chairman of the National Liberal and Conservative Executive Committee at Ottawa and has thus been enabled to get a grasp of the whole situation that should be most valuable in sizing up the probable results of the election on December 6th. When asked for his views, Mr. Calder stated until within the past ten days it has been very difficult to forecast with any degree of certainty what the extent of three parties in the field would be, a multiplicity of candidates in many ridings, the uncertainty as to the number of workmen who would exercise their franchise and the swing of the labor vote. As to the labor vote there is now no doubt that the vast majority of our industrial workers—both men and women clearly understand the main issue and will mark their ballots for Meighen candidates and industries. Word reaching Ottawa from all parts of the Dominion clearly shows that the substantial labor vote of Canada is opposed to Crerar's free trade policy and King's wobbling on the tariff issue. As for Canadian women, there is every indication that the length of the campaign giving opportunity for meetings and canvassing has strengthened the Premier's position. In every section of the Dominion the women of Canada have carefully studied the natural situation from the standpoint of leadership and there will be no snap verdict in so far as they are concerned. In my opinion the surprise of the campaign will be the results in the prairie provinces. There are sixteen seats in the House of Commons to be won in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, have been rapidly disintegrating, lack of efficient leadership, Crerar's blocking of the grain inquiry, the Premier's bold stand on wheat pool and a knowledge widespread that an appeal to farmers as a class is not in the best interests of Canada, are among the contributing causes. Besides there is scarcely a rural district in which there is not a three cornered fight and I would not be at all surprised if in these three provinces, candidates supporting Hon. Mr. Meighen are elected to the number of 20 or 22. Four weeks ago it looked as though Mr. Crerar might almost have a sweep. He is today fighting for all he is worth in his own constituency, Marquette. Of the thirteen seats in British Columbia the government can safely depend on at least 10 and it would not be a surprise if they sweep the province. Down by the sea in maritime provinces a regular old time political battle is being waged and the meetings held there by the Premier, followed by Sir George Foster and Sir Hibbert Tupper hanged the whole political situation. The fact that Mr. Fielding, Mr. A. K. McLean and Mr. E. M. McDonald all old war horses have not left their province to help elsewhere is the clearest indication how they regard the situation. There are four ridings in Prince Edward Island and the government is certain to win three and probably all four. In Nova Scotia there are sixteen seats. From all accounts reaching headquarters the province will at least split even. Mr. Baxter is more than holding his own in New Brunswick. Of the eleven ridings five may now be regarded as certain to return government supporters, while two others are in doubt. In the province of Quebec a merry fight is being waged. Where the King forces expect many acclamations, there were no doubt a fight in every riding. The conservatism has spent its force. The people of that province have decided to look to the future and not to the past. The Prime Minister in his last speech through Quebec City, a splendid impression everywhere in view of the labor vote which he intimated would be in his opinion the last way of supporters is difficult to predict. Three weeks ago the cry came through the whole country that King Liberals was a solid bloc and today they are fighting for their political lives in 25 constituencies. That the Premier will secure a considerable fol-

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Premier Lloyd George is morally certain that his next Christmas will be spent in Washington. Those were the words used today by a member of the Prime Ministers. Encouraged to describe his outlook on the correlated situation created by the Arms Parley and the Irish negotiations, Mr. Lloyd George has received so many messages both from this side and from America, urging that he should go to Washington that he has gone so far as to book his passage by the Aquitania next Saturday.

Prominent Liberals Supporting Meighen

Arthur Meighen and his Government for the following reasons: "Firstly—Because I believe that the main issue before the electors today is the tariff and personally I feel that the tariff policy of the present Government is the only safe one for us in Canada today. Without a reasonable protective tariff in this critical period in our history our industries will languish, our workmen will be out of employment, our natural resources will remain undeveloped and, more than all, the development of Canada, as a distinct nation, will be retarded most materially. Nothing succeeds like success. The Canadian National Railways, that first little line of $47,000 for a few months ago, has now become a big section of the public. We find that there is all over Canada a better feeling towards the National system and the fine service given by the C.N.R. in handling the grain this fall, has also had something to do with it.

Three Coveted Positions Vacant in Nova Scotia

Governorship, a Judgeship and a Sennatorship Likely to be Filled Within a Few Days.
(Special to The Guardian.)
HALIFAX, Nov. 28.—Three important Dominion Government appointments are hanging fire in Nova Scotia but the appointees are said to be decided upon and may be named by tomorrow when the term of Lieutenant Governor Grant expires. The other two posts have been vacant for some time, one being open since the death of Senator L. G. Power, and the other since the resignation of Mr. Justice Grisdale of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court. Lieutenant Governor Grant could probably have another term, if he desired it, but it is understood that Mrs. Grant is opposed to it, owing to the numerous duties involved. The position is to go to Charles Archibald of Halifax, and it is stated Mr. Archibald is fairly wealthy and outside of acting as Director of the Bank of Nova Scotia, is not extremely busy. He is therefore in a position to take the office. Mrs. Archibald is President of the Halifax Women's National Liberal and Conservative Association. The other name most prominently mentioned is that of George S. Campbell, a business man of Halifax and prominent in many other spheres, including the Chairmanship of the Board of Governors of Dalhousie University. P. E. Harlin, member of the last Parliament, will probably succeed Senator Power. W. A. Henry, K. C. of Halifax is slated, it is believed for the Supreme Court judgeship.

THE PORK QUESTION

The pork question is relatively more important in this province than in any other province in Canada, because the volume of production in pork is greater in proportion than that of other farm products. And as is well known, the policy of both the Liberal and Farmer parties is to admit pork and pork products free of duty to our markets. Does American pork now come in, even under our present duties? It does. What is the condition of the pork market now in Charlottetown? One packer has gone out of business because of American competition. Two other packing firms have tens of thousands of dollars' worth of last year's pork on hand, unsold because of the American overflow into the Canadian market.

What value of pork and of pork products do Canadians sell in the American market and what value do Canadians buy of the same line in the States? Here is an official statement, taken from the latest Canadian Year Book, page 386, showing the imports and exports of pork for the year ending 31st March, 1921:

IMPORTS
Pork fresh, chilled and frozen	$3,862,311
Bacon, hams, shoulders and sides, corned	1,545,380
Pork, dry-salted and in brine	2,172,715
Total	$7,580,406

EXPORTS TO U. S.
Bacon and hams, shoulders and sides	$203,960
Pork, dried and salted	6,599
Pork, pickled and in barrels	15,246
Pork, fresh	316,151
Total	$541,956

What say our farmers to these figures? With seven and a half millions worth of pork coming from the States and less than a quarter of a million worth of our pork going to the States, do they want the duty taken off, as the Liberal and Farmer candidates say they will do? We cannot believe that our Island farmers are so unwise. If not, should they not vote for the government candidates, who stand to protect our home market? Think it over.
