Outside they found the boy dead, the charge from a gun, which unknown to anyone he had taken from the house, having passed through his neck, causing instantaneous death. Just how the accident occurred is unknown. The unfortunate lad was the only son of a widow, Mrs. Ralph Jacques, who resides in Boston. The remains were forwarded yesterday.

—CHILD KILLED BY RUNAWAY.— Mr. Enman McNeill, Mis-couche, had been cutting grain in his field last Monday and when returning home down his lane with the binder the horses became fractious. His wife met him in the yard and asked him if he had seen their child, aged a year and half, as it had gone into the lane. Mr. McNeill, however, had seen nothing of the little one and its mother went in search of it. She found it lying on its face in the lane and it died in her arms as she hastened back to the house. It apparently had been struck by one of the horses, as there was no evidence of injuries that might have been caused by the binder. The sad affair has caused the deepest sorrow and sympathy for the esteemed parents, who are almost heart broken.
