Notice to Farmers.

There seems to be a tendency among farmers to market their inferior hogs, the product of which is not suitable to any trade; and we would strongly urge upon farmers and others, having thin poor hogs, the necessity of properly finishing same before marketing, as otherwise it means a considerable loss to the farmer as well as the packer.

SEA'S LESSON FOR ENGLISH PRINCES

Sons of The Heir of King Edward Will Become Naval Cadets—Will go to Sea When Fourteen, as Their Father Did.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—It has been decided that at Easter next the eldest sons of the Prince of Wales will proceed to the Royal Navy College at Osborne as naval cadets. Prince Edward will enter his fourteenth year next June, and thus he will be more or less of the same age as was the Prince of Wales when, in company with the late Prince Albert Victor, he proceeded to the old cadet training ship at Dartmouth.

This decision to enter the two young princes as naval cadets at Osborne is particularly noteworthy because the system of training which is adopted there is entirely novel. It is essentially the type of training which would have commended itself with particular force to the late Prince Consort, who in matters of education was so far in advance of his generation and time.

When the Prince Consort wrote to his old friend Baron Stockmar for his advice as to the upbringing of his young sons he was advised that they should receive a system of education "truly moral and truly English."

This definition exactly describes the training which the sons of the Prince of Wales will receive at the naval college at Osborne. It is English in its character and, though scientific, is eminently practical. They will have to work with their hands and work hard.

There is a torpedo boat attached to the college, and by this the young princes will obtain some inside knowledge of naval engineering. About a third of their time will be devoted to the practical side of training. The whole atmosphere of the college is naval. Cadets from the day they enter the establishment, usually about thirteen years of age, are under a strict discipline, and thus at an impressionable period in their lives they become familiar with naval habits and learn to take pride in sea service. The Prince of Wales in his public utterances has often referred in appreciative terms to the benefit which he derived from his early naval training.

What Sulphur Does

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early day when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcaium Sulphide and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcaium Wafers. They are small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and in purity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcaium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies, soon found that the sulphur from Calcaium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcaium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcaium Wafers is a proprietary article and sold by druggists and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles and especially in all forms of skin diseases as this remedy.

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cathartics and so-called blood purifiers will find in Stuart's Calcaium Wafers a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

CHASER'S OINTMENT

What is so disagreeable and what so torturing as dreadful itching eczema?

Here is a record of a Nova Scotia woman being thoroughly cured of this horrible disease by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Most doctors have given little attention to diseases of the skin, and when they come across a really severe case of eczema or salt rheum they are helpless unless they are broad-minded enough to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, as many do.

Every means seemed to fail in the case of Mrs. Link. The torturing, itching, burning and stinging sensations brought her suffering, and no thing proved effective in relieving the raw, itching sores.

But Dr. Chase's Ointment arrested the inflammation until the itching disappeared, and gradually and naturally the sores were healed, until not a trace of the old disease remained.

Truly, Dr. Chase's Ointment proved a blessing to this home.

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker street, Halifax, N. S., states: "After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure.

"It is six months since I was freed of this wretched skin disease, and as there has been no return of the trouble I consider the cure a permanent one. I would strongly urge anyone suffering as I did to try this ointment, and shall gladly write to any who wish to refer to me for particulars of my case. I was so bad with eczema that I would scratch the sores in my sleep until the blood would flow."

Whenever there is itching skin or a sore that refuses to heal, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with most satisfactory results: 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
