Decision Reserved By Copyright Appeal Board

OTTAWA, Jan. 22—(CP)—The Copyright Appeal Board has reserved decision Saturday on the 1950 fees of the Composers, Authors and Publishers' Association of Canada plans to charge for the use of works in its repertoire.

The three-man board, headed by Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson, president of the Exchequer Court, heard several protests against the fees during a two-day hearing. John Jennings, counsel for the CBC, protested against the proposed 1950 charges against the CBC, C.A.P.A.C., which pays part of the fees to the authors of its works, plans to charge radio stations $292,718 this year, an increase of more than $20,000 over 1949.

The CBC would be required to pay $146,359 and the privately-owned stations as a group would pay a similar amount. The fee is fixed at the rate of 14 cents per licensed radio-receiving set. The CBC pays seven cents a set and the private stations a similar amount.

Mr. Jennings asked that the CBC fee be reduced to four cents per licensed receiving set. There were complaints as well from the Canadian Owners and Operators Association, the Hotel Association of Canada, the Associated Broadcasting Company of Toronto and the Ontario Music Operators Association.

In previous years ballrooms, dance halls, roller and ice skating rinks were charged on the basis of the number of performer hours. Under the 1950 scale they would be charged on the basis of receipts from admission charges.

The Auditorium Association, the C.P.R. and the Hotel Association contend that the new scale would mean a drastic increase in fees to C.A.P.A.C. They said that a license which cost $38 in 1949 would cost $720 in 1950. They suggested that the fee be based on the number of admissions and that the charge be 1-8 or 1-4 of a cent per person.

H. E. Manning, counsel for C. A. P. A. C., said the new scale would make the users of C. A. P. A. C. music pay what was in keeping with the value of the Association's repertoire. He said it was unrealistic to base fees on the number of admissions.

Farmers Arrive Home From Moncton Meeting

The five-man delegation representing the Provincial Federation of Agriculture at the annual meeting of the Maritime Federation in Moncton on Friday arrived home Saturday morning.

The delegation submitted a resolution asking for the compulsory grading of print butter in Nova Scotia and Newfoundland immediately, which was approved and passed by the meeting.

They also asked that steps be taken towards the establishment of producer controlled seed potato marketing boards for the Maritimes. The Maritime meeting urged potato producers to plan establishment of these boards for next year's crop. A speaker here last night said there would be nothing in line of marketing boards for this year's crop.

Several other resolutions passed at the meeting of the Island Federation less than two weeks ago were also passed at the Moncton session. One of these urged the immediate establishment of co-ordinated egg marketing boards in every province.

Another asked for the establishment of a price support policy by the Dominion Government for the next five months until marketing boards are set up. The meeting also urged investigation by the Dominion Government through inventions that have been bought by competitive industry and kept from the public to make them available to everybody.

Members on the Island delegation were Messrs Louis O'Connor, Earl Ings, Leo McIsaac, Jerome O'Brien and J. Lincoln Dewar.

In Canada, The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation now performs this function.

W. E. S. Briggs, CBC Maritime regional representative, also presented a brief giving a detailed account of CBC activities in the Maritimes during the last year.

Finely Rendered Sacred Concert

Extra chairs were carried into St. Paul's Church last evening to accommodate those who were in attendance to hear the sacred concert by the 17th Recce Regiment Band, and the Laymen's and Church Choirs of St. Paul's. The recital was in the capable hands of Mr. Royston F. Mugford A.R.C.O., organist and bandmaster.

As a finale the band and both choirs combined in presenting Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" one of the most difficult but beautiful pieces of sacred music ever written.

Other numbers which were outstanding were the familiar "Finlandia" by Sibelius, by the band and Laymen's choir, and the beautiful "Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, sung by the Church choir with Mr. Mugford at the organ. Rev. J. T. Abbott R.D. announced each number and also spoke a few words of appreciation to those participating.

Greetings From Supt. Anderson

Secretary J. Finley MacLeod, of the Confederation Bospital, who is a patient in the Prince Edward Island Hospital, continues to take an active interest in the affairs of curling. I was talking to J. W. Sears and he intimated that Frederickton would not be represented this year at the Bospital, so I reminded him that possibly we both could attend in 1951. So here's hoping you succeed in your 1950 Bospital and sorry will not be with you."

New First Aid Posts Established

The Red Cross First Aid Committee announces the establishment of two more first aid posts. One in Queen's County at Nine Mile Creek and one in King's County at Bear River.

The Nine Mile Creek Post is in charge of Mrs. Norman P. Macdonald who is a registered nurse, a graduate of a hospital in New Bedford, Mass.

Miss Martina Hughes, teacher at Bear River School has accepted the responsibility of that post temporarily. Miss Hughes is well trained in first aid procedures in St. Mary's Convent under Rev. Sister Mary Isabel and later in Prince of Wales College, where she is studying for her teacher's licence.

A standard first aid course is being organized in Bear River and on its completion this post will be transferred to a permanent position in the home of some member of the Women's Institute.

The Red Cross First Aid Committee feels confident that these two newest posts are in the control of capable citizens who are willing to accept responsibility in any emergency.

The co-operation of such public spirited citizens make it possible for the benefits of the Red Cross aid services to be channelled to the residents of localities surrounding the First Aid posts.
