IS GUEST PREACHER - Pulpit of St. Andrew's United Church was occupied on Sunday by Rev. A. D. MacKenzie, M. A., D. D., when preacher and congregation had the pleasant experience of worshipping together for the first time in 40 years. Rev. Dr. MacKenzie, whose expressed desire was to preach his last sermon at St. Andrew's was heartily greeted by the congregation and by scores not connected with St. Andrew's church. In his remarks he was reminiscent of earlier days and delivered discourses with the fire and vivacity of youth that left a deep impression. In referring he felt he would like to make Sydney his home, so attached had he become to it and St. Andrew's and the influence radiated therefrom. He leaves today for P. E. I. accompanied by his wife and son, but at the solicitation of the church official boards he will return to conduct the services next Sunday. - Sydney Post-Record.

The youthful bride looked winsome in a street-length dress of blue sheer with white accessories. The young couple were

Now! FLY-DED MADE WITH DDT

Kills Flies for Weeks!

PROLONGED KILLING ACTION New a feature of this Leading Insecticide

As always, FLY-DED kills flies and mosquitoes quickly, on contact with the spray. As a "knock-down" spray it is unsurpassed. But now, in addition: Popular FLY-DED has an extra, added feature... DDT. This sensational new ingredient keeps on killing flies and mosquitoes for weeks after a properly applied spraying. The DDT ingredient can remain on walls, ceilings, floors, door jams and kill flies and mosquitoes that rest on these places. Yet this DDT residue is stainless and invisible.

"DOUBLE DOOM" for Household Insect Pests

Use FLY-DED to rid the house of flies and mosquitoes. Use ROACH-DED to kill roaches. Use MOTH-DED to kill clothes-moths. All three have a pleasant odor... as fresh as a breath of spring. You'll be amazed at the added comfort and freedom from household insect pests you'll enjoy, by using these modern DDT insecticides. For best results, follow directions on the container carefully.

TAKE 2 LIVING AND THE WHITE OF THE EGGS

Eggs are one of the brighter spots on our food horizon at present. Homemakers should be using more of them for two reasons. One is that at this time of year, eggs are the least expensive. The other is that using more of the plentiful food takes the accent off the scarcer ones that are so important in the famine emergency campaign.

So here are some tips on some of the fine points of using egg whites to best advantage in cooking. You'll want to use egg whites especially in meringues, souffles and other fluffy egg treats for the family.

The temperature of the egg affects the whipping of the white and the separation of white from yolk. A chilly egg just out of the refrigerator separates most easily because the white is firm and the yolk less likely to break. But the white whips best after it has been standing awhile at room temperature.

How long to whip is another secret the cooks need to know. Whites should be whipped stiff but not dry. So whip until the white will hold up in a soft peak and looks dry. Different beaters take different lengths of time to bring eggs to the proper stiffness. Wire whips or electric beaters give equally good results. If you're using an electric beater though, remember to keep the speed moderate. Egg whites do not whip successfully at high speed. The best bowl for whipping has a rounded bottom and gently sloping sides. Both acid and salt help egg whites hold their stiffness. A pinch of salt or cream of tartar added at the start of whipping will give the foam greater volume and stability. On the other hand, even a small particle of fat in the white will prevent it from beating stiff. No bits of yolk should be left in the white because yolk contains fat. Look over your beater, too, and make sure it's free of any traces of oil.

Mexico is credited with having an unusual large variety of plants that produce commercial fibre.
