

Laxative Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

When a Laxative is needed and the usual remedies fail, the wonderful results of Laxative Syrup Pepsin are not necessary to take a laxative. Yet thoughtful parents give their children in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should know that mercury may salivate certain conditions loosen the grip of phenolphthalein, but never name known and how it is disguised in candy, many dermatitis and other skin diseases that salt waters and may concentrate the dry up the skin and cause it to crack.

People can take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin every day, with the assurance that it is the safest medicine you can use. A teaspoonful will relieve you of constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headache, flatulence, and to break up fevers and colds.

Conserve Eyesight for Good Health

Statistics show that most people in Canada are subject to eye strain unknowingly, and as a result are less efficient and have poorer health than if the faulty conditions were corrected.

EARLY inhabitants of this earth lived in green fields and softly lighted forests, with no strain to their eyes. Keen distant vision was a necessary adjunct to existence then. To distinguish friend from foe and to sight game at great distances were vital to maintain life.

But today our lives are lived at short range. Concentrated use of ones eyes imposes strain on the whole nervous system. Glasses are required to give relief and enable the eyes to "carry on" efficiently at their daily tasks.

ACID STOMACH FORCE WIVES WITHOUT CHILDREN TO ENTER DOMESTIC SERVICE

Association of Over-Worked, Under-paid, Dish-washing Housewives Appel to New York State Legislators Urging as Alternative Letting Down Immigration Bars.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 3.—Letting down the bars against immigration so as to increase the supply of servants or forcing into service without children is urged in a communication addressed to legislators by the Association of Overworked, Under Paid Dish Washing Housewives.

The headquarters of this new organization is declared to be "By the cook stove and the cradle and the wash tub nearby." In its appeal to the legislators the organization declared: "Under the per diem output of the worker can be increased, laws that govern the entrance of aliens into this country must be changed. "Unless house wives are afforded sufficient time to do house work and attend to children they must be supplied with domestic service labor at low cost.

"We believe the childless wife is not an asset to the community. "We believe wives under 50 years of age and having no children should be compelled to do house work three days each week for wives under 50 years of age who have children.

"We have no proposed legislative act to be presented. "We have no legislative agents, no lobby. We leave the matter entirely in your hands. We wish to know who is for us and who is against us. It is up to you. We believe that, in the interests of the public welfare, the butlerly existence of the childless wife should cease."

ELIHU VEDDER DEAD
ROME, Feb. 6.—Elihu Vedder, the painter, died here this morning. Elihu Vedder was born in New York, February 26th, 1836. His best known work includes five decorative panels and "Minerva," a mosaic, and the illustrations to "Rubbayat of Omar Khayyam." He was the author of one novel and a volume of verse.

BIBLICAL BOOK TITLES.
The Bible has probably provided more titles for novels than any other volume in the world's literature.

The latest example is Mr. John Freeman's recently published book "This My Son."

Other instances are "A Fountain Sealed," by Sir Walter Besant; "Whichever Shall Offend," by F. Marlon Crawford; "A Daughter of Heth," by William Black; "Many Inventions," by Rudyard Kipling; "The Waves of Sin," by Lucas Malet; "Where Love Is," by W. J. Locke; "None Other Gods," by R. H. Benson; and "The Way of an Eagle," by Ethel M. Dell. The list could be continued indefinitely.

DOUGLAS FIR OUSTS IMPORTED TIMBER
That Canadian Douglas fir lumber will bear a greater load before breaking than timbers of imported red oak was stated by an engineer to the officials of a large Canadian corporation recently. The statement was received with an incredulous approaching disbelief by the officials who were importing large quantities of oak for a certain purpose. The matter was referred to the Forest Products Laboratories of Canada (Dominion Forestry Branch), Montreal, who not only confirmed the statement from the results of tests already made, but also carried out special demonstration tests in the presence of engineers and other officials of the company. The result was the adoption of Douglas fir in place of imported oak with an annual saving of many thousands of dollars to the company and a gain of trade for the lumbermen and the railway companies of Canada. Research has evidently done something to bring the Canadian dollar to par.

BIRD'S EYE MAPLE IS DUE TO A PARASITE
Woodsmen and botanists have speculated for a century concerning the cause of those curious marks, known as "bird's eyes," which occasionally adorn a board of maple wood. The woodsmen was inclined to ascribe these marks to the activities of woodpeckers, while the guess of the botanist was that the dormant buds or shoots, the traces of which ites in the growing issues of the tree. If this conclusion is correct, the production of bird's eye maple by artificial means does not appear to be outside the bounds of possibility.

MORTALITY OF TREES.
Human beings cannot compete with trees in the matter of longevity, but human beings are more fortunate than trees up to certain ages, according to mortality tables. A forest at maturity contains about 5 per cent of all the trees that have started life there. The percentage of persons living from ten to fifty is much greater in the case of trees. About 95 per cent of our trees die before they are eighty years old, while only 87 per cent of persons will die before reaching that age.

But when it comes to trees 100 years of age and over we have to go back into Biblical history to find human beings who compare with them in length of years. Methuselah and Noah were far ahead of the majority of our common trees as centenarians, but no men and no nation has lived as long as have the sequoia trees. The sequoia attains an age of about 4,000 years.

WHAT MADE HIS HEN ILL
Mr. Bagley of Beausfield makes a hobby of poultry keeping. He gets pleasure out of it, and occasionally a surprise.

The other day, for instance, he thought one of his chickens was ill, and decided to kill it. When he opened it up to ascertain the cause of the trouble, he found: "Five ticks, making a total for small screws, piece of tin, and metal nuts.

The chicken, he afterward learned, had been pecking for food in a builder's yard!—London Express

IN MEMORIAM

REV. DR. WILLIAM HARRISON.
Rev. William Harrison, D. D., whose death took place at Moncton on Wednesday evening last, following a short illness from paralysis, was one of the outstanding figures in the Methodist church in the Maritime Provinces. Born at Kirkley, Stephen, Westmorland county, England, he came to Canada as a candidate for the ministry in 1871 and was ordained in St. John in 1873. In 1912 the honorary degree of D. D. was conferred by Mount Allison University. The circuits upon which he labored were: Port Hawkesbury, Wallace and Westworth in Nova Scotia; Coverdale, Deer Island, Richmond, Gasqueton, Dorchester, Charlottetown (Grace), Bedouque, Sackville, Bathurst, Dorchester, Cornwall, Charlottetown (Grace), Newcastle and Marysville. He was superannuated in 1919. The Conference of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island made him its president in 1902 and besides that it called him to other important positions. He was assistant secretary, financial secretary of Sackville and Miramichi districts, chairman of Chatham, Charlottetown and Fredericton districts; member of board of examiners and its chairman from 1908 to 1918; member of Board of Regents of Mount Allison; member of committee on pastors of member of General Conference. He had delivered lectures upon a great many different themes. It was in the use of his pen that Dr. Harrison became best known and his prodigious output had a very wide circulation. For twenty-five years he was a regular contributor to the Quarterly Review (Boston); he wrote for the Methodist magazine, London; Zion's Herald, Boston; Christian Advocate, Nashville, and also for many local papers. Dr. Harrison held a letter written to him by Alfred Russel Wallace in which the famous scientist said: "It is certainly a remarkable coincidence that you should have, as it were, claimed the conclusion in 'man's place in the universe' as Am. Locomotive necessary from a moral and religious point of view which I have Anaconda Copper shown to be the logical result of actual facts from the scientific standpoint." Dr. Harrison was always to the front in all social reform movements and by his death the forces which battle for righteousness have suffered a distinct loss. He was of a kindly, optimistic spirit who made no enemies and was respected by a large circle of friends. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Carrie McDaniel, of Estport, Me.; by one daughter, Miss Alice Harrison, B. A. and one son, William, Jr., of Moncton.
