ISLAND AGAIN

Continued from page 1 and more." While both members of Parliament and delegates to the National Liberal Federation generally approved the appointment of Mr. Gregg to the Veterans Affairs post and said that the "temporary" appointment of Mr. Howe to Trade and Commerce was "understandable" in the light of the United States dollars shortage and the complex Canadian-U.S. trade situation, there was puzzlement over the naming of Mr. MacKinnon as Minister of Fisheries.

"Poor Jim" A prominent parliamentarian who told this correspondent not to publish his name in connection with the remarks, "I doubt if he can tell the difference between a minnow and a whale. He's very up about the whole thing, but he'll make a good Minister of Fisheries. He has the administrative experience."

Hon. C.G. (Chubby) Power, former Air Minister who was at the Liberal federation meeting, remarked facetiously that Mr. King probably didn't realize how good a trout fisherman he, (Mr. Power) was, or he would undoubtedly have called upon him and offered him the job. It was all very well this fishing with nets, Mr. Power said, but not enough consideration was being given to the "fly fisherman."

INQUEST HELD Continued from page 1. utes said saw smoke coming out of a third-story window on the east side of the building and from the second story. Witness noticed a ladder under the second-story window in front. Tried to get to second story window but someone shouted people were in third story. Witness went into McLean's yard at 220 King and saw two or three men coming out of yard with a ladder. Witness helped to put ladder up to third story window from which two girls were hanging but they could not get the girls out.

WEDGED IN WINDOW Witness thought work could be better done from west side of window and had ladder placed there. He then shouted for the extension ladder when he saw the firemen had arrived. Witness said he had received his call about 1.55 a.m. and that the firemen were there about five minutes later. There was no life in the girls at that time so far as witness could see. He could not do any more at that time on account of the smoke and because the girls were wedged in. Finally someone got the girls down, witness said, and one was taken to the City Hospital in MacLean's ambulance; the other was conveyed there by Hennessey's ambulance. It was raining at that time.

HEARD EXPLOSION Miss Esther MacLean, 220 King, said she came home in a taxi shortly before 2 o'clock. Witness heard a small explosion, then a sound of glass crashing. Witness saw her mother and father at front door. Witness heard the two girls in the third story window and rang the fire alarm. Witness said he had scarcely finished ringing when the fire trucks started down the street. Witness jumped on fire truck. When he got down at the fire, he heard someone shout that two children were in the fire.

WITNESSES FOR DEFENCE The first witness to appear for the defence was Mr. Grant Willis, who said that on the night of the accident between 6:30 and 7 o'clock he was driving his truck and was giving Mr. Leitch Smith a drive home after Mr. Smith, employed as a mechanic at Stewart Motors, had done some work for him at the motor of his truck at that place of business. He had stopped his truck on Elm Avenue to let Mr. Smith, who lives on Gerald Street, out of the truck. He said that the accused, whom he knew, got out of his car, which was parked on the other side of the street opposite his truck, and came over and talked to him for a couple of minutes concerning the condition of the truck motor. He said that he found the accused to be in a normal condition. Leitch Smith said that he had finished putting a new motor in Mr. Willis's truck at Stewart Motors where he is employed, and then was driven home by Mr. Willis. He was in the truck while Mr. Willis and the accused talked about the motor for two or three minutes. Witness said he considered the accused "perfectly sober." Court was adjourned until this morning at 10:30 a.m.

He saw one fireman get a mouth full of heat and almost fall off the ladder. Witness saw Mr. Larkin for a moment. He had a bad cut on one leg and appeared to be burned. Mr. Larkin asked witness if the girls were out and witness told him not to worry that the girls would be all right. P. J. Collins, Moncton, Investigator for the Underwriters' Fire Association, said he had examined the house after the fire and was of the opinion that fire had caught from a faulty flue. Witness said flue was against the wall and that all indications pointed to the fire having caught in the kitchen as that part of the house was the most badly damaged.

Awakened By Wife C. J. MacLean, 220 King, said he was awakened by his wife about 1.50 that morning. He went down stairs and phoned the police station. Shortly afterwards the little girl, Marie, was brought in. Joseph came in also. He was sent to the hospital. Mr. Ray Murphy, 214 King Street, said he phoned Police Station about 1.55. Two girls, visiting his home woke witness and his wife. Witness saw fire coming out of chimney of Larkin part of the house. He saw Mr. Larkin with his head out of second story window, yelling for help. Witness went into McKeay's yard and got a step ladder but it was too short. He then saw Joseph coming through air from third story window. Witness gave Joseph a sling before he struck the ground which prevented the boy from falling head down. Witness kept yelling for the girls to jump. Eddie, 14, also jumped from third story window. He was not hurt. He probably hit some wires in his fall. Witness thought girls should have been saved. He did not think they were wedged in window. The firemen arrived at 2.20. When told by Mr. James Power that fireman had turned Hughes Corner at 2 o'clock, witness said he could not help that. The firemen he said did not arrive before 2.20. Had he known they would not arrive before that, witness could have had all his furniture saved. Instead, he lost it all. The police had arrived four or five minutes after witness had phoned the station.

St. MacNevin said he had received a call in the patrol about 1.55. He and St. Johnston saw flames as soon as they had signed off the radio call. Witness could not see anyone in the house at 214 King Street because of the smoke. But people were calling their names from the burning building. Witness helped to put a ladder up and someone ran up it. Someone else broke the upper part of the third story window where the girls were seen. Then ladder was moved to west side. The firemen upon their arrival put an extension ladder up. Witness then went to MacLean's Funeral Parlours for an oxygen tank. When he got back, the girls were out. Witness went to City Hospital with one of the girls in Hennessey's ambulance. A Sister said the younger girl was dead and a few minutes later Dr. Soper arrived and said there was no use in giving oxygen to the older girl, that she was dead also. Miss Myrtle Semple, night supervisor of the Island Telephone Company said she was not on duty that night. Miss Joan Trainor, telephone operator, said she received the call that night about the fire but did not know what time it was. They kept no records, witness said, of local calls unless they were called "emergency" which phoned in. Mr. Holmes suggested that a fire call was an emergency. The witness agreed but said she only followed orders. Mr. D. M. Gass was then called upon by Mr. Holmes who suggested some record might be kept in future by the Company of all calls which came in for fire whenever the caller said "emergency" or not.

WITNESS GOT TO THE FIRE Lieut. Bevin was there with his men. Bevin was on a ladder at the window where two girls were hanging out. The heat was tremendous, so much so that the firemen could not raise their heads near it. Witness ordered one host brought around from the side and a stream of water directed into the room over the girls' head to drive back the flame. Witness was not sure of the size of the panes of glass in the window but thought they were 10 by 12. Asked by Foreman White if he did not think a permanent fire chief would be an improvement, witness said he could not see how that change would make much difference. Many of the older houses had bad chimneys and were fire hazards. Mr. Harold Hennessey said he was in charge of the auxiliary fire corps. After water had been thrown through upper part of window, witness had got to level of window where girls were wedged in. Witness raised their chests, one by one, and Mr. Louis Smith pulled them out. Witness then passed the girls to someone below. Witness said there were two up-rights in the lower sash. One had been broken out and through that double sash the bodies of the two girls had been wedged so that it was impossible to pull them out when one was below them. Wilfred Mahar, 213 King Street, said the boy, Eddie, was staying with him for the present. The rest of his story was practically the same as that of Mr. MacLean.

Fire Chief Jewell Fire Chief H. H. Jewell said he received the fire call about 1.55. same as that of Mr. MacLean.

MANSLAUGHTER Commission To Mediate India-Pakistan Dispute

Continued from page 1. Two full bottles of Labat's ale (pints) were found in the back-end of car, and two others with about an inch of liquid in each. Two empty pails were found also. Witness said he could corroborate Opl. Strong's evidence concerning measurements taken at the scene. Cross-examined by Mr. Campbell, witness said cause of accident was the car hitting the "fill". Witness said the shoulder on left side of pavement was built up close to pavement and then sloped to ditch.

Was In Car Leona Doucette said she lived in Tignish but last August had been working in the City. On August 5th last she had gone to shore at Beach Grove with James Buchanan and George Green for a swim. It was her day off. Green was driving the car. The time was about 4.30 p.m. There was a case of ale in car. Buchanan had got ice and two pails and put some of the bottles of beer in the pails. Green drank two bottles of beer; Buchanan had drunk much more, probably six or seven bottles. They came back to City about 6 o'clock and called sometime later for Shirley Biggar who lived on Elm Avenue. Shirley was not ready until 7 o'clock. They started for Beach Grove again. There were about six bottles of beer left in the car. Witness and Shirley did not drink any beer. George Green drank none on the way out but Buchanan had two or three more. The car was travelling from 30 to 35 miles an hour when accident happened. The car struck "the bank or something." Witness heard Shirley Biggar yell and then the next thing witness remembered was that the car was on top of her. Witness was pinned over under a window. No one else was in the car. Some people came and took her out and put her into an ambulance with Shirley. Mr. Gilbert Gaudet, Stipendiary Magistrate for Queen's County, identified a transcript of the evidence given by James Buchanan before him last August in the preliminary hearing. The evidence had been taken by Miss Louise Brown, Court stenographer, and had been forwarded to the Prothonotary's office. Mr. Justice G. J. Tweedy said he was mowing his lawn on the evening of August 5th last when an empty beer bottle was thrown from a passing greenish-gray car, license number 4358. Witness went in the house and phoned the City Police asking them to pick up the car. About 7.30 that evening when he was at the P. E. Island Hospital, Cutcliffe's ambulance drove up with two girls in it. Witness went over and took a look at the girls. He was told the number of the car which met with the accident was 4358. Warren MacDonald said he lived on Elm Avenue. On the evening of August 5th last, he and Roland MacDonald and Merrill Reid were out on their bicycles. They were on Brighton Road when they heard the "screech" of a car's tires coming around Government Pond. Witness could hear the "screech" until the car had turned the corner of North River Road. The car, witness said, was going about 60 miles an hour. Under cross examination by Mr. Campbell, the witness said the car was not going 60 miles an hour but was going 60. Asked to explain how it was that he did not know within an hour what time it was and yet was so sure of the speed of the car, witness said he had driven in cars and could tell. Asked if he had ever seen a car going around a corner at 50 miles an hour, witness said "no." Counsel for the accused then told witness that the speed of the car going around Government Pond had no bearing on the case any way since Green's car, according to Mr. Justice Tweedy, had come

The other lads, Roland MacDonald and Merrill Reid, said the car they saw coming around Government Pond was travelling about 35 miles an hour. When witness and Mrs. Shaw got on the Beach Grove Road they saw an upturned car. It was the same colour and model as the one which had passed them earlier. A girl was lying in a pool of blood on the highway. Witness helped to put this girl and another in the ambulance when it arrived shortly afterwards. James Buchanan and George Green were standing on the road near the upturned car when witness arrived. Witness helped to lift car off Miss Doucette who was pinned underneath. Miss Doucette said she thought her arm was broken. Mrs. Shaw corroborated her husband's evidence. Witness was a trained nurse and had administered first aid to both girls. Green went to the hospital in her husband's car. He sat between them in the front. He was hysterical and was sober.

Witnesses for Defence The first witness to appear for the defence was Mr. Grant Willis, who said that on the night of the accident between 6:30 and 7 o'clock he was driving his truck and was giving Mr. Leitch Smith a drive home after Mr. Smith, employed as a mechanic at Stewart Motors, had done some work for him at the motor of his truck at that place of business. Leitch Smith said that he had finished putting a new motor in Mr. Willis's truck at Stewart Motors where he is employed, and then was driven home by Mr. Willis. He was in the truck while Mr. Willis and the accused talked about the motor for two or three minutes. Witness said he considered the accused "perfectly sober."
