Great Air Offensive Continues

LONDON, March 1-(AP)—British and Canadian bombers dumped more than 1,000 tons of explosives last night on the German submarine base at St. Nazaire...

The thunderbolt fleet spread great destruction in the French port in half an hour...

While the last 96 hours of virtual around-the-clock bombardment was all part of a broad picture of softening the Axis for the promised invasion of Europe...

There was no doubt, however, that the Allied teams were bombing Europe more fearfully than the Germans were ever able to punish Britain...
