Hansen, now loading 30,000 bags of cobbler certified seed potatoes for Norfolk, Virginia, shipped by the Potato Growers' Association, and the presence here of three large sailing vessels, besides other craft, the waterfront at Summerside presents a busy appearance, reminiscent of the good old shipping days. The Tern schooner Esthonia, Capt. Hartling, is now about loaded with potatoes for southern markets. The steel three-master James William, Capt. Pentz, owned by Mr. John E. Campbell, of Summerside, has discharged a full cargo of Pennsylvania hard coal for Messrs. Joseph Read & Co. and is now loading potatoes for Long Island, N. Y. The big four masted schooner Harry A. McLennan, of St. John, N. B., has now discharged her cargo of over 1000 tons of soft coal for Messrs. Holmans Ltd., and is all ready to sail for Mirimachi to load lumber for New York, but most of her crew left the vessel here, having only signed on for the trip to Summerside, and new men are being taken on locally, to fill their places. Another steamer is due here at the end of the week to load seed potatoes for the Potato Growers' Association.—S.

—THE LATE MRS. ALEXANDER CHAPPELL—The body of the late Mrs. Alexander Chappell, who died on Saturday last at the residence of her daughter at St. Avards, where she had resided for the past four years, arrived at Summerside on Monday morning's train and was laid to rest in the Peoples' Cemetery beside that of her husband who predeceased her by seven years. The deceased, who was eighty-one years of age, had been a life long resident of Sherbrooke, where she was one of the best known and highly esteemed lady residents. She was possessed of a very kindly nature which endeared her to all classes, old and young. She was a devout member and, up to a few years ago, a very active member in the Christian Church, and it was her former pastor and friend, Rev. W. H. Harding, of Summerside, who very feelingly officiated at the short service at the grave. There are left to mourn five sons and four daughters, namely:—Wallace, of Weymouth, Mass.; Stanford and Calvin, of Boston, Mass.; John and James at home; Mrs. Charles Gay of Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Edward Cusack, of California; Mrs. J. Jardine, of Southport and Mrs. Russell Burgoyne, of St. Avards. To the bereaved relatives much sympathy is extended.—S.

Church Services

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

At morning worship in Trinity United Church on Sunday, Rev. Hammond Johnson was the preacher. In the evening Rev. Dr. Ramsay occupied the pulpit and took for his text the words "so great a cloud of witnesses." Next Thursday is All Saints Day, set apart in honour of those saints of the Church to whom no special day in the calendar has been assigned. All true believers are saints, but the word is used in a more restricted meaning as denoting the outstanding heroes of the faith. The qualities of the saint are those of vision, valour and eventual triumph.

The special music at the morning service consisted of an anthem "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go" (Shanks), Miss Berna Huestis in the solo part. In the evening Mr. Percy D. Williams rendered the solo "Remember Now Thy Creator" and the choir gave Prof. Fletcher's anthem "Crossing The Bar."

The monthly missionary exercises in the Sunday School were presided over by Dr. Ayers. Miss Pearle Burns sang "Send Thou, O Lord, to Every Place" as a soprano solo, which was very much appreciated. A fine address on the life of Rev. Thomas Crosby, pioneer missionary to British Columbia, was delivered by Miss Mabel Mathieson. The goodly number attending Rev. Dr. Ramsay's Bible Class for young and middle aged men are finding the lessons most interesting and helpful. The class will welcome additional members.

The Tuxis squares have recently adopted a set of by-laws. They are carrying on energeticaly, meeting every Thursday at 7.15. Last Thursday they had a very interesting impromptu debate.

The work of the Mission Band is progressing favorably under the direction of Miss Mabel Newsome and her assistants. The average attendance is about fifty. The Band is busily engaged in preparing a mission box, to be sent to Rev. Fred Rendles, Indian mission at Bella Coola, B. C.

Lecture At St. Dunstan's

St. Dunstan's University was accorded a rare honor on Sunday afternoon, October 28th when Mr. David Goldstein, well known authority on sociological questions, and one of North America's most distinguished lecturers, addressed the student body.

During the course of his remarks the speaker gave a short outline of his life and the great work in which he is especially interested. He spoke of the small amount of Catholic propaganda and the great need for such, showing what could be done to give to others a knowledge of the Catholic Church and of its teachings. He gave a brief but interesting account of his travels in connection with this work of evangelization; but dwelt particularly on his experiences in California, at the same time giving a brief history of that state. Vividly he recalled to our minds the wonderful work accomplished by those great pioneers of Christianity and Civilization in California; especially did he tell us of the "Father of California," Junipero Serra, a Franciscan monk, who with his little band of followers went up along the coast, converting the Indians, and founding "the Missions," which today are the pride of all Californians, irrespective of creed or origin.

After dealing briefly with some of the experiences encountered in his work of propaganda, Mr. Goldstein concluded his remarks by emphasizing the necessity of a thorough knowledge of our religion in this age of irreligion.

At the conclusion of the address a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Raymond Hughes and seconded by Mr. Arthur Hughes, was tendered the lecturer by the Rector, Very Rev. J. A. Murphy.

Mr. Goldstein was accompanied to the University by Dr. J. D. McGuigan, Mr. E.J.H. Morrisey, and Mr. Philip Coyle who, on behalf of the Charlottetown Knights of Columbus received the thanks of the student body for bringing Mr. Goldstein to Charlottetown.

Bulls were from $5.25 to $6.00 with the bulk at $5.50 on yesterday's market. One top load of breedy fat steers averaging over 1,300 pounds sold for $10.20 and good steers sold for $9.00 to $10.00.

The few calves offered were mostly veals and brought from $11.50 to $12.50.

Lambs were firm with good lambs nominally quoted at $11.00 to $11.25 and sheep from $3.00 to $6.50.

The common quotation for hogs was $10.00 with sows from $8.00 to $8.50.
