NIGHT CLUBS ONLY PLACE FOR 'SUCKERS'

Poor Food, Worse Liquor, and Cheap Entertainment Says New York World.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Only two additional deaths from drinking were reported yesterday while 15 alcoholic cases were admitted to Bellevue Hospital.

This brought the total for the holiday season to 222.

The total number of deaths from drinking since Christmas, today stood at 44, with almost four-fifths of them immediately following Christmas.

Fear of poison liquor was said to have caused a decrease in consumption on New Year or Christmas and to have thus caused a decrease in the death rate.

New York's night clubs at their best are no more than poor substitutes for the old-time saloons, backrooms, and at their worst, hang-outs for white collar thieves, the New York World says today.

The ever-increasing prices, the newspaper asserts, is but camouflage for dwindling patronage. The better class of citizens, it says, declined to be further made a "sucker" by "as educated a group of money seekers as this city has developed in its sophisticated history."

Poor food, worse liquor, and cheap entertainment, says the World, offered alone for the boys from the Bronx or Brooklyn, or from Yale, Harvard, and Princeton, or "for the male or female spender, sucker, fall guy, easy mark, or whatever you want to call it."

On New Year's Eve, the World says, the clubs will cover charges as high as $40 for an empty plate, synthetic liquor at $20 a quart and net fit to drink, and water at $20 a pitcher, the stage was set for the greatest cleanup in Broadway's history.

But, according to the World, the cleanup failed to materialize. By three o'clock, when gaiety was supposed to be at its height, it says, many of the clubs were already dark. While reservations were heavy, it was only the "sucker" and the "elderly play-boy" with money to squander who remained, says the World.

During their long stay on the ice the man's only food was frozen herring while the pony was without food of any sort.

FRENCH PAPERS CRITICIZING UNITED STATES

With Regard to the Attitude of Wash- ington towards Nic- aragua.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—French newspapers are devoting much space to the attitude of the United States in the Nicaraguan situation. The papers are virtually unanimous against the Washington policy.

An editorial headed, "The policy of the big stick," under the signature of Jacques Bainville La Labele, says:

"The Star Spangled Banner is last becoming the symbol of a nation of prey for the descendants of Bolivar. America is assuming a position similar to that of Germany before the war."

PRINCE WILL OBSERVE VISIT CANADIAN DRY LAW UNDER THIS YEAR DISCUSSION

His Royal Highness Senator Edwards Delivered an Ad- dress at the Wolfe Banquet.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—"I hope, whatever prospects 1927 holds out for others, there are great prospects for my revisiting Canada," declared the Prince of Wales in an address last night at the annual Wolfe banquet at which Viscount Bynon, former Governor General of Canada, presided.

Speaking of General Wolfe, the 200th anniversary of whose birth the banquet commemorated, the Prince said:

"Every English-speaking boy is, as the saying goes, brought up on Wolfe. To our generation also, he has a special appeal, for it is impossible to read even the briefest sketch of his short life without being struck by the thought that here was a type exactly like that of so many of our British young soldiers who made a name for themselves in the Great War."

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, said that the past year had witnessed a recognition of the present in which the constitution of the British Empire depends solely upon the devotion to the British crown.

Australia Wants To Provide For Her Own Defense

(Special to The Guardian)
OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—Australia's feeling is that she should provide for her own defense, Premier Stanley M. Bruce told a gathering of newspaper men here today. With this end in view the commonwealth he said, had embarked on a five year programme involving the construction of two 100,000 ton cruisers, two ocean going submarines, a seaplane carrier, and was also making a contribution of approximately seven million pounds to the building of a floating drydock. In addition to the five year construction programmes outlined, the commonwealth had adopted a policy in 1923 which involved the expenditure of about one million pounds annually for five years for defense purposes.

SEIZE GEMS VALUED AT $125,000

(Canadian Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Diamonds valued at $125,000 seized from France Tielemans a seaman on the Red Star Liner Penlynd, were held at the Customs House yesterday. The customs men had instructions to permit a single seaman to land from the ship without his being carefully searched as advised from Belgium indicated diamonds in large quantities were being sent illicitly to America.

Tielemans said he did not know who the diamonds were for and that his instructions were "that he was to go to the intersection of two uptown streets and there at a special hour would meet a man wearing a red handkerchief in his coat pocket, or holding it in his hand."

Democrats Oppose Lausanne Treaty

(Special to The Guardian)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—By an overwhelming vote the Senate today refused to consider in open session the treaty of Lausanne which would re-establish diplomatic and commercial relations with Turkey. The treaty is opposed by a number of Democrats among them Senator King of Utah who made a long fight against the convention before the foreign relations committee. Chairman Borah of the committee plans to force the treaty to an early vote.

ENGINEERS DIFFERED ON PROJECT

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—The next step in the St. Lawrence waterway project is Canada's. The United States St. Lawrence Commission under the chairmanship of Herbert Hoover has reported favorably to President Coolidge on the St. Lawrence shipway. The corresponding organization in Canada, the national advisory committee, has not yet considered the engineers' report and as yet a meeting has not been called.

Officials here point out that the press reports of the United States Commission's recommendation fail to emphasize the fact that the Canadian and American engineers differed. The American section of the joint engineering board had a question to succeed Commander Massey Goolden, R. N., who is to retire on January 30th. Routine orders covering the appointment of Lieutenant Commander Brodeur, will, it is expected, be issued at an early date.

25 Rebels Killed in Battle With French

Influenza Epidemic Sweeping Europe

(Special to The Guardian)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—A survey shows an extraordinary epidemic of influenza and the gripe now sweeping Europe. United Press despatches from Berlin said influenza was raging throughout the Reich but that Bavaria was most affected. Gripe was spreading like wild fire in Berlin where the illness usually is of a comparatively mild intensity accompanied by fever, office shop, factory and governmental bureau staffs were greatly reduced today owing to illness. Although the Berlin health department possessed no official figures an official estimated there were 20,000 persons suffering from the epidemic in Berlin.

Madrid reports 94 deaths from influenza during the past week and it was estimated that there were 100,000 cases of the illness in Spain. Many Madrid physicians were ill and their colleagues were overworked. The disease in Spain was mild and without the dangerous aftermath menace of the famous Spanish influenza which mowed down thousands in 1918. Influenza in Spain was believed to have resulted from extraordinarily cold weather which began just before Christmas.

C. N. R. Appointment

(Special to The Guardian)
MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—Mr. A. T. Weldon, vice president in charge of traffic and express, Canadian National Railways, announces the appointment of Mr. John Pullen to the position of assistant to the vice president, effective January 1, 1927.

Mr. Pullen assumes his new duties after long experience with the Canadian National and its predecessor, the Grand Trunk Railway, his service dating back to 1911, when he joined the company as office boy in the office of the vice president in charge of operation, his duties at that time being confined to the summer holiday period. In 1913 he joined the railway in the permanent position of a clerk in the tariff bureau and occupied middle-aged man, who reported at the station yesterday, declaring that he had just recovered his memory after a 30-year lapse and that he was Frank Burgess, a cousin, traveled to Burlington, Haats County, who had been set down from a sailing ship at Gibraltar, thirty years ago, believed dead of yellow fever.

An aged mother at Center Burlington was advised of the story last night by long-distance telephone and said that her son, Frank, had been reported dead at Gibraltar 30 years ago and his effects had been sent to her. Today a member of the family, Arthur Burgess, a cousin, traveled to Truro, where the 80-year old mother waited in suspense, to identify the returned prodigal who, if he was sincere, was a son returned from the dead. The cousin identified the man at Truro as Lewis Burgess, a cousin of Frank, whose home was Bridgeport, Conn.

Beauty of English Landscape Appeals To Lady Poynter

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 4.—Lady Mary A. Poynter, wife of Sir Hugh Poynter, president of Baldwin's Canadian Steel Corporation, Limited, Toronto, who with Sir Hugh recently returned to England from Canada, writes to The Times about Canadian and English colours in the autumn landscape. Lady Poynter expresses admiration for the autumn colors in Canada, but in her opinion England leads the dominion in natural beauty, as well as in other ways.

Lady Poynter's Letter in The Times is as follows:

"My husband and I have recently returned to England from a five years' stay in Canada—that particular part of Canada where the maple tree, both the hard and soft maple, abounds, and where the brilliant coloring of its leaves in autumn has been a source of wonder and delight to us. Our five autumns in that spacious and generous land brought us to feel that only in the New World was autumn so radiant and proclaimed. We left Toronto late in October with the trees in our garden in all their red and gold glory, and we had to wait a long time sufficient to discourage the chrysanthemum blooms or to tarnish the red of the splendid salvia. While the leaves of the witch hazel were just beginning to fall, the lovely golden, misty, fairy-like flowers were beginning to come out all along the stalks of that wild shrub that prefers to blossom late in autumn to attract attention, one is tempted to say. Throughout the whole Niagara peninsula the world was gay with color, gay without being garish—maple tree and oaks, and even many of the oaks triumphantly red of hue.

"We returned to England prepared to make comparisons, prepared to find the trees here in softer attire, if, indeed, the frost had not already bereft them of their foliage. But, to our astonishment and pleasure, as we approached the land at Southampton, we saw just as bright and varied yellow on the trees as we had left behind in Canada. If the deeper shades of red were lacking the leaves of the English beeches were blushing a golden-brown, the oaks were tinted a golden-bronze, and the woodlands, even yesterday, November 9, as we took a little journey through Sussex earnest house where she had breakfast with the Lieutenant Governor and his family chatting and enjoying his delight in the autumn landscape for my tamerity in comparing to its disparagement. Certainly the Mother Country still leads the way in natural beauty, as well as in most other ways that are congenial and important to man."

(Special to The Guardian)

TRURO, N. S. Jan. 4.—Police and physicians were baffled tonight by the story told them by a middle-aged man, who reported at the station yesterday, declaring that he had just recovered his memory after a 30-year lapse and that he was Frank Burgess, a cousin, traveled to Burlington, Haats County, who had been set down from a sailing ship at Gibraltar, thirty years ago, believed dead of yellow fever.

New York Burglar Learned Trade In London

LONDON, Jan. 4.—A career of crime in exclusive London night clubs at some of which he saw the Prince of Wales frequently, prepared John Alderson, gentleman burglar, for his success in New York.

Londoners who read of Alderson's sentence of ten years' imprisonment in New York recently recalled that he had become well known here under the name of Stafford. His arrest in New York followed the calling of his fingerprints in 1923, shortly after the co-ordination of the Canadian National lines, and the various subsidiary companies. Mr. Pullen has been a resident of Montreal since 1900 and graduated from McGill in science in the class of 1913.

COURIER TO ROYALTY

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The short-wave wireless is to act as courier to royalty. In connection with the voyage of the Duke and Duchess of York to Australia, via the Panama Canal, three British warships, the reinforced China squadron, have been fitted with short-wave wireless sets capable of transmitting messages to and receiving them from the British Admiralty.

When the cruiser Renown leaves with the Duke and Duchess on Jan. 6, she will carry similar sets. She will thus never be out of touch with England during the whole voyage of 13,000 miles.

CONGRESS MAY TAKE ACTION ON PIRATING OF AIR WAVES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The Canadian Government Radio Department is taking up in a friendly way with this Government the matter of the pirating of wavelengths allotted to Canadian stations. The subject has been taken up with the State Department, and through that department with Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce.

In the present state of the law the Department of Commerce is helpless. It has no legal power, according to the courts, to allot wavelengths, and is as helpless to prevent pirating of Canadian wavelengths as American.

"For this reason great importance is attached to probable early action of Congress giving the department or a Commission power, at least temporarily to regulate wavelengths and radio in general.

If Congress takes such action steps will undoubtedly be taken to correct the situation of which Canadian radio fans are complaining.
