It would have been well for Mr. Reynard if he had taken the advice of the fox who on having lost his tail in a trap advised all other foxes to discard these useless appendages.—A.

BETTER VALUE IN MODERN CANADA

There are still a few people in this country who imagine an article is necessarily better because it's imported. In spite of a billion and a half dollars invested in modern Canadian factories, a percentage of consumers have got into the habit of looking for the foreign stamp on goods with the idea that they were getting a better quality—even if they have to pay a higher price than they do for the Canadian article. There is no doubt—in most cases at least—about the price. The consumer of foreign goods has to pay freight charges and a duty. The consumer of Canadian goods pays railway charges just as good; in some cases better and they usually cost less. The goods made in Canada are the goods that are produced under conditions with which all Canadians are familiar. With the price lower because of the duty, and the quality as good if not better, because there is nothing foreign manufactured to match it any better—it is time Canadians made a wholesale fashion of buying made in Canada goods not only because they are made in Canada but because they are equal or better value for the money. 6714
