PAINS IN THE CHEST.

Mr. John Clark, Port Hope, Ont., states:—Last winter I was so bad with a cold that I could not speak above a whisper, and had great pains in the chest. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and one bottle cured my cold which I believe would have proven very serious if I had not used this medicine.

MAY BE

May be that you and I shall come to be On some soft night that lurk's in summer's train. And up the pathway, silver over the sea. Go climbing to the day that shall not want. May be that you and I shall take our joys In cloud, cool heads to other, stranger ways. The inspired ones among our mortal throng. To make a playtime of our newer day. May be that you and I our lives shall end When we have climbed among the stary throng. Then catch the echoes of the days behind. And know their prelude to our fallier song. May be that you and I shall find the way. When shadows fall and God shall threaten night. To climb together the eternal day. And make our sweet abiding-place in Light.

STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLES.

Mr. Alex. M. Finn, Inkerman, N. B., writes:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for Stomach troubles of the kidneys and liver and stomach troubles, and can certify that they did me a good deal of good. I can heartily recommend them to any one suffering as I did."

A Scotch Collier's Testimony.

At the disruption in 1846 the bulk of the shepherds joined the Free Kirk. But one collier held by the Establishment principle and refused to "come out." Every Sabbath he went alone to the Established church, where he had been wont to accompany his master. His master refused to converse him. "Na, na," he said, "he's a wise dow; I'll no meddle w' his convictions." The collier's adherence to the Establishment had, however, a disastrous end. He was accustomed to be during the sermon on the pulpit stairs, no doubt better to hear the discourse. Below him were placed the long stowpittie hats of the elders. On one unfortunate day he fell asleep, rolled off his stowpittie and managed to get his head firmly fixed inside one of the hats. Bitterly mortified, the dog fed from the kirk and ever afterward, as his master said, "had nae trockings w' relogian."—London Spectator.

On January 11th after an illness of three months there passed peacefully into rest Mrs. Bridget Mallett, one of the most highly respected residents of Alberton South. The deceased who was a native of Cork County, Ireland, left her native home and migrated with her parents to this land when only eight years of age. She cheerfully bore the trying and varied difficulties which the emigrants at that time experienced after leaving the land of their birth and sailing to a new and strange clime to face life's troubles. The deceased was 70 years of age and for the past seventeen years, has been residing in Alberton South where she was held in high esteem and respect by the entire community. She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind, loving and devoted mother two daughters, Mary E. at home and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien residing in Gloucester, and five sons, John of Gloucester, Fred, James and William at home and Richard, now absent on a Southern voyage. The funeral took place Friday morning to the Sacred Heart Church where solemn High Mass and an impressive funeral service were celebrated by Rev. Fr. Burke after which the remains were peacefully interred in the Sacred Heart Cemetery. The pall-bearers were H. Currie, W. D. White, P. B. Clark, David Mountain, John Mountain and Robert McLean. The bereaved relatives are receiving the sympathy of many friends in their sad affliction in which The Guardian sincerely unites.

Cured His Father of Rheumatism.—"My mother has been a sufferer for many years from rheumatism," says W. H. Howard of Husband, Pennsylvania. "At times she was unable to move at all while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with. For sale by all druggists."
