L. B. Miller, Esq., Principal C. B. C. Dear Sir—Will you kindly send me your terms for Shorthand and Typewriting, as I wish to give my sister Maizie a course and know of no other institution where she could get such thorough training in those branches.

I think there is no better profession for anyone to follow than Shorthand and Typewriting.

I am working as Stenographer in the C. P. R. office here, and must say I miss the Underwood and L. C. Smith machines very much.

Since coming to Vancouver I have met quite a number of C. B. C. students all of whom are doing well.

Robert McLeod a graduate of the C. B. C. is working for the C. P. R. here also; he is in the General Passenger Agents office.

All a stenographer wants in order to get a position here is a C. B. C. education.

Trusting to hear from you in the near future, and wishing you in the college a prosperous year.

I am, Yours respectfully, BERTHA PURDY.

Thank you Miss Purdy. The course in Shorthand and Typewriting including the use of type writing machines and mimeograph costs only $25.00. (Twenty-five Dollars).

The Coronation Picture was the feature reel at the People's Theatre last and the patrons are indeed nothing if not patriotic. From the time the announcement was dashed on until the end of the reel it was nothing but a continual round of applause. The Gaumont people certainly got their photograph from good points and on different occasions, as the Royal Coach passed up one of the Queen could be plainly seen. The reel throughout is good and clear, leaving nothing to be desired. The mounted band was shown, something few of the people here have ever seen, thousands of soldiers, sailors and spectators went to make up one of the finest pictures ever thrown on canvas, and of an event that transpired just about a month ago. The reel by Mrs. Tomlin was also a feature which helped greatly to make the reel a success—such familiar airs as "The British Grenadiers," "God Save Britannia," "God Save the King" and others, which fitted in just right.

Just as the picture was concluded Ralph B. Fisher appeared and rendered "Long Live the King" for which he received thunderous applause. The other pictures were also good but it was the coronation picture that they went to see and to hear the music of "God Save the King."

A Moncton exchange has the following which will greatly interest the many friends here of John H. Corcoran, formerly of this City: A most deserving appointment, which comes by way of a decided promotion, is today announced in which John H. Corcoran, of the General Passenger Agent's Department of the L. C. E. has been appointed to the position of Travelling Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, with headquarters in Moncton. Mr. Corcoran enters upon his duties on August 1st, upon which day he makes his inaugural trip. Mr. Corcoran has been in the employ of the L. C. E. for the past twenty years, and, having at this date reached a high degree of efficiency, will be greatly missed in the position which he is soon to vacate.

He entered the L. C. E. service as a clerk in the Roundhouse in 1890 and was transferred to the General Passenger Agent's Department in 1892, where he has remained until the present time, acting in the capacity of General Clerk, Sleeping Car Conductor and Travelling Passenger Agent. Mr. Corcoran was born in Charlottetown, P. E. I., on Sept. 18th, 1873, but while Charlottetown is his birthplace, he has, since coming to Moncton always shown a lively interest in matters pertaining to this city, and that his promotion will not necessitate his removal from the city. Mr. Corcoran has always displayed a keen interest in matters that would make for the welfare and betterment of the city. He exhibited always a keen interest in theatrical, charitable, church and athletic matters.

American Sugar Refining company trusts.

Today told the special congressional committee investigating the trust his version of the formation of the trust. "I am willing to take the blame for originating the idea of consolidating the sugar interests into the big company in 1887," said Mr. Parsons.

He went further and said that this was the first big combination, even preceding the Standard Oil; and Representative Madison, of Kansas, remarked: "Ah, here is the real father of the

"There had been many makers of sugar prior to 1887," continued Mr. Parsons. "I was counsel for many of them, including H. O. Havemeyer, Theo. A. Havemeyer, of Havemeyer and Elder, and John E. Searles."

"Who suggested to you the idea of bringing these independent companies together in 1887 into the Sugar Refineries company?"

"What was the object in bringing the New England and other refineries into this combination?"

"Well, certainly, if they were all together in one interest they would not be competing with each other."
