DURING the summer months the delightful outings on the City of London are every day gaining in favor among citizens and tourists. There are no more favorable opportunities of seeing the beauties of the province cheaply than are afforded by those popular trips.

A LITTLE child named Wood was badly bitten by a dog on Easton Street several days ago. The dog's teeth entered the child's nostrils making an ugly wound. Some action should be taken here as has been in other cities to deprive the city of a large number of these useless and dangerous canines.

An instance of the effectiveness of the Old Home Week stamps in directing attention to this Province is told by a tourist-visitor to the Island, A. D. Hart of the Hart Manufacturing Co., Montreal, who was seated in his office discussing the problem as to where he would spend his holidays. Just at that time a letter arrived from Moore & McLeod, Charlottetown, bearing an Old Home Stamp and enclosing a program of the Week. The idea of spending his holidays here came as an inspiration and Mr. Hart is now on the Garden of the Gulf and enjoying a delightful outing.

WHILE seated with a number of other patients on the benches just outside the building at Falconwood last Friday in charge of a small gang, Michael Power made a dash for liberty and reaching the shore went about 400 yards before captured in an exhausted condition. Power was placed in the Asylum after his trial on a charge of murdering Harriet Warren.

THE Wood Brothers of Elliott's have just completed a thorough renovation of the residence of William Sellers near the Golf Grounds. The house has been greatly improved and is highly creditable both to contractors and the owners. The Messrs. Wood have also made extensive repairs to John Andrews' house, Andrews' Mills. They left Saturday afternoon for Pleasant Valley where they will begin work on the Methodist Church.

THE St. Johns, Nfld., letter to the Wesleyan says: Other visitors from "upalong" received by the conference were Revs. G. M. Campbell, of St. John, N. B., and F. H. Almon, of Halifax, whose mission here was that of binding the Newfoundland Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society to the Canadian organization of that society, and not only did they succeed in accomplishing this work, but they were also able to remove a serious stumbling block or two out of the path of the Newfoundland auxiliary itself, so that we are hoping to see more prosperous days in connection with this particular work of the church of Christ in this colony. If Mr. Campbell becomes permanent secretary, his future visits to Newfoundland will be looked forward to with pleasure, and he will find our pulpits waiting to welcome his arrivals, for our people enjoy good preaching.
