"Broadway Bad" Rates As A Strikingly Different Film At Capitol

Is notoriety an asset or a liability to a girl? You get the answer, or at least suggest the answers, in "Broadway Bad," the Fox feature which opens yesterday at the Capitol Theatre. You also get some surprises. A lot of them, in fact.

Strikingly different and tremendously entertaining, "Broadway Bad" is lifted high by dramatic surprises and novel twists. There is no figuring this one out in advance after the first reel. The action proceeds along no cut and dried formula and as a result suspense is maintained right up to a really smashing climax.

Juan Blondell, Ricardo Cortez, Ginger Rogers, Adrienne Ames, Allen Vincent, Victor Jory and other members of an unusually able cast, give corking performances under Sidney Lanfield's skillful direction. Miss Blondell, particularly, is a revelation in a highly dramatic role which requires her to run a long gamut of emotions. From now on, this blonde beauty must be ranked as one of the screen's outstanding emotional actresses, as well as one of its most decorative.

Story of Girl's Lone Fight
The story of "Broadway Bad" concerns a girl who puts her trust in two men and receives some rude surprises which give her a spicy reputation. Instead of moaning about man's injustice, she capitalizes on her reputation in a sensational way. In making the world pay, however, she runs into dangers which threaten to wreck not only her own chances for happiness but something far more important.

It is a story of a lone fight that is gripping, dramatic and, in its final stages, magnificent. Glamour and gaiety are artfully combined with the human interest drama in the picture. Nearly a hundred of Hollywood's prettiest girls lend eye appeal in enticing costumes ranging from lingerie to evening gowns. There are a number of picturesque settings, as well as two new musical numbers that are knockouts.

"Be Mine Tonight" Superb Film At Prince Edward

I commend to your attention one of the grandest talking pictures anyone of us is ever likely to see. In the past four years we have had a number of outstanding talking pictures, but none in the same class as "Be Mine Tonight," which opened last night at the Prince Edward Theatre.

In the first place, "Be Mine Tonight" is a film and not a photographed stage play. It has thrown off the shackles of the studio and escaped to the open air. It presents an evenly flowing continuity of swift motion against richly varied and really magnificent scenery. A picture should be a panorama. "Be Mine Tonight" is a panorama of Alpine settings of exquisite beauty perfectly photographed and flawlessly knit together in dramatic sequence.

Then the basis of this drama is joyful adventure, tender romance, great and glorious fun.

And beyond all these delights, we have incomparable music. Kiepcura, who has a golden voice, and is the sensation of Europe, brings to this film a soaring ecstasy of song altogether without parallel in motion pictures. It is predicted that he will become the rage and will be seen in many other pictures released in America.

This triumphant result has been achieved by searching Europe for the finest available talent.

Sponsored by the I. O. D. E., who are to be congratulated on their choice of picture and with another "Silly Symphony" in color, "Lullaby Land" the programme was enhanced by the new E. C. A. "High Fidelity" sound system which has just been installed in the Prince Edward.

Labor Unrest In Quebec

ROUYN, Que., Dec. 3.—(C.P.)— Labor unrest that has prevailed among workers in the pulpwood camps of Northern Ontario for the past month, causing a number of strikes, has spread into northwestern Quebec.

Tonight some 425 men from camps of contractors for Canadian International Pulp and Paper Company in the vicinity of Clerion, Que., were converging upon Rouyn and were expected within a few hours.

Operations at the camps ceased yesterday. Accompanied by six Provincial police officers, the men started for Rouyn where nine Provincial policemen had arrived yesterday to be in readiness for any disorder.

Most of the men, however, are farmers or sons of farmers from Temiskaming County and it is believed when they receive their pay here they will depart for their homes. A number of foreign-born men, together with some from Ontario, were included.

international Air Race Is Planned

(Canadian Press)
VANCOUVER, Dec. 4.—An international air race for a prize of $50,000 between such fliers as Wing Commander Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith of Australia, Col. James Doolittle and Captain Frank Hawkes of the United States and other world famous fliers, is one of the attractions being planned for the centenary celebration which will be held by the City of Melbourne during 1934, and in which the Commonwealth of Australia, generally will cooperate.

This was revealed by W. S. McGill, Director of International Sports Promoters, Ltd., Melbourne, who arrived here last night on the liner Acragai to start a North American tour to line up Canadian and American stars of many branches of sport. He will continue south from here.

Britain To Front In New Chemistry

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(C.P.)—Scientists are working behind bomb-proof screens in the Chemical Research Laboratory at Teddington, making discoveries which are leading Great Britain to the forefront of industrial chemistry.

These ultra-modern chemists have discarded test tubes for strong steel containers in which unsuspected chemical reactions are being produced at very high temperatures and pressures. Professor G. T. Morgan, Director of Research, stated in a lecture that in one piece of apparatus experiments were carried out at 3,000 times atmospheric pressure, or 20 tons per square inch. The operators work behind steel screens.

Describing the make-shift material used in the early stages of this comparatively new science of high-pressure chemistry, Professor Morgan said he discovered an important dye by using a rusty steam jacket recovered from a scrap-heap. "The factor of safety was unknown," he said, "but the derelict had evidently acquired the habit of holding together."

5 Per Cent Cut For Rwy. Clerks Is Recommended

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Dec. 2.—A further reduction of five percent, making 15 percent in all, for all railway clerks excepting those receiving less than $8 a month, was recommended in a majority report of a conciliation board deciding a wage dispute between the Canadian National Railways and some of its employees. The report will be delivered to the Department of Labor today or tomorrow.

The majority report was signed by Judge Louis Cousineau of Hull, the chairman and Rev. Russell McGillivray, Ottawa, representing the men. F. C. Dobell, Montreal, acting for the Company, disagreed.

Canadian National clerks receiving $8 a month or less would receive no further wage cut, the board recommended. There were about 3,000 men and women in this class.

The board investigated a wage dispute involving 9,000 employees of the railway. Like all C. N. R. men, they had been cut 10 percent first, then another 10 percent. The board recommended a compromise between the 20 percent reduction of the company and the 10 percent sought by the men.

The employees involved include Canadian National clerks and freight handlers, the crew of the ferryboat Charlottetown operating between Prince Edward Island and the mainland and wharf employees at Halifax.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 3.—(C.P. Cable)—Newfoundland today rolled up her political map after 78 years of self-government and awaited action by the United Kingdom Parliament to provide a commission government in accordance with recommendations contained in the Amulree report.

Accepted as the clearest avenue of escape from "unprecedented difficulties," the report was expected to be implemented without delay, giving financial security as well as political guidance until the island becomes self-supporting again.

Autos are Sold From Twenty-Five Cents To Two Dollars

MONTREAL, Dec. 4.—The Montreal Police Department, dealers in good used cars, Friday sold, at prices ranging from 25 cents to $22, 21 seized and unclaimed automobiles for a total amount of $113.35 an average of approximately $5.40 for each car.

Spirited bidding (in cents) featured the auction, and Bailiff J. E. Bernard of the Recorder's Court, the auctioneer, patted over the sale in his most professional style. "Times must be hard," he muttered, as he knocked down a good roadster, still good for many miles travel, for $22.

There were only two other "expensive" sales, where purchasers paid $19 and $18 for their cars. Another went for $10 and two for $8 apiece; $5, $4.50, $4.25 and $3 were the next highest prices. A car sold for $3 and another for $12, one for $1.55, and a fourth for $1.

Sales for less than a dollar were for 83 cents, 75 cents, two at 60 cents each, one for 50 cents, one for 35 cents and the cheapest of the lot for a quarter.

Iron Block For Road Surfacing

OLDHAM, England, Dec. 3.—(C.P.)—A new industry has been started here. The company is making cast-iron blocks for road surfacing, and an experimental length is being laid at Mooride, Oldham. A quarter of an inch of bituminous solution and bonding material is laid between each block. The blocks weigh 30 pounds each, and are 11 3/4 inches square. They are irregularly studded, providing a non-skid surface. The design has been registered.

Skunk Causes Film Co. $5,000

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 3.—A story of a skunk that caused $5,000 damages comes from one of the local film lots.

The film script called for three "denatured" skunks to work in a scene in which Miss Eleanor Hunt, actress, was supposed to shoot into the ceiling of a hunting lodge and the polecats were supposed to tumble down. Everybody in the scene was supposed to pretend he was overcome by skunk odor. So was a tame bear.

Three skunks were hired at an animal farm and brought to the lodge. Dressed in a $1,500 fur coat, Miss Hunt fired the gun. A man hidden in the ceiling above the skunks. Two hit the bear and the actors simulated suffocation, but when the third skunk fell, realism permeated the scene.

Miss Hunt hid her head in her coat. The "property man" fainted. The bear tried to climb a make-believe tree and clawed off plaster.

Officials of Educational Features Studio, whence came the story, estimated the cost of the "stake at $5,000—a half day's work for all hands and one ermine coat.

INCREASE IN BRITISH AIR FORCE URGED

Disarmament Conference in Great Danger as Arms Race Threatens.

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The campaign for a bigger British air force is increasing in intensity. The recent declaration in the House of Lords by the Marquess of Londonderry, Air Secretary, that Britain will be compelled regrettably to build up her air force if other nations do not reduce theirs, has let loose an ocean of oratory, comment and prophecy.

"The disarmament conference is in great danger," Sir Herbert Samuel warned at Darwin. "If it were to fail all the great nations would begin to increase their armies and air forces. England," the Liberal leader said, "is beginning to do that now. If all countries follow suit it will end in another great catastrophe."

Fears Worst

"The Devil's litany is in the air," the Sunday Times political correspondent commented bluntly today, urging internationalization of air power.

Advocates of a bigger air force go far beyond the 1933 programme which contemplated building up to 52 squadrons for home defence.

In the Observer, J. L. Garvin, noted political writer, declared: "We require not another 100 machines but 1,000. We need 100 squadrons—something more than double the existing strength as it stands after years of thinness. That is the new irreducible minimum. No level thinker can deny it. Considerable preparation will be required. It should be undertaken at once. The period for reducing the income tax necessarily disappears. The body of payers will grimly agree. Better insurance of national existence has to be paid for."

Garvin's article attempts to show that since the Great War the United Kingdom has spent not far from $10,000,000,000 altogether upon her navy, army and air force. In the same way, it says, the country still spends $800,000,000 annually, or more than $1,000 a minute.

"Never in the records of our country, or perhaps any other country," the article adds, "has there been anything so egregious of its kind as our present course of expense without protection. Either less money or more vision. Who else pays a gigantic premium year after year for a false insurance? Our professed object is to maintain an efficient and sufficient power in view of modern conditions. Better spend $250 a minute and have that power than as now spend $200 a minute without it. Without air parity the rest is vain."

One journalistic prophet predicts a "safety first" budget with provisions for more aircraft and cruisers.

Pair Remanded On $2,000 Bail

(Canadian Press)
TRURO, N.S., Dec. 4.—Alleged to have hi-jacked eight kgs of contraband rum, Harry and Perry Allen appeared in police court before Magistrate Harold Putnam yesterday and were remanded on bail of $2,000. Both men, at present on bail awaiting trial on several other counts, were charged with theft and impersonating police officers. They will appear for trial at the next session of the Supreme Court.

It was from Harry's car two Royal Canadian Mounted Police allegedly were pushed and injured as they sought to halt the machine in a search for rum. He will be tried also on a charge of preventing an officer from discharging his duties.
