S. at 10; morning worship at 11 a. m. at which service the Communion will be dispensed, and the closing service of the series in the morning at 6 o'clock.

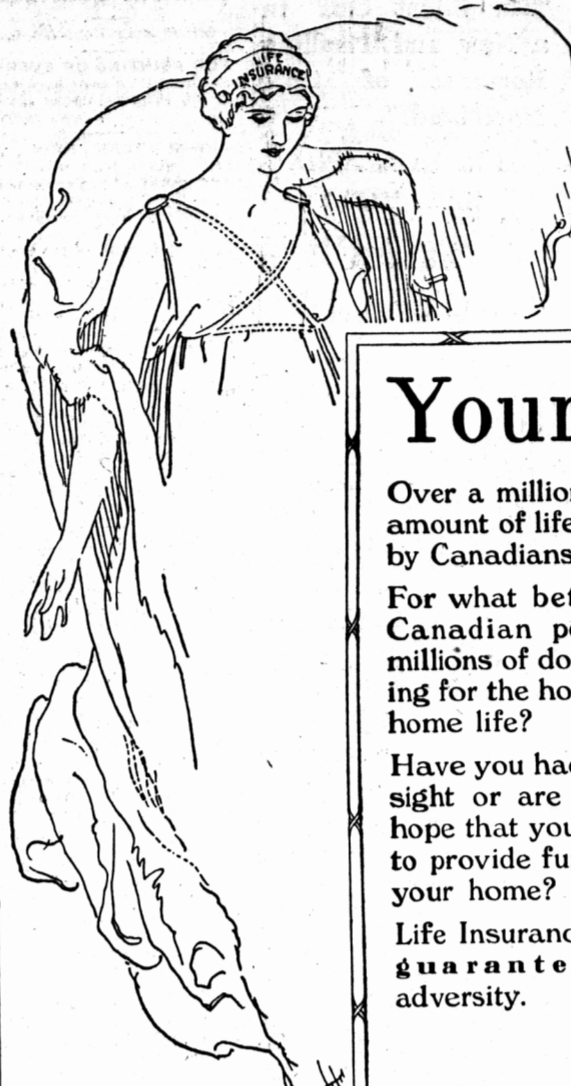

SEVENTY YEARS AGO.—Seventy years ago yesterday, June 11, 1854, a snowstorm of unprecedented violence swept over this province, according to an account given The Guardian by a citizen now 78 years of age and who distinctly remembers the storm. The lanes were blocked with snow so that travel was possible only by cutting through fields; sheep perished in the fields and some buildings were unroofed by the gale. Curiously the storm occurred some weeks after spring had fairly begun, much of the grain was well grown but no injury was done to the growing crops. The storm lasted during the night and the following forenoon.

BUOY AND LIGHTHOUSE SERVICE.—The C. G. S. Montcalm has just finished placing the large buoys that mark Cape Jack and Judique Shoals at the entrance to Canso Straits. She is now lying in at the Magdalen Islands waiting for the weather to moderate. The C. G. S. Brant is on her way to Shipigan for lighthouse supplies and fittings for the use of the Island Lighthouse and range lights.

SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN.—As the grand climax of the Self-denial campaign of the Salvation Army in this district a rally of army officers from all points in the district was held in St. John Monday and at a splendid concert programme in the evening the returns of the campaign were announced. The sum of $19,690 was raised in New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and part of Nova Scotia. Major Burrows commander of the district, presided at the evening programme and at the officers' council in the afternoon. Officers were present from Charlottetown and Summerside, P. E. I.; Sackville, Moncton, Sussex, Fredericton, St. Stephen, Chatham and Woodstock. Major Burrows leaves this morning for Campbellton where he will assist Commissioner Souton in conducting special services.—St. John Exchange.

SCHOONER AGROUND.—The four-masted schooner Mary L. Baxter, Capt. Richard Tick, ran aground while leaving Pugwash harbor last Tuesday. The C. G. S. Brant went at once to her assistance, but all efforts to float the vessel were unsuccessful. The Mary L. Baxter was bound for New York with 1800 tons of brick. The two schooners, Etta Vaughan and Dwinia, which left here yesterday, will aid the four-master in discharging part of her cargo and it is hoped that she will then be sufficiently raised to enable her to get off with little assistance.

COVEHEAD.—Frank and Mrs. Howard, Cornwall motored to Covehead Sunday.—Mr. I. Strickland has left on an extended visit to Newfoundland. His many friends wish him bon voyage.—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryenton, Winsloe, spent Sunday at Covehead.—Leauel and Mrs. Crockett, York, spent Sunday at Covehead the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George MacMillan.—Mr. and Mrs. Goram Cooke, Charlottetown, spent Sunday at Union North, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes.—Mrs. M. NOTES BY THE WAY

In the contest and very confidently predicts that the Provincials will win. For that matter, each of the three major parties appears hopeful of coming through with a majority, which is not a new thing in elections. At this distance it would seem probable that no one party will command a majority of the new House.

Canada is not alone in protesting against the diversion of water from the Great Lakes through the Chicago drainage canal. The states of Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York all having a frontage on the lakes are interested in having the natural level of the water therein maintained. In this fact lies Canada's main hope that any further diversion of the water may be prevented. The additional water that Chicago claims is in no way needed for purposes of drainage, but to furnish water power and make a navigable canal to connect Lake Michigan with the Mississippi.

from overflowing in time of flood. These lands must be very valuable. The Mésouri R. joins the Mississippi at St. Louis, which is built on both sides of the river, which divides the State of Missouri from the State of Illinois. My journey through the State of Illinois, and part of Indiana was made in the night, which prevented me from obtaining a good view of the country, but it seemed to be good farming land. Indianapolis is the capital city of Indiana. It is a city of a little less than 400,000, and as two of my sons live here with their families, I have had a good opportunity of seeing the city, and becoming acquainted with some of its interesting places.—The Art Institute, where are many fine pictures, and busts of noted men and women; the Public Library here is the most extensive I have ever seen, and is contained within a beautiful grey stone building, finished inside in marble. We drove through Crown Hill Cemetery, which contains 542 acres, and is fenced by a brick wall, surmounted by a metal railing. This is a very beautifully kept place. Here we visited the monument of President Harrison, who was a native of this city, and also the grave and monument of James Whitcomb Riley. We also visited the beautiful home of the poet, where the furnishings are just as he left them. The soldiers' and sailors' monument is a wonderful achievement of architectural and sculptural art, costing $600,000. The foundation is thirty feet in depth, and the height of the monument is three hundred and fourteen feet. We ascended the monument by an electric elevator to the balcony, which is two hundred and twenty eight feet above the street; and from this elevation we had a delightful view of the city and the surrounding country with its parks, and green fields, and shady groves of hardwood. On two sides of the terraced monument, are magnificent cascades, over which flows 7,000 gallons of water per minute. Outside of the monument is a wide, paved, circular boulevard brilliantly lighted, around which auto traffic can only drive in one direction. One very interesting visit was to the fair grounds, with its race tracks, and numerous stables. There were some speedy horses going over the one mile course in two minutes and eighteen seconds. Here in the evening we attended a review and pageant given by the K. K. K. at which a most brilliant display of included many floats representing the upbuilding of the United States from the days of the landing of the pilgrims to the present time. One of the attractions was a dive by a Kianoman, from the top of a tower which was one hundred feet high, which he successfully accomplished, landing on a rope net which was placed a few feet from the ground.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulshed coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three spoonfuls of Mulshed is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulshed. Before of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

Rids System of Suffering

War Veteran Wins Back to Health by Rebuilding His System With Dreco. Grand Herbal Remedy Adds Daily to its List of Grateful Friends

Mr. Arthur Lortie, former overseas man, is now fit and able to work, thanks to Dreco, the famous herbal remedy. He is a plumber by trade and is working at it on the new City Hall.

"I was overseas for two years" says Mr. Lortie, who lives at 23 Fortification Lane, Montreal. "I was with the 87th Battalion Canadian Grenadier Guards, and suffered from the gas attack at Cambrai. I have never been the same man since, that is, until I discovered Dreco.

"My stomach was in bad shape and wouldn't digest my food properly. I had no appetite and became greatly weakened for lack of proper nourishment. I was nervous too, and couldn't sleep. So greatly run down did I become that it was impossible for me to work at my trade.

"I tried all kinds of medicines without result. Then I read about Dreco and decided to give it a trial. It has helped me wonderfully. My stomach is in excellent shape and I have an appetite. What is more, I enjoy my food and that it is giving me nourishment is proved by the fact that I am getting stronger every day. I feel like a new man now and have started back to work, being at present employed on the new City Hall."

Many people who imagine themselves chronic invalids without hope, get the surprise of their lives when they start taking Dreco. They find that there is nothing wrong with them, except a run-down digestive system, a condition which Dreco speedily corrects. This grand tonic and regulator contains only the pure extracts of herbs, roots, bark and leaves, which cleanse the system and build up the organs. Dreco contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Charlottetown by E. A. Foster. It is also sold as follows:
Montague—H. J. Mabon.
Souris—Souris Drug Co.
Summerside—Gallant Drug Co. Limited, and by a good druggist everywhere.

Insidious Eye strain

We use this adjective advisedly. Sufferers from Eye strain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect. The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy. Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eye strain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy, may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body, and produce ill health.
