—FIRE ALARM —The Summerside Fire Alarm awoke the citizens about 3.30 a.m. on Saturday. It is thought that the job of a cigarette was the cause of the fire. No great damage was done.—S

Claims He Told Lie To Accused About Police Officer

Paul Harding, Summerside, charged with arson was sent up to the Supreme Court by Magistrate W. E. Darby at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing on Thursday. The charge arose out of the burning of a spread boat owned by the accused, Eric McEwen, who pleaded guilty to burning the boat on Nov. 11th, 1936, is to be sentenced on Tuesday.

During his cross examination at Harding's trial MacEwen said, he was not offered a reward to assist the Police; and that the story he told Harding about a man named Smith coming to him from Sergeant Anderson offering him a $100.00 if he would go on the stand and swear that he burned the boat for Harding was a lie. He also stated no indictment whatever had been held out to him by the police when he wrote his confession that he burned the boat.

The Police told him that any statements he made were confidential and would not be used against him without his consent.

Witness knew that he was assisting the Police to secure evidence against Harding when he went down to ask Harding for the money to get off the island.

Roy MacKenzie, Customs officer at Summerside, said that he was negotiating to buy the boat from Harding in July and that Harding wanted $300.00 for it. No definite agreement was made as to the payments. Harding owed him $150.00 and he was to have a receipt for that and give him his car valued at $250.00.

He never got delivery of the boat. Harding had the boat insured in his name but he did not pay the premium.

C. E. Stavert, insurance agent, said Harding told him he had sold the boat and that he wanted to insure it for $1025.00, the unpaid balance on the boat. Harding valued the boat at about $1335.00.

He did not know what Roy MacKenzie had agreed to pay.

Bernard Hughes, of Hughes and Edmunds, Charlottetown insurance agents, gave evidence with regard to the insurance transaction.

Charles A. Beer, Provincial Fire Marshal, also gave evidence with regard to his investigation of the claim for insurance.

Corporal Cordwell testified of the facts leading up to the arrest of McEwen and later of Harding. He stated that he was working in conjunction with Sergeant Anderson on the case; and that at no time was McEwen offered a reward for assisting them. McEwen's actions following his arrest in Charlottetown were entirely under their instruction.

Wedding Of Island Interest

An interesting account of the marriage of Mr. Roland McGregor Tuplin to Miss Crystal VanOusten is clipped from the Grand Rapids Herald. Mr. Tuplin is the son of Mr. Frank Tuplin, one of the pioneers of the Silver Fox Industry on Prince Edward Island and for many years a resident of Summerside. The account of the wedding was sent to Mrs. Josephine Smallman of Summerside who is an aunt of the groom. After a wedding tour to Florida Mr. and Mrs. Tuplin will reside in Alpine, which is a few miles from the city of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The marriage took place on Dec. 23rd. The description of wedding is as follows:

Miss Crystal VanOusten, daughter of John VanOusten, Conrad Street, Grand Rapids, became the bride of Roland McGregor Tuplin of Alpine at a ceremony performed Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in Klise Memorial chapel. Dr. Charles Warren Kelsey read the service in the presence of 60 guests and Paul V. Humiston played the program of wedding music. The only decorations were yellow and white chrysanthemums which filled the bridal urns.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a fitted model of white satin with a train and seed pearl trim on the roll neck. Her finger tip veil and short face veil were held in satin bands and she carried calla lilies tied with satin.

Her only attendant, Miss Edna Carpenter, wore peacock blue dress lace with diamond accessories. Her flowers were yellow tea roses tied with diamond tulle.

Harold Finley of Rockwood, nephew of the bride, performed the duties of groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. James Finley completed the wedding party as master and mistress of ceremony, Mrs. Finley wearing olive green crepe with a corsage of pink tea roses. A wedding breakfast for fourteen guests followed the ceremony.

The couple left on a southern wedding trip by motor and will be at home after January 10th in Alpine. For travelling the bride wore black duvetyne with white trim, tan caravel coat and black velvet accessories. S.

Curling At Summerside Underway

The members of the Summerside Curling Club held their first supper of the season at the Curling Rink on Thursday evening at which a large number were present, and a very enjoyable evening spent.

On account of the mild weather the ice was not in as good condition as was expected, consequently the matches arranged could only be played in part, which will necessitate the continuance of play at a future date.

The membership has been divided in two sections, those residing East of Summer Street are listed as East; and those West of Summer Street are known as the Westerners. It is the intention to play a series of matches between the two sections to decide which side of the town maintains the better curlers.

Three games of the series were played on Thursday from which the East emerged with a slight margin over the West.

The scores were as follows:

HOW'S YOUR STOMACH?

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow your stomach to distend, indigestion, gas or biliousness, and "costiveness" cause the blood to be poisoned and will eventually destroy health and nerve force. This is what W. J. Fisher of 4 Safford Ave., Hamilton, Ont., said: "I suffered with my stomach, could eat but very little and that would cause distress. I grew weaker daily and suffered from headaches. My weight went from 175 to 135 pounds. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was soon able to eat normally. I gained in weight and strength and could resume my work." The "Discovery" made a well person of me." Buy now!

Adult Education Meetings Held Over Weekend

Ability of the farmers and fishermen of Prince Edward Island to solve their economic and social problems was the conviction expressed at two meetings of the Adult Education movement held over the week-end at Wellington and Mt. Carmel. Dr. J. T. Croteau, Prof. J. H. Blanchard and Mr. H. B. Chandler represented the Adult Education League at both meetings.

The Wellington meeting was presided over by Mr. Cyrus Gallant who stressed the importance of the occasion and its significance in community development.

Dr. Croteau, the first speaker, gave a brief outline of the history of the movement and suggested methods of group study, material to read and general organization procedure. He emphasized the latent brain power developed through group study, socially directed; and that within any group there are intellectual and financial resources more than sufficient to achieve a higher and more enduring society.

Mr. H. B. Chandler, Superintendent of the Prince Edward Island Libraries, discussed the Co-operative Movement as an international development, showing its results in the Scandinavian countries. In contrast, he instanced the development of Communism and Fascism as drastic efforts to control the internal security of nations, resulting from the failure of peoples to attempt a solution of their local problems through intelligent, democratic methods.

Taking the historical point of view, Prof. J. H. Blanchard explained how Prince Edward Island from a pioneer colony expanded both industrially and socially up to about the year 1890. The period since that time, he stated, has been one of arrested development. The time has come for expansion within the province itself. We must regain faith in ourselves and in the island.

A period of discussion followed, Rev. Urban Gillis, Mr. Frank I. Gallant, Mr. Cyrus Gallant and others taking part.

A large meeting at Mount Carmel discussed the same topic. Rev. Gavin Monaghan presided, introducing the speakers, John E. Arsenault, Mrs. Doxey Richard, Cyril Gallant and others joined in the discussion. The meeting concluded with the Acadian National Anthem directed by Mr. Guillaume Arsenault, with Mrs. Arthur Gallant as organist.

family; that he had been in Washington State insane asylum. He hesitated over the spelling of "Mable"—unusual spelling of the salutation in the various "contact" advertisements. He had a discharge from an Oregon works progress administration camp dated Jan. 2.

Virginia Chatfield, 15, one of the children who witnessed the kidnapping, saw Madson's picture and said he resembled the abductor. Yet the police released him, saying his fingerprints had been sent to Federal Agents and apparently were not those of the abductor who broke into the Mattson home and seized the 10-year-old boy three weeks ago tonight.

Private sources indicated several days ago the manhunters had obtained the kidnapper's fingerprints, presumably from the $28,000 ransom note he dropped when he seized Charles.

Dr. Mattson, in a public statement attributing the crime to a "bungling fiend" and a colleague, described them as "crooks who have never previously handled a job of this magnitude."

"As further proof of the bungling," he added, "I am certain no intelligent criminal would have picked me out for a ransom, as I have entered numerous caves and to Tacoma, who are far better prospects than I."

As potential clues the searchers held an old mattress found in what may have been the kidnap hide-out, a machinist's hammer such as might have been used to crush the child's skull, an automobile with bloodstained tire chains and other soiled accessories, and bits of newspapers found in another possible hiding spot.

Officers were said to be checking all abandoned or suspicious buildings in the Everett area, to have entered numerous caves and to have taken numerous samples of blue clay similar to that found under Charles' fingernails.

Authorities planned to question a resident of Coupeville, Whidby Island, they said. The man was said to be a close friend of Leigh Haswell Fowler, admitted robber now held in jail at Bellingham, Wash. Fowler has refused to answer questions about his activities between Dec. 27 when Charles was abducted, and Jan. 9, when the man was arrested.

An attempt to have Miss Chatfield identify Fowler failed when the girl said his picture did not resemble the kidnapper.

a market which took from them 40 or 50 cargoes of table potatoes a year before the $4 duty was applied. An average cargo is about 12,000 bushels.

"It is true" said Mr. Pirie, "that Canada buys little if anything from Cuba. A few cigars, perhaps, but that is all. I don't know whether it would be possible for the federal government to make a trade agreement with Cuba or not, in view of the British West Indies agreement. However, I understand certain things in the British West Indies agreements expire this year, and if this is so it might be possible to negotiate some kind of a treaty with Cuba."

He could understand that country's reasons for placing the $4 on table potatoes, as the farmers there had complained, demanding that their own market be reserved for them.

Carleton and Vicinity

His many friends are glad to see Mr. Stewart McKicken out again after his recent indisposition.

Mr. Charles Schurman left recently to rejoin his wife at Port Elgin, N. B., after a short visit to their home in Chelton. He reports a decided improvement in Mrs. Schurman's health since they left the island in November.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Deegan and little daughter Marion of Carleton, left Saturday morning on a trip to St. John, N. B.

Many friends will regret to learn of the illness of Mr. Iley Crooks at his home in Cape Traverse.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cutcliffe with their little daughters, Beatrice and Lois motored to Hartsville last Saturday where they spent the week-end with Mrs. Cutcliffe's parents Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson.

On Tuesday last Mr. and Mrs. John Haslam of Carleton entertained at a delightful family reunion Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mutart, Miss Mary Mutart, Mr. and Mrs. William Mutart, Mrs. Ernest Harper, Mr. Allison Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lowther and Mr. Hedley Lowther.

On Thursday, Jan. 7th the Cape Traverse Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mutart with Mrs. Ernest Harper presiding and an attendance of thirteen members and one visitor. The theme of the meeting was Jesus, the Friend of Women and Children, and an appropriate reading was given by Mrs. Harper, following the opening hymn Stand-ings by the Portal. Short scripture readings by Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Boyd Lowther, Mrs. Frank Mutart, and Mrs. Nathan Bell were followed by a solo, beautifully rendered, by Miss Mary Mutart. "All round the world the children sing their song." A letter from the Dominion president was read and the treasurer reported an amount raised exceeding by several dollars the allocation. The meeting closed with the hymn "Take my life and let it be, after which a social hour was enjoyed and a delicious lunch served by the hostess and her daughter.

of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Monotonously repeated his "no comment" phrase when asked about varying reports.

In his statement, Dr. Mattson said: "It is possible that little Charles was sacrificed to further stimulate previously enraged public to the enactment of even more drastic laws. Both in the prevention of and the punishment of this awful crime?"

"If this is true, we feel that Charles shall not have died in vain."

sion for unfulfilled contracts.

The commission filed an appeal with the privy council against the decision of the Ontario court and the appeal will be heard early in February. Meanwhile the Ottawa Valley Power company issued a writ seeking $1,403,000 from the commission for power allegedly contracted and not taken.

It is in connection with the privy council appeal that the legislature will convene early to consider further power contract legislation. The premier stated it is his intention to introduce legislation establishing the sovereignty of the province in regard to civil rights in view of any possible decision of the privy council.

There was only one change in personnel of the House during the past year. A by-election in Hastings East, necessitated by the death of James H. former Conservative Whip, resulted in the Conservatives retaining the seat when Dr. Harold Welsh defeated his Liberal opponent, Dr. H.A. Boyce. Hon. T.A. Kidd of Kingston, has been named Conservative Whip.

Government supporters included 71 Liberals while the opposition, headed by former premier George S. Henry, is composed of 17 Conservatives, Farquhar Oliver of Grey South, is the one United Farmer member and Sam Lawrence of Hamilton East, is a member of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

Mayor M. M. McBride of Brantford will move the address in reply to the speech from the throne and J. A. Habel of Toronto, Cochrane, will second it.

A debate on amendments to the separate school legislation passed at the last session is forecast. There may also be a discussion on the distribution of the Charles Vance Miller "baby derby" estate.

A Royal Commission inquiring into timber contracts in Northern Ontario will probably hold hearings while the legislature is in session.

The House is expected to prorogue about March 31, the end of Ontario's fiscal year.

lations of any life, the temptation to slump, and live on the lower levels, and God intended us for the higher. Continuing the speaker emphasized by the divine necessity that every other offering is eclipsed by the sacrifice of the Passover. Christ our Passover sprinkles the door post of our spiritual life, as a warning against the destroyer. The cross is emblematic of the most loving offering. "Greater love hath no man than this," but Christ's is still greater, being for His enemies. The Cross of Christ is the greatest of all the victories because shame and suffering triumphed over strength and might. The peace of the Cross, is the Peace of God that passeth all understanding. With St. Paul we say, "God forbid that I should glory save in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, in whom the world is crucified unto me and I unto the world."

At the morning service Mr. A. Bruce sang "My father watches over me," and the evening Anthem "Come Gracious Spirit"—Batisse, was happily rendered by a quartette from the choir.
