SAYS HYPNOTISM ABOUNDS IN PERILS

Well Known London Physician Declares Practitioners Are Toying With a Great Force Which They Do Not Understand And Cannot Control.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The advantages and dangers of hypnotism as a means of treating disease formed the subject of a notable lecture accompanied by some remarkable experiments, given before the Psychotherapeutic Society by Dr. Edwin Ash, sometimes demonstrator of physiology and house physician at St. Mary's Hospital.

"In using hypnotism to cure disease," said Dr. Ash, "we are at present toying with a great force which we do not fully understand and which we cannot entirely control. We cannot control it sufficiently to govern the grosser forms of disease and it is important to remember that he Doctor Couldn't Tell Where The Trouble Lay.

"For the past seven years I have been a victim of dyspepsia and chronic constipation and have consulted the most noted specialists to be found on diseases of this character. None, however, seemed to locate the difficulty or give relief. In addition to this medical treatment, I have resorted to the use of many remedies and have given them faithful trial, but all to no purpose.

Upon the recommendation of a close friend, I purchased a 50c package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and in less than five days noticed that I was receiving more benefit than from any other remedy I had used before. I continued to use the tablets after each meal for one month and by that time my stomach was in a healthy condition, capable of digesting anything which my increasing appetite demanded.

I have not experienced any return of my former trouble, though three months have elapsed since taking your remedy."

We wish that you could see with your own eyes the countless other bona-fide signed letters from grateful men and women all over the land who had suffered years of agony with dyspepsia, tried every known remedy and consulted eminent specialists without result, until they gave Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial. Like the doctor above, they couldn't locate the seat of the trouble.

Dyspepsia is a disease which has long baffled physicians. So difficult of location is the disease that cure seems next to impossible. There is only one way to treat dyspepsia—to supply the elements which nature has ordained to perform this function and to cause them to enter the digestive organs, supplying the fluids which they lack. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do all these requirements, as is shown by the fact that 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada unite in recommending them to their patients for stomach disorders.

We do not claim or expect Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to cure anything but disordered conditions of the stomach and other digestive organs, but this they need fail to do. They work upon the inner lining of the stomach and intestines, stimulate the gastric glands and aid in the secretion of juices necessary to digestion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c a box. One box will frequently effect a perfect cure. If in doubt and wish more adequate proof send your name and address and we will gladly mail you a sample package free. F. A. Stuart Co., 61 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

nothing can do more harm to physical therapeutic methods than that one case treated by them which should have been treated by surgical means should go wrong.

"Diseases which can generally be influenced by hypnotism are of a functional order, and not these associated with organic changes. It can, I think, be proved that it is possible by mechanical means and suggestion, without any personal influence, such as magnetism, to make the conscious mind of the subject and bring out some underlying consciousness. It can be demonstrated by experiments that the subconscious mind has stored up memories of events of which the conscious mind is not cognizant."

To illustrate points of this lecture Dr. Ash experimented on a young member of the auxiliary forces, rapidly putting the subject into a state of hypnosis. The youth was told by Dr. Ash that he was in the drill hall of his regiment. At the word of command he stood at attention and went through the actions of loading his rifle and firing. On being told that he must drive his colonel's automobile, the audience being assured that he had never driven one, the youth sat in a chair, pulled imaginary starting levers, worked unseen pedals and occasionally made a movement as if sounding a warning horn.

Hypnotism, Dr. Ash said, was a great power, which could be used with advantage if due care was taken, but it emphatically was not a thing for the amateur to trifle with.

EDITOR'S MAIL.

SIR:—Out of respect for the memory of the late Hon. Edward Whelan, I beg to enquire about the fund, that was raised some time ago, to erect a suitable monument to perpetuate his name. If anyone knows he ought to speak. It is justly due the public. It seems too bad that the management of this business is not placed in the hands of some progressive and patriotic person, so that the name of one of our greatest sons and benefactors may be handed down to future generations and serve as a criterion for succeeding statesmen. Observer.
