

TURKS ARE STILL SUFFERING DEFEAT

Removal of Turkish Throne to Asia Minor Now Demanded

(Canadian Press) ROME, Nov. 6.—The Turkish stronghold of Monaster surrendered at one o'clock this afternoon to Serbian troops, according to a despatch from Belgrade to Tribune.

The whole of the sixth Turkish army corps commanded by Fehi Pasha stationed at Monaster and many Turkish troops fleeing from other posts in the province have taken refuge there since the beginning of hostilities.

The despatch does not say whether the great Turkish army surrendered to invaders.

(Canadian Press) ATHENS, Nov. 6.—The Greek naval squadron to-day occupied the Turkish island of Tenedos near the entrance to the Dardanelles.

The Greek army operating in the vicinity of Salonika has almost accomplished its object as the investment of the fortress is nearly complete.

Negotiations for the surrender of Salonika opened on Friday last but have not been satisfactorily concluded.

Greek newspapers discussing the proposed armistice say it can only be bought at the price of the removal of the Turkish throne to Asia Minor and reforms for the benefit of the Christian population there.

(Canadian Press) USKUP, Nov. 6.—The Turkish army defeated by the Serbians at Kinnanava and Kuprili took up positions in the mountainous districts between Kuprili and Porpele where the roads are practically impassable.

The Serbian artillery was unable to follow them but the infantry were ordered to advance and in spite of a murderous fire from the Turks took position after position. The last one was carried at the point of the bayonet.

(Canadian Press) SOFIA, Nov. 6.—The Turkish losses, killed and wounded during fighting in the vicinity of Lule Burgas and Bunarhisar is estimated at 25,000 men. Bulgarian troops captured 37 batteries, quick firing guns and took 2,000 prisoners.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 6.—The public are astonished and dumfounded at the repeated Turkish reverses it is now recognized on all sides that the end has come.

The musliman population of the towns along the Dardanelles, although depressed, maintains calm. Some anti-Greek incidents of small importance are reported to have occurred in outlying villages.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 5.—The situation in Constantinople grows graver every day. Hostility to Europeans increases and is shown more openly and arrogantly as the days pass.

The lower classes express their fierce animosity without any attempt at concealment.

Some workmen's guilds openly boast that they have taken a sacred vow to massacre every Christian in Constantinople, should the Bulgarians enter the city, or should Roumelia be served from Turkey.

Fanatics swear on the Koran to take terrible vengeance upon the infidel.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—In the absence of news of fighting from the Balkan theatre of war, Europe is giving attention to the diplomatic situation arising out of the hostilities.

Although all the Powers have not yet replied to Turkey's appeal for mediation, it is known that it has now been received a very warm reception.

A more definite request from Turkey to the Powers to put an end to the war, which she is expected to make in view of the French reply to her first application is likely to receive more consideration. Even then, however, the Powers will be unable to overlook the oft-repeated demand of the allied Balkan nations that Turkey must deal directly with them. All that the Powers will be able to do, therefore, is to act as intermediaries in bringing the belligerents together. As to the future of the Balkans, a very sharp line divides Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy from France, Russia and Great Britain.

Public opinion in Great Britain, France and Russia, argues that the allies should have the territory which they have conquered and Russia, particularly, has warned Turkey that should further disaster occur at Tebatatia, Austria-Hungary, which, after all, is the most directly interested of the great Powers, being the

OLD LONDON TRAFFIC PROBLEM

LONDON, Nov. 7, (Special)—The extraordinary complexity of the London traffic problem makes any exact comparison between the number of passengers carried by any particular kind of transport almost impossible. Not only would more statistics be required than are present available, but considerable adjustment would be necessary in view of the varying conditions.

Owing to the constantly changing conditions there is a considerable fluctuation in the figures of most of the systems. The loss or gain by the ebb or flow from one system to another is partly offset by the swelling tide of London's traffic as a whole. And this ebb and flow takes place not only between the systems, but also between them and the trunk railways, which do not publish separate figures of their suburban passengers.

DROPS DEAD WHILE HONORING DEAD.

QUEBEC, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Brousseau, Sr. Sauteur, died suddenly Sunday afternoon in St. Sauteur cemetery, while attending the ceremonies in connection with the visit to the graves of relatives.

Saturday was "All Souls Day" when there is always a special ceremony in the Roman Catholic Cemetery until yesterday.

As a priest of the St. Sauteur church was preaching, Mrs. Brousseau suddenly dropped to the ground and was carried into the cemetery chapel where a priest and physician were called, but notwithstanding all medical efforts, Mrs. Brousseau died in a short while.

ST. JOHN SITE FOR SUGAR REFINERY.

ST. JOHN, Nov. 5.—This was a big day for St. John, the biggest in a long time, since the announcement of the signing of the contract for the work at Conterney Bay.

In city hall this afternoon a special meeting of the city council ratified a draft agreement with D. Lorne McGibbon, F. W. Anderson and Mr. Mitchell, of the law firm of Mitchell and Casgrain, of Montreal, whereby the Montreal men will, inside of thirty days, deposit with the chamberlain of the city the sum of $100,000 as a guarantee that they will erect here within two years and operate to the capacity of 2,000 barrels per day, a sugar refinery said to be one of the finest in the world.

To-night, W. Burton Stewart, general manager for Canada of the Norton Griffiths Construction company, announced that his company would acquire the charter of the Imperial Drydock company and would construct a dock of more than 1,150 feet in length, which Mr. Stewart says he believed to be the largest dock in the world.

The company will also develop the drydock and ship repairing plant into an immense steel shipbuilding industry and will use their best endeavors to found iron and steel works on the site adjoining the drydock. The establishment of these works, Mr. Stewart points out, will bring other important subsidiary industries in their train. He estimates that the steel plant alone will employ between 1,000 and 2,000 men, while the development of the shipbuilding plant is limitless in its possibilities. For the sites for the industries they propose to reclaim land by depositing the spoils from the dredging work done instead of allowing it to be towed out to sea. They will interview the city commissioners to-morrow and will see the provincial government later with a view to getting financial assistance for the reclamation project either in the shape of a subsidy or the guarantee of the interest on the bonds.

The details of the sugar refinery project provide for the expenditure of at least $1,000,000 in plant and building and the opening of the refinery for operation on June 1, 1915. In connection with this there is the certainty that the establishment of the refinery will mean a direct fortnightly steamship service between St. John and the West Indies.

Nearest neighbor to the Balkan States will, it is believed, not sit quietly by and see the Balkan league established.

AWARD FAR LESS THAN CLAIM.

QUEBEC, Nov. 6.—An important decision was given here in an arbitration case last night. The Saguenay and Quebec Railway Company ran its line through the Duggan Seignory at Murray Bay and offered the owner $8,500 as indemnity. Mr. Duggan claimed $125,000. The case was submitted to arbitration and fifty witnesses were examined. When the arbitrators fully considered the case they awarded Duggan $11,661. The arbitrators were J. Gignac, of Quebec, John L. Brodie and George Marcell, of Montreal.

CONDUCTED TESTS ON ICEBERG DETECTION.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Upon the experiments and observations which he conducted in the ice fields last summer Prof. Barnes, of McGill University, has just submitted his report to the marine department and it contains a number of important recommendations for the detention of bergs and floes. The original experiments were conducted in 1910 on the government steamer Stanley and were continued on the Latv Greve and Montreal last and also this season.

ASTOR'S ATTENTION TO MRS. FRIELINGHUYSEN'S DAUGHTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Miss Adelaide Cannon, the pretty daughter of Mrs. Theodore P. Frelinghuysen, is the latest society beauty to attract Vincent Astor, the heir to $100,000,000, and according to rumors that come from the neighborhood of Tuxedo, his attentions to Miss Cannon are looked upon as serious.

Young Astor has recently become interested in outdoor sports, possibly because Miss Cannon is a splendid horsewoman. She is especially interested in amateur photography, and takes her camera everywhere with her.

Mr. Astor was one of the judges at the races on Richard DeLafayette's newly completed track at Chester, N. Y., on Saturday, and with Frederick Foster, awarded the prizes.

Had he been called to present the blue ribbons to the prettiest girl his choice would probably have fallen upon Miss Cannon, to whom he was very devoted.

Miss Cannon is the daughter of the late Harry Cannon, who was one of the most popular cotillion leaders of his day. Her mother was Miss Eliza Beth Thompson, of Michigan. Miss Cannon is petite and blonde.

MUST BE A MR. JAMES.

(Argonaut.) Frank P. Morse, the press agent, walked into a fashionable hotel in Chicago one evening and wrote on the register the set of peculiar hieroglyphics which he is pleased to call his signature. How much will you charge me for a room and bath? he inquired, with an air of a man to whom money was not a question. The clerk told him, Yes, yes, said Morse, with extreme urbanity. Quite so, now I would like to see Mr. James. What is Mr. James? The proprietor of this hotel, explained Mr. Morse. What was when the clerk insisted that Mr. James was not the proprietor of the hotel, and that no Mr. James was in the house. You can't kid me, said Morse angrily. I want to see Mr. James and I want to see him quick. I mean Mr. Jesse James, the most notorious robber of modern times—brother of Frank.

INSISTED THAT TAFT MUSTER HIM OUT

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—A man who claimed that he had served in the Civil War and had never been mustered out made a persistent attempt today to secure admission to the residence of Charles P. Taft, where President Taft is awaiting the nation's verdict. When a maid answered the man's ring at the doorbell he explained that only Mr. Taft could muster him out, and he attempted to push his way through the door. The maid quickly slammed the door in his face and the man disappeared.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7, (Special)—Mr. Asquith, the British Prime Minister, in a speech in Scotland, has given his views on the Ulster protest against Home Rule. Mr. Asquith declared that the Unionist party had been guilty of an almost unbroken succession of "political blunders" during the last ten years. Asquith said: "We have, since we acceded to power, stood the ordeal of no fewer than three General Elections. That I believe, constitutes a 'record,' and I am bound to say that I think it would be ungenerous and even unfair, if we did not acknowledge the debt of obligation under which we lie to our political opponents. Since Lord Salisbury retired the history of the Tory party presents an almost unbroken succession of political blunders. The catalogue is a long one, but it will suffice to select from it one or two of its more salient items. First there was Chamberlain's fiscal campaign in 1903—a campaign which favored a return to the old and discredited system of Protection. Its immediate result was, in 1906, the most signal and disastrous electoral defeat that has befallen any political party in the country for more than 70 years.

"Take another case still more remarkable—I mean the rejection by the House of Lords, at the instance of the Tory leaders, of the Budget of 1909, perhaps the most colossal error in tactics committed in our time. What followed? Within two years—only two years separated 1909 from 1911—not only was the old constitutional doctrine that the House of Lords must not meddle with finance made a matter of statutory enactment, but the power of that House over general legislation, which has mutilated Liberal policy, was reduced from an absolute to a merely suspensory veto. In 1903 and 1904 I repeatedly pointed out to Balfour and Chamberlain that they were heading straight for the disaster into which they plunged in 1906."

WORLD'S GREATEST DIAMOND FOUND.

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 5.—A diamond weighing 1,649 carats, has been discovered in the Premier mine. This is the largest diamond in the world. The famous Cullinan, which was found in the same mine in 1905, weighed 3,024 carats but was cut into eleven separate stones. The diamond just found, when cut, may prove to be as large as the Cullinan diamond.

VERY GLAD TO BE IN EAST AGAIN.

ST. JOHN, Nov. 6.—The trains from the West arriving in the city these days are bringing back many Maritime Provincers boys who journeyed across the continent to work in the wheat fields during harvest time and who are now, coming home pleased at having seen the country west of the Great Lakes of which they had heard so much, but disappointed because of the poor prospects for work immediately offering.

As soon as they landed in the vicinity of the wheat field, or rather before they ever reached there, they were hired to work for farmers at fairly good wages for that class of labor and they stayed at this work until there was no further need of their services.

In many sections of the west there was a demand for even more farm help than offered and better prices prevailed; but the harvesters from here had to work hard for what they did receive. It was a strenuous toil from early dawn till dark with no extras for overtime and what wages they received were well earned. Most of the men expressed themselves as being glad to get back to their homes in the provinces, but they said that some of those who had gone intended staying in one of the western townships for a time at least, chiefly men who had trades.

McALEER ANXIOUS TO LOCATE VAN DYKE.

WORCESTER, Nov. 5.—Ben Van Dyke, will get chance with the Red Sox all right, Treasurer John J. O'Donnell of Worcester baseball club yesterday received a letter from James R. McAleer, president of the Red Sox, asking for the home address to send Van Dyke a contract for next season.

Van Dyke joined the Red Sox at the close of the New England league season, and worked in two games. In the first, he made a fine showing, but in the second didn't look very well. Apparently it was an off day, though as other twirlers looked bad also.

McAleer's intention to sign him for next season indicates that he will give the pitcher a chance in the Spring.

S.S. ROYAL GEORGE GROUNDED IN FOG

PROBABLY ACCLAMATION FOR HON. MR. CODERRE.

MONTRÉAL, Nov. 5.—That there will be no election contest in Hochelaga was the talk among the politicians to-day. The only chance of there being a fight, it was said, would be for Henri Bourassa to come out, something he is very unlikely to do, it is rumored if no third candidate appears in the field. Liberals here to-day admitted that Arthur LeDuc, the latest asked to accept the nomination, has declined it for business reasons. Liberals, however, expect to be able to make an announcement one way or another this afternoon.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier wrote the Liberal executive strongly urging them not to make a fight in Hochelaga on the naval question in view of the fact that there was no definite information on which to base a campaign, but to leave the matter to be combatted on the floors of the house, if necessary. In consequence Hon. Louis Coderre will be returned by acclamation unless the nationalists decide to make a fight.

FELL DEAD IN BOOTH

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Ideal weather conditions prevailing in Buffalo and Western New York today brought out an unusually large early vote in both city and country. In some districts in this city over a third of the registration had been polled at 9 o'clock. No trouble was reported during the early hours. The only incident out of the ordinary was the death of Henry A. Maest, 48 years old, poll clerk, who fell dead while checking up a voter.

CONVICTS HAVE HARD LIFE.

ODESSA, Nov. 5.—The "Golos Moslay," in an article headed "What is Happening on the Amur Railway?" publishes a brief but horrible account of the treatment of the convict laborers on the new Amur railway.

There are no fewer than 17,000 convicts, including a considerable number of political criminals, employed on the constructive work of the line.

Some two years ago the chief inspector of the convict gangs, a ruffian named Savitzki, was removed from his post for gross cruelty to the convicts. In his place was appointed a certain Leonovitch, who was instructed by the crown attorney at Tshita to adopt milder disciplinary methods. It is these "milder methods" that the Moscow journal now describes.

For the most trifling delinquency of their arduous duties, the convicts are stripped and flogged with stout rods, the ordinary "ration" being 200 blows, but the "ration" may be increased two or three times a day at the brutal pleasure of the gang masters.

During the last winter the convict laborers lightly clad and wearing thin shoes, were compelled to work in 40 degrees (Reaumur) of frost (112 degrees Fahrenheit), when the paid navvies were warmly housed.

After one or two hours' labor in such temperature the wretched convicts broke down. They were then got in chains, removed to a stone-paved and fireless lock-up, and every day given 200 blows until they voluntarily returned to work. Very many succumbed to the wounds inflicted by the flogging and frostbite.

In one instance a poor shivering convict was given 200 blows three times on the same day for the "crime" of having purchased at the public store a small 15-ounce bottle of vodka. On another occasion Leonovitch ordered three convicts, who were teetotalers, severe floggings for refusing the vodka ration dealt out to the paid navvies.

Most of the cells in which the convicts are confined, in chains for a week's arrest for some trivial offence are so low-roofed that the prisoner can't lie down, and must "live out" his sentence on the earthen or stone-paved floor, crawling on all fours to the doors, to receive his bread and water rations.

FIND WOMAN DEAD IN BATH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A woman's body, nude with bruises on the hips, was found in a half-sitting position in a bath tub in a Harlem apartment house. It was identified as that of Miss Anna M. Vanauken, 32 years old, a stenographer.

In a pocket-book which had evidently belonged to the woman were letters written by relatives living in Schenectady, dated from 1910 up to a month ago.

When the body was found the bathroom was filled with gas fumes. The coroner said he was not satisfied however, that the woman met death by asphyxiation.

An aged man, who was supposed by neighbors to be Miss Vanauken's father, was missing from the apartment.

CHARGE OF FRAUD LEADS TO ARREST.

MOOSEJAW, Sask., Nov. 5.—H. S. Niblock, western manager of the Canadian Financiers of Vancouver, has been arrested on instructions from the police of Medicine Hat charged with fraud in connection with the organization of the Canadian Financiers, which was recently incorporated under Dominion charter with a capital of $2,000,000. Niblock is one of the head men of the concern and cut a wide swath in financial circles in this province.

There is no talk of a strike among the C. P. R. employes here. Orders were telegraphed to send available constables and four experienced men left at once for Swift Current. Orders were also sent to Winnipeg for as many as possible to report there. Owing to the large number of men coming away from the harvesting into the city, it will be easy to fill the places of any strikers.

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 5.—M. Knowles, the only member of the Brotherhood of Railway Employees in the C. P. R. employ here, a clerk in the freight department, was the only man who walked out when the strike went into effect. His place was promptly filled by one of four applicants filed on the instant. No tie up of traffic is expected.

CALGARY, Nov. 5.—The mounted police captured a man at Brooks who is believed to be Alphonse Catalina, alias Jas. Sullivan, who killed Jos. Mayo at the C. P. R. shops on Monday. The man arrested is said to answer the police description.

MOOSEJAW, Sask., Nov. 5.—The Dominion Land sub-agency at Willow Bunch has been closed. This step was made necessary by railway construction of railways and consequent change in the population centre. Assiniboia will probably be the new point chosen.

REGINA, Sask., Nov. 5.—While no actual settlement of the strike of tele phone linemen has been effected, the men will return to work pending what it is believed will prove an early settlement of the difficulties. Representatives of the government and of the men are in conference and while no statement has been handed out, it is believed satisfactory arrangements have been arrived at.
