Nationals Winners of All-Star Game 4-1

Brilliant Hurling Staff Of Winners Is Big Factor In Annual "Dream Game"

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

CROSLEY FIELD, Cincinnati, O., July 6 — (AP) — The American League's All-stars put on an explosive display today but it was their defence that blew up instead of the expected display of hitting fireworks, with the result that the Nationals combined superb pitching with alert all-around play to capture the sixth inter-league baseball classic.

The final score was 4-1 as the Nationals, achieving their first triumph since 1936 and their second since the "dream game" was inaugurated in 1933, cracked the vaunted supremacy of their power-house rivals.

Paced in the pitching department by the youthful home-town hero, 23-year-old Johnny Vander Meer, the Nationals seized all available opportunities to gain an early lead and then stood off two closing threats that had a packed gallery of 27,037 fans at Crosley Field on the anxious seat in the seventh and ninth innings.

Vander Meer, who set the American League sluggers down with a solitary single in the first three innings as he out-pitched his southpaw rival, Vernon Gomez of the Yankees, received credit for the victory, thus topping off a glorious rookie season for the boy who made baseball history by pitching two successive no-hit games.

Gomez was charged with his first defeat in all-star competition. The one run made off Gomez's pitching was unearned in the first frame.

The Nationals barely out-hit their foes, 8-7, but backed up the superb pitching of Vander Meer, Bill Lee of the Cubs and Mace Brown of the Pirates, with spectacular and errorless defence play. Lee, like Vander Meer, yielded only one safe hit. Brown was touched for five safeties.

The Americans, on the defence, came apart in several places. They committed four errors, climaxed by a pair of wild throws by Jimmy Foxx and Joe DiMaggio in the seventh that let the last two National League runs cross the plate and sewed up the ball game.

All told, three of the four National markers were unearned.

The Americans averted the first shutout in all-star history by rallying briskly in the ninth with a succession of long-range wallops off the delivery of Brown. Only heroic work by Brown himself, plus spectacular support, in both the seventh and ninth frames, prevented the Americans from breaking loose with a typical scoring outburst.

The highpoint of the game came in the seventh when big Rudy York, the clean-up clouter of Detroit Tigers, was a strike-out victim of Brown's, with two out and the bases filled with American Leaguers.

The danger signals were hoisted again in the ninth, which DiMaggio started with a line single to left, for his only base hit of the game. At this point, Joe (Ducky) Medwick, left-fielder and champion hitter of the National League, came to the rescue. He made a sizzling one-hand tumbling catch of Bill Dickey's long smash, labelled for extra bases. Joe Cronin's double to the left centre wall tallied DiMaggio then Ival Goodman backed up to the right field bleachers to spear Lou Gehrig's line drive.

Brown again pulled himself out of the hole by retiring the last batsman, pinch-hitter Bob Johnson of the Athletics on strikes.

While Vander Meer was facing only 10 batsmen in the first three frames, yielding only a third-inning single by Cronin, the Nationals were out in front by a one-run margin. Stan Hack, the Cubs' third sacker opened with a single off Gomez. He galloped to third when Billy Herman's sharp grounder—a potential double-play ball—went through Cronin's hands for an error, and scored on Medwick's long fly to Earl Averill.

The second and what proved to be the deciding National run, in the fourth, was the only one fully earned by the victorious side. It was manufactured from Mel Ott's three-base smash to the bleacher corner in right-centre, and Ernie Lombardi's single to left with Johnny Allen of Cleveland on the firing line for the Americans.

The most exciting display of fireworks came in the seventh when Brown was greeted like a long-lost cousin.

Foxx opened with a single and was forced by DiMaggio but Frisco Joe stole second. After Dickey popped to Hack, Cronin walked and Gehrig scratched a base hit to Durocher.

This filled the bases and the fans went wild with excitement as York was assigned to hit for Allen. The count reached three and two on big Rudy, who then swung and missed a low curve.

Buck McCormick, rookie first sacker and one of the four Cincinnati Reds who played a big part in the triumphant proceedings greeted lefty Bob Grove with a line single to centre, in the Nationals' half of the seventh inning.

The fun began when Leo Durocher laid down a pretty bunt. Foxx, who had shifted to third base while Lou Gehrig took over the first base job, was slow picking up the ball. Gehrig also was slow covering first base. The upshot was that Foxx's throw sailed past first and caromed off the box seats. McCormick raced nome on this error and Durocher completed the circuit on DiMaggio's wild heave into the National's dugout.

This comedy of miscues took the glamour from Grove's subsequent achievement in retiring Brown, Hack and Herman in succession on strikes.

The Nationals lost no time turning defensive handsprings in the ninth, with Ducky Medwick pulling the game's prize play. The Cardinal star's glove-hand catch, off Dickey, eased the tension and helped Brown pull through under heavy closing fire.

Gate receipts amounted to $38,469.05, after the reduction of taxes. Expenses figured to be around $10,000. The remainder of the proceeds goes to the ball players' benevolent fund.

Royals Are Beaten 4-1

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, July 6—Sam Baugh's home run into the left field bleachers set off the spark in the seventh inning today that broke Ed. Chapman's mastery of Rochester Red Wings and enabled them to beat Montreal Royals 4-1.

Chapman, yielded but two hits during the first six innings while only four of his pitches were being raised out of the infield. Then he allowed Sam Narrow to open the seventh with a single to left. Baugh's blast scored him, putting the Wings in front, 2-1. Doubles by Hopp and Vezilich and a single by Sturdy in the eighth stretched the Wings' final margin.

Imperials Vs Indians This Evening

In the throes of a slump Imperials will endeavor to snap out of it tonight in their scheduled City Softball League, meeting with the second place Indians. Just one game out of last place Imperials have been hindered more or less by the absence of regulars from their lineup in the last few games but tonight, expecting a full squad of players, are confident of giving the hard-hitting Indians a merry battle of it all the way.

Awarded First Gateways Lose Second

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

YARMOUTH, N. S., July 6—On the books, today's doubleheader exhibition between Liverpool and Yarmouth, reads like this—first game, Yarmouth 9, Liverpool 0, second game Liverpool 14, Yarmouth 0.

Actually as a result of an argument the Liverpool team walked off the diamond in the 10th inning of the initial contest with the score 2-all. Umpire Bill Gill who had attempted to get the game resumed called it 9-0 for the hometers.

The argument came in the last of the 10th when Manager Ernie Grimshaw replaced a runner on second without first obtaining consent of the opposing manager. Liverpool claimed consent must first be obtained but Grimshaw quoted a rule which purported to show this was unnecessary under the circumstances and umpire Gill upheld Grimshaw.

Veteran Island Reinsman Suffers Leg Fracture In Races At Hamilton

Another large crowd, estimated at close to 2,000 strong, were on hand yesterday to witness the second racing card of the year, at Hamilton's first attempt on the main circuit. The weather man smiled on the occasion, after four days of practically continuous rain, producing a track which was in great condition to stage the events. A new track record of 2.12 was made by Lusty Frisco in the thrilling third heat of the 2.14 trot. Every heat practically was closely contested in the very interesting program.

2.14 TROT—This class had four starters, who took up exactly where they left off last Friday at Alberton. Lusty Frisco again came out the winner but was considerably extended in doing so, winning the third heat after having won the first and dropping the second to Dude Potempkin. Lusty scored at the pole in the first heat and was never headed although Dude Potempkin staged a determined drive from the three quarter pole home which failed only by a nose. Millie Kalmuck was a very close third with Hackfast fourth.

In the second heat Lusty Frisco led right to the three quarter pole where he was collared by Dude Potempkin and the first accident of the day occurred. Lusty apparently made a slight break which caused him to strike the bank and give driver Holmes a nasty spill. The veteran of many seasons is in the Prince County Hospital and although at the time of writing his injuries could not be exactly ascertained he is thought to be suffering from a fractured leg close to the hip joint. Dude Potempkin went on to win the heat with Hackfast, who had gone a nice mile, second and Millie Kalmuck third. Lusty Frisco was pluckily held by Holmes and was uninjured in the accident. The judges placed him so that he might come out for the third heat.

The third heat was actually the highlight of the day, being the one in which the new 2.12 record was made. Clarence Schuman, who enjoys a good reputation as a handler of trotters, was up behind Lusty Frisco replacing the injured Holmes. Scoring on the outside he snapped the pole going into the first turn and although pushed from wire to wire by Dude Potempkin was never headed. Hackfast placed third and Millie Kalmuck who had made a bad break, was fourth.

2.22 TROT AND PACE:—Guy Ann in winning this event paced three lovely miles and was never what you could call seriously threatened in any of them. They got away on the first score in the first heat with Miss Victoria at the pole. Guy Ann second, Soviet third, and Leta Kalmuck fourth. They held these positions for the first half when Guy Ann pulled out and had taken the lead by the three quarter pole. Soviet came up with a nice rush to finish second and Leta Kalmuck's drive earned her a close third with Miss Victoria fourth. Guy Ann was never headed in the second heat, taking the lead and holding it easily over the mile. Leta Kalmuck went a nice heat to place second with Miss Victoria third and Soviet was scratched due to a lameness. In the third heat Guy Ann equalled her mark of 2.13 1-2, winning handily and stepping the last half in 1.03 1-2. Miss Victoria nipped Leta Kalmuck at the wire in a driving finish between these two.

2.28 TROT AND PACE:—This class brought only three starters to the wire, of which Direct L. was outstanding, winning in straight heats. Royal Mac displayed a lot of speed but placed third each time losing a lot of ground on bad breaks. In the third heat which was the fastest of the three he got away on high, leading to the half, but there went into a break and the horses placed the same as in the two previous heats.

2.30 TROT AND PACE:—Eight starters answered the word in the always interesting slow class of which one was distanced leaving seven to finish the last two heats. Nellie Gray, a sensational matinee horse of last season scored at the pole in the first heat and was never headed. Oscar, a well mannered little thing owned by Milligan and Morrison of Northam, placed second with Darkey Kalmuck third.

They got away on the first score in the second heat and again Nelly Gray led from wire to wire, cinching the race. Oscar trailed Darkey Kalmuck to the head of the stretch but beat him home in a driving finish. Nelly Watson, who got away to a bad start, placed fourth.

In the third heat Nelly Grey led to the half where she went into a break snapping her hopples. Oscar then took the lead to the three-quarter pole when Darkey Kalmuck came on with a nice burst of speed to take the heat in the drive to the wire. Nellie Watson nipped Oscar for second position and Lacopia Lass placed fourth.

The condition of Tom Holmes was very good late last night, although many will regret to learn that the report which stated that the veteran was suffering from a fractured leg just below the hip has been confirmed. This will undoubtedly remove Tom from active participation for the remainder of the season.

Leaders Win From Bees 10-3

Trailing their opponents from the first inning on Bees last night dropped a 10-3 decision to the Rovers in a scheduled game of the City Softball League but not before giving the league-leaders a battle of it in every inning.

Short several players Rovers managed to bunch their hits sufficiently well off two Bees' hurlers to gain their victory while Lloyd McNevin, hurling for the northend team came out of several difficult spots to hang up his second hurling victory. Bees were unable to hit in the pinches as the Rovers gave another of their usual smart-fielding performances.

Rovers win sent them two full games in front of the second-place Indians.

Tic Williams was umpire in chief with T. Robertson and L. Cairns acting on the bases.

Red Sox Move Into Second Place

The Red Sox pulled another game out of the fire last night defeating the luckless Vitamannas 3 to 2 to gain undisputed second place in the Town League. The game was very snappy and looked good to produce nine innings of bang-up ball, when a thunder squall blew up to halt the contest after six and one half innings. The Red Sox earned their win, outhitting and outfielding their rivals even though they did score all their runs in the big third via the unearned route. Walter Arsenault pitched his first full game of the season and seems to have regained the stride which he had for the first part of last year. The Landry brothers batted out four of the team's six hits. Henry getting a double and single in three trips and Al three hits. Henry and single in defensively, han was also a star d with only dling seven chances w score error. Val LeBlanc team's both runs and hi two.

The next game will be evening at 6.15 p.m.

V-8's Halted By Hawks In Juvenile Game

The Hawks chalked up their second straight victory in the second section of the Juvenile League last night by defeating the V's, first section winners, by a score 6-2. It was the second setback in the last three games for the V 8's.

Bill Smith on the mound for the winners had 16 strikeouts in pacing his team to victory.

Navy Rifle Team Sinks Local Army Marksmen In Exhibition Shoot

Yesterday afternoon at the Charlottetown Rifle Range a team of eight riflemen from H. M. S. Orion met and defeated a similar number picked from the city marksmen.

The match was shot under strict service conditions, neither peep sights or slings being used, and although Lt. Hooper was high individual scorer with a 90, the navy team was a bit steadier especially at the 600 yards.

The match was very keenly contested from start to finish, and it was anybody's victory until the last two men got up.

After the match, through the kindness of Capt. Moxham the city marksmen were taken aboard ship where each man received a souvenir silk ribbon with [illegible] name in gold.
