WOMEN'S WORK WEEK DOWN

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The average work week for industrial women in the South during the past two years has been 58.5 hours, according to the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor. This condition, however, the Bureau says, shows a "marked" decrease over the working hours of women in the preceding biennial periods and most of the states have laws pending which will reduce the time of work for women to a 55 hour week maximum and prohibit their work for women and children.

—SAD BEREAVEMENT—Mr. and Mrs. Levi Dymont, of Tyne Valley, have the sympathy of the whole community in the death of their youngest daughter Mabel, at the early age of seventeen years, early last Monday, after a short illness. MARITIMERS IN CHURCH WORK

A ministers and elders association of the different bodies of Calvinistic Presbyterians in New Glasgow has been recently organized with headquarters in Boston. Four separate units are represented in the membership and many from the Maritimes are included in its make up. The association does not contemplate organic union, but a social and fraternal unity of spirit, and meetings for mutual edification and co-operation in church work. Three meetings will be held yearly at which addresses will be given by Caving ministers and laymen, and a social evening spent together.

INDIA BARS WOMEN MINERS

WASHINGTON, March 28.—A decrease of almost 25 per cent in the number of women working in mines in India was noted by the Indian Chief Inspector of Mines in a report to the Department of Labor. The reduction, the report says, is the result of legislation enacted March 1929, which will end women workers in the mines of India by July 1, 1933.

MURRAY HARBOR NORTH

A trial occupied the attention of our local magistrate in the Hall here on Tuesday the 24th inst. After the evidence of several witnesses had been heard fines in money were imposed. But no useful work was reached and it is rumored that an appeal will be made to a higher court for decision. Such cases don't tend to cultivate what is most desirable in our country and it is to be hoped amicable and friendly consultation and counsel will abolish these disturbances. A more explicit understanding of the primary principles of protection for mutual safety needs to have its supreme importance declared.

Times are quiet these days in our locality as there is little travel and the state of the roads uncertain though we are all looking for spring soon.

Her friends regret that Mrs. Fred Johnson is confined to bed for some time but hope that under skillful medical treatment it will not be long till she is able to attend to the usual duties of her household. Her sister in law, Miss Lucy Johnston of Peters Road is assisting in the meanwhile and is quite capable to discharge the several duties that the household demands.

Mr. William Kennedy is slowly but surely proceeding to complete recovery from his recent attack of flu and expects to be out again soon and attend to his accustomed duties.

The Womens Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church here will hold the regular monthly meeting in April in the schoolroom of the church on Wednesday afternoon, April 1st. Their usual Easter thank offering will be received and other business transacted as may be on hand. We are drawing near the close of the financial year and the reports for Presbyterian use will soon be called for. It is to be expected that this will be one of the good years for our Society.

Messrs Hichen are gathering the eggs for the local circle and report prices low but production generally as good as most years in this season. No doubt their are more eggs consumed at home than if a high market price was paid.

Several of our residents attended the funeral of the late Mr. MacKenzie of Massachusetts where services were conducted at the home of his daughter Mrs. Hiram Leocoe by the Rev. C. E. Armstrong, Baptist minister from Montague. Interment was made in Caledonia Cemetery on Monday afternoon as the remains came in on the Murray Harbor line late on Thursday and short notice was given.

The usual plentiful crop of calves and lambs is arriving and hopes are held that prices for these products will be higher next fall than in the past.

Our local public school will close for Easter on Thursday afternoon, the 2nd of April and open on Tuesday the 7th for the midsummer term. Some smaller pupils will be enrolled.—M.
