MR. JAMES J. COMONT of the great seed house of James Carter & Co., London, England, who has been spending a day or two in the city, left yesterday morning by the Princess. Messrs. Carter & Co. are seedmen to the Queen and do one of the largest trades in seed in the world, extending all over the British Isles and Europe, the United States, Mexico, Canada, Australia, India and Africa. Mr. Comont reports business demoralized in South Africa, owing to the disturbed state of the country and looks forward to the time when war shall be no more. The present time is the seeding month in South Africa, and the trade there will certainly be lost for this season. The demand supplied by Messrs. Jas. Carter & Co. in Africa comes from the English settlers. While in the city Mr. Comont was the guest of Mr. Geo. arter.

THOUGH the night was dark and the roads muddy the large hall at Bradbane was quite filled last evening, the occasion being a basket social and lecture. Mr. D. N. McKay was called to the chair which he filled most acceptably. He introduced Mr. McCready, who delivered his lecture on "D'Arcy McGee which was well received. The vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Geo. McMahon, seconded by Mr. Matthias Smith of Emerald, and supported by Mr. D. B. McLeod of Junction Road, all of whom spoke in highly complimentary terms. Before the lecture Miss Doyle played a number of selections and Mr. Thomas McKay of Summersfield sang a Scotch song, both being heartily applauded. The pies were then auctioned by Mr. Hector McDonald amid spirited bidding by the young men. The proceeds go towards repairs and improvements in the public hall, which is also used as a place of worship. The I. O. Foresters have in preparation an entertainment for next week which promises to be of a high order.

A VERY pretty, but quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Warren on the 28th inst., when their niece, Miss Janie Frances Down of St. Peter's was united in marriage to Mr. Adolphus Turner of Upton, Lot 55. The bride was prettily attired in a Pearl Grey Cashmere, with trimmings to match and was given away by her uncle Mr. J. R. Warren. She was attended by her cousin Miss Myrtle Warren, while the groom was ably supported by Mr. Albert Warren. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. McConnell in the presence of the bride's near relatives and friends. After the ceremony the company set down to a sumptuous repast and the evening was pleasantly spent in music and games. The presents were both costly and appropriate showing the esteem in which the young couple were held. After singing the National Anthem the company dispersed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Turner a very happy and pleasant journey through life.
