Georgetown And Vicinity

Mr. A. T. MacDonald of Souris was a business visitor to Georgetown on Wednesday.

Mr. Howard S. MacLean has workmen engaged in placing the cement foundation for a new home to be erected on the west side of Kent Street, Mr. Angus MacLean is the carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Elordiette and daughter who have been guests of Mrs. Elordiette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J Soloman left during the week for their home in Montreal.—Geo.

On Thursday, Mrs. A. A. Murphy of Panmure Island, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Peggy Murphy of Halifax who is holidaying at her home in Panmure Island were visitors to Georgetown where they were the guests of Mrs. Agnes Murphy.

On Wednesday, September 8th a host of friends and neighbors gathered with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen to celebrate their taking up residence in their new home on Kent Street. Vocal and instrumental selections and dancing whiled away the happy hours. Among the musicians were Mr. Grover Smith, violinist, who was capably accompanied by Mrs. Allen at the organ. The occasion was suitably remembered with appropriate gifts from the guests. Among those who enjoyed this pleasant evening were the men of the tug Glenlivet II and the Dredge No. 9 now in port.

On Thursday evening the members of "B" Squadron of the 17th Recce Regt. (Reserve Army) gathered for parade in the Council Chambers and were treated to an exceptionally fine film shown by Sgt. Major Chandler of Charlottetown. The picture, a Canadian Army film of "Expedition Musk Ox", the Army's now famous trip from Churchill over the rim of the world and return to Edmonton in 1947, was an exceptionally wonderful portrayal of the hardships of weather, rugged terrain and distance encountered and the ingenious and planned methods employed in overcoming them. A large attendance of members enjoyed every minute of the show. Major J. A. MacDonald of Cardigan, commanding "B" Sqdn. was in attendance.

On Tuesday, September 14th, a pretty wedding was solemnized in St. David's United Church Manse by the Rev. S. J. Boyce when he united in marriage, Florence Delina Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stevens of Georgetown and Charles Alexander MacConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. B. MacConnell of Georgetown. The bride was attired in a blue street length dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of sweet peas and carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Marion George wore a turquoise blue dress with pink accessories and a corsage of snapdragon. Mr. Harry Stevens, brother of the bride, was best man. Following the ceremony a delicious supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martell, Glenelge Street, where the relatives and many friends of the popular young couple enjoyed themselves in an evening of dancing and entertainment. Previous to their marriage they were tendered a shower by their friends in Kozy Hall, at which they received many beautiful and useful gifts. The ceremony who holds the rank of C. K.-S. in the Royal Canadian Navy and is a member of the crew of the H. M. C. S. Haida will complete his leave in Georgetown before returning to his ship. He will be joined in Halifax in the near future by Mrs. MacConnell where they plan to make their future home.

Prospective Conservatives For Leadership

F. C. HEADQUARTERS. OTTAWA— John T. Hackett, K. C., with his shaggy black eyebrows and piercing dark eyes, is member of Parliament for Stanstead, P. Q. and is one of the most impressive looking men in the House of Commons. In fact, his appearance might almost be called portentous, but it belies him for in conversation John Hackett has enough humor and charm to soothe the most nervous interviewer or the most critical opponent.

He sits in the House of Commons, almost by natural right. His father and his grandfather also represented Stanstead in Parliament. It was also almost inevitable that he should at some time be made president of the Canadian Bar Association, a position from which he has just retired, for not only is he highly versed in the law, but he is a kind of watchdog for the judiciary. Criticism of the legal profession, or of judges, always finds him ready to rise to their defence. He believes fervently in keeping politics out of the law courts.

His interests, however, are extensive and he has made a valuable contribution to the work of parliament as secretary of the Party's Committee on External Affairs, and latterly as its chairman In August 1947 he was named one of the parliamentary advisers to the Canadian delegation which attended the second session of the United Nations' General Assembly He speaks of Canada as the cord which binds the old world with the new.

Outside politics, Mr. Hackett also makes an important contribution to Canadian life. He was the first president of the Students' Council of McGill and is now a Governor of the University. He is on the board of the Canadian Welfare Council and is chairman of the Quebec division of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

He was born in Stanstead, P. Q., in 1884, the son of the Hon. Mr. Justice M. F. Hackett of the Superior Court of Quebec and was educated at St. Charles Seminary Sherbrooke, P. Q., and Loyola College, Montreal. He subsequently obtained degrees of B.L.L. from Laval University and a B.C.L. from McGill University. He was Batonnier of the Bar of Montreal in 1946-48 and formerly president of that city's Junior Bar Association. From 1911 to 1913 he was assistant to the Minister of Justice and was created King's Counsel in 1920.

His wife who is a university graduate, is the former Linda Harding of Boston, and they have four children.

Potato Growers Reminded Of Rot Dangers

"The hazard of storage rot in potatoes is considerably increased this year because of the late blight rot in the crop," warned S. G. Peppin, District Inspector of Seed Potato Certification in an interview yesterday.

Stressing the necessity for immediate cleaning and disinfecting of all potato storage, Mr. Peppin pointed out that rot producing organisms are able to survive in farmer's cellars and trackside warehouses from one season to the next and so infect the new crop unless precautions are taken.

"Before attempting to store the new crop," continued the District Inspector, "all traces of the old crop should be removed from the storage space and the floor scraped and swept clean and, with a solution of not less than two pounds of blue stone to each 10 gallons of water, the floor, walls and ceiling must be thoroughly sprayed."

MacAulay-Cairns Nuptials

Saint Alexis Church in Rollo Bay was nicely decorated for the wedding of Hugh Francis MacAulay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacAuley of Souris and Mary Evelyn Cairns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cairns also of Souris. The doublering marriage ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. John H. Mullaly of Winnipeg, Man. Present in the Sanctuary were Msgr. J. A. Murphy, Rev. A. L. Sinnot, Rev. P. Murnaghan, Rev. George MacDonald and Rev. Parnell Wood. Serving the Nuptial Mass were the groom's brothers, Alphonsus and Kenneth who are both seminarians. The organist was M. Chaisson with W. Chaisson as soloist. Viola McKendy played the wedding march.

A reception for about a hundred guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cairns, Souris. The reception room was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells. The table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Msgr. J. A. Murphy, Souris and Dr. Emmet MuHaly of Montreal, proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded in a fitting manner.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lovely ivory satin, fashioned with a bertha collar, a fitted bodice and a full skirt with a peplum ending in a fish tail back over the long train. Trimmed over the shoulders and around the bertha collar was rose point lace. Her full length veil of French illusion was caught to a coronet of lace and pearls. She carried a prayer book covered with white satin with streamers of white bourvardia and Sweetheart roses.

Miss Helen Cairns, R. N., of Boston, Mass., a sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a colonial style gown of aqua mist taffeta with ruffle circling the hem of the full skirt with a long bustle sash of burnt orange taffeta draping the back of her dress. Her coronet and mittens matched her gown. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids wearing similar gowns of rose lavender taffeta having bertha cape collars with coronet and mittens to match, were Miss Gladys Mullaly and Miss Rose MacPhee, both of Boston, Mass. They carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mr. Joseph MacAulay, Souris, was best man for his brother and the ushers were Irwin Mullaly of Boston and John Mullaly of Souris.

Mrs. Cairns, the bride's mother, wore a two-piece blue and white silk creep dress with a large navy blue hat. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. MacAulay, mother of the groom, wore a flowered navy blue gown of silk jersey with a hat to match. Her corsage was of red roses.

Immediately after the reception, the bride and groom left on their honeymoon trip to the mainland by motor. For travelling the bride wore a navy blue gabardine suit with a white blouse. Her hat, bag and shoes were of white satin. Her corsage was of pink and white roses.

The groom graduated from St. Dunstan's University in 1947 with a B.Sc., degree. He also served with the R.C.A.F. for four and a half years.

Prior to her wedding the bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable gifts tendered to her at a shower held in her honor at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Mullaly, Milton, Mass. The bride had her own dressmaking business for the past eight years in Brookline, Mass.

The bride and groom will reside in Montreal where the groom is attending McGill University. Relatives and friends wish them many years of happiness.

SERIOUS BLUNDER

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 17—(CP)—Arthur R. Ford, editor-in-chief of the London Free Press, said today the erection of United Nations buildings in New York City is "a serious blunder." Speaking at the Western Fair directors' press day luncheon, Mr. Ford said the Peace Palace at Geneva, Switzerland, could be used without the "enormous building cost" of the New York project.

TRIPLET TROUBLE

TORONTO, Sept. 17—(CP)—Discovering who's who in a classroom at the beginning of a term is pretty difficult for teachers, but Toronto teachers have an added worry—triplet trouble. Toronto has 14 sets of triplets all under 14 years of age, and most of them are attending school.

NOTICE

On Sunday, September 19th, weather permitting, we plan to raise the voltage on the Charlottetown-Montague tie line from 6900 to 12000 volts.

The power supply will be interrupted at 7 A.M. and will affect all consumers on this line east of the Hillsboro Bridge. As all service transformers have to be reconnected, all branch service lines, as well as the main transformer banks at Charlottetown and Montague, it is not expected that all service will be restored before the late afternoon.

In addition, the following three city feeders will be interrupted at 7 A.M. for a period of approximately one hour in order to facilitate the change over at our Charlottetown steam plant:—

Brighton Circuit serving the western part of the city.

Queen Circuit serving the central part of the city.

Longworth Circuit serving the eastern part of the city.

Every effort will be made to restore service as quickly as possible consistent with safety.
