

Annual Meeting Of Charlottetown Baptist Church

Indicating a year of notable progress a well-attended annual business meeting...

British Form

Under an order of the southwest Pacific, Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, Gen. Wavell's headquarters will be somewhere in the Indies...

NEW SURGE OF

With the arrival of a new year, the average Briton has a balance on the credit rather than the debit side of the ledger of confidence.

This feeling of renewed hope and optimism pervades London with the new year...

War is costing the average Briton and his wife and each of his children an average of a dollar a day.

Many Britons quote H. M. Tomlinson's "the worst of war is the unreasoning monotony of it."

The soldier of the Isles confides he's had all the joys of drilling, training and soldiering while waiting for something to happen.

More and more answers to many war-time domestic problems are to be found in new assignments for women.

Whether married or single, most women believe there is little value in planning in a personal way until the war is over.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Following is the text of the report of the retiring President, Lt. Col. K. S. Rogers.

The year 1941 has been in many respects a memorable one, and particularly so from the standpoint of the Charlottetown Board of Trade.

The disturbed condition of the world markets, disruption of transportation services to meet war requirements, and the difficulty of securing necessary finances for Provincial public works have contributed to the problems of your Board.

As your president, I undertook as part of my duties the interviewing of various officials in Ottawa in February, 1941, with a view to settling the matter of a suitable seaport for the Wood Islands-Cariboo service.

With the collaboration of Premier Campbell, the Board has been successful in securing the necessary cooperation of various governmental bodies in our attempt to improve transportation facilities of the Province.

As your president, I have carried on an extensive series of interviews with the various officials of the Provincial Government and our Federal representatives.

does not seem to concern very greatly either the hard-pressed officials...

The various committees of the Board under their able chairmen have been faithful in attendance at all meetings throughout the year.

As your president, it was my privilege to lead upon the world in the organization of a scale commensurate with the importance of the business district and quite a large staff is currently employed in a large shipping department.

Another communication from Premier Campbell referred to the air service to the province.
