A Toronto despatch says: "An invitation extended by cable today to the Institute of Journalists, in convention at Brighton, England, to hold their meeting next year in Montreal. The cable was sent from Toronto by Harry Bragg, of Montreal, chairman of the Canadian division. The plan as proposed by Mr. Bragg includes a comprehensive tour of Canada by the journalists. His message of invitation was endorsed by practically all the provinces, and from the Mayor of Montreal, Westminster, Maisonneuve, Ottawa, Toronto, Regina, Charlottetown, Halifax and Edmonton. The institute has 3,000 members and Mr. Bragg is confident as many as 400 will come to Canada next year.

The August number of the Church Extension, the official organ of the Church Extension Society, of which Rev. Dr. Kelly, formerly of Charlottetown, is the founder and president, and to which reference was made in these columns recently, contains excellent photos of the new Chapel Car, St. Peter, taken at the time of the dedication ceremony. Besides several splendid views of the car there is shown a photo of Rev. Dr. Kelly preaching the dedication sermon on the rear platform and other dignitaries of the church and the society are prominent in the views. The interior and exterior views, while in themselves of an excellent order of merit, do but mean justice to the magnificence of the car and its expensive fittings and appointments.
