Repair Work.

One of our great specialities

Our business has been so great for most few months it has been almost impossible to turn out our orders on time. The question naturally arises, what is the reason of so great a rush? The reason is plain, our plant is fitted throughout with the latest Modern Machinery and employing none but first class workmen. We are in a better position to turn out work in a satisfactory manner than any other establishment on P. E. Island.

We have the facilities and know how to execute the work.

Give us a trial and be convinced of the merits of our work.

THE ARMY OF THE HARVEST.

Manitoba's call for 20,000 recruits for her army of harvesters has sounded out to the ends of the Dominion, and the response has been prompt and general. Yesterday the Island contingent of about five hundred men went forward, fine stalwart fellows, doubtless the equals in brawn of any similar number that will be assembled on the prairies. The railways give them cheap and quick transportation and within a very few days they will be at work in the broad wheatfields of the West.

The Island is famous for its fertility and grows fine crops of food-stuffs for man and beast. None the less the broad expanse of the wheat acreage in Manitoba will be a revelation to those of our young men who go West for the first time. No doubt in this instance as on previous occasions, a number of those who go to aid in the harvest may be tempted to remain and settle there. Those who do so will make the best of settlers and of citizens. Our best crop in the Island is our crop of men and women—"the crop that never fails." These we give freely wherever they are needed, whether to aid in extending British liberty in South Africa, or in gathering the harvest of a western Province. But peaceful industry is better than war. It will be more congenial work to harvest grain than to shoot misguided Boers.

The new champion trotter Cresceus at Columbus covered his first half mile in 50 1/2 seconds, which was also the fastest half mile ever trotted. The fact that a half mile has been trotted in less than a minute gives hope that the two minute mile, towards which horsemen have been bending their efforts, may soon be attained. Only two and a quarter seconds remain to be overcome. It may be that Cresceus may yet make a mile in two minutes, as he has already commenced to break his own record. A generation ago the same of speed was 2:40.

Spelling reform from time becomes the subject of discussion in the magazines and newspapers. As is usual when a reform is proposed there are extremists who would change everything and others who would change nothing. Both are wrong. All living languages must necessarily undergo a gradual change. Who would think of spelling all the words in the English language as they were spelled by the best authorities in Chaucer's time? And Chaucer dates only half way back to the days of Alfred. But a sweeping change such as is now proposed by the radical advocates of phonetic spelling is impossible, simply because the great mass of the people will not adopt it. Most men and women will go on spelling through the term of their natural lives in the way they were taught to spell when at school.

The national debts of the nations of the world now make a total of about $31,000,000,000, or ten times the sum the nations owed a century ago. The greater half of this startling increase has been incurred within the half century past. In some cases the debts have been incurred in part for useful purposes. Thus Germany owns most of its railways, and two thirds of the railways in Russia are owned by the Government. War and warlike preparations have been, however, the chief causes of the national debts. It is the greatest national debt in the world—$5,000,000,000, and every man, woman and child in that country pays on an average $0.28 a year for interest. No other than the Anglo-Saxon nations show any disposition to reduce their national indebtedness.

The Patriot in trying to play the role of an advocate of prohibition without offending the illegal liquor sellers finds the task difficult. In the effort it sometimes becomes ridiculous and frequently incoherent. But it dares not break with the liquor men, with the B. C. at their head, for they, in sooth, have been a very present help in time of elections. It finds relief therefore in abusing THE GUARDIAN in terms originally coined in the barroom and which did duty in the Patriot columns a year or so ago when it was the license organ. This is quite amusing in its way and if the liquor men are pleased we are in no way offended.

MEDICAL SCIENCE ADVANCES.

It is no more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and recovery the only cure for piles. Today it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and unnecessary to operate for a disease which is the more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be surprised, but the proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

OUR VICTORIOUS FIREMEN.

The Charlottetown Firemen who competed in the recent tournament at Halifax well earned the hearty and enthusiastic demonstration which greeted their return on Saturday evening. Their victories in the several contests have demonstrated their superiority over anything that the Maritime Provinces can produce. They have reflected honor upon their native Province and helped to make it more favorably known abroad. At the same time their achievements give us new assurance, if any were needed, that when hereafter the alarm rings out its note of peril they will do all that alert, strong and skillful men can do to save the lives and property of our citizens. THE GUARDIAN bids the victors a hearty "Welcome Home."

S S Convention at Bideford.

The prevalence of the forest fire kept many from the afternoon session. Yet a number of the S. S. Workers gathered in the Bideford Methodist church at 3 p. m. The President of Tyne Valley S. S. Association, Mr. J. Boates presided at both the afternoon and evening meetings.

The following schools were represented: Bideford—Methodist—Robert Hayes, John Grigg, Miss M. Hayes and others. Tyne Valley—Presbyterian—Miss M. Brown, Miss Stewart, Mr. J. Forbes, Springhill (Union) Mr. L. Moore. Mount Pleasant—(Union)—Chas. B. Stewart, and Mrs. Stewart. Lot 14—Presbyterian—Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery.

There are nine schools in this District and seven of them are evergreen. President Joseph Boates reported that he had visited all the schools of the district except two and he stated that there was a marked improvement in the manner of conducting the school and in the mutual interest between classes and teachers. He urged parents to become more interested in this great work.

The Field Secretary then spoke of the growth of organizations, and of the improvement along several lines, and particularly urged the keeping of the schools open all year. The week day schools do not close and it ought to be easier to run a Sunday School, for both parents and children are supposed to attend the latter.

EVENING SESSION.

A large audience came to the evening session. Rev. Mr. Chapman, the new pastor, officiated and led the opening devotional services.

The President gave a very energetic address explaining some of the benefits derived from these conventions.

Ritchie Elliot (Lic) then led in prayer.

Miss Stewart of Tyne Valley then read a splendid paper on the subject: "The teacher's Relation to the class."

The teachers should carefully and prayerfully preach each lesson before teaching it. Emphasis was put upon the teacher's example which should always be in keeping with the truths of the lessons.

A solo was then rendered by Miss Hunter of Tyne Valley which was much appreciated. Miss Millie Brown then gave a reading "The Absent Teacher" This was a good article and well read.

After a selection by the choir, Rev. A. E. Chapman spoke feelingly of his interest in Sunday School work. He emphasized the object of this work that is to bring souls to Christ and train them in Christian knowledge and life. We urged the people to be enthusiastic in this all important work.

Miss Hattie Gordon then sang a solo which added to the pleasure of the meeting.

Ernest Weeks of temperance fame on being called upon by the President spoke earnestly of the need of inculcating temperance principles in the Sunday School. Mr. Weeks is now organizing Juvenile temperance societies in this part of the Province. The Field Secretary occupied the remainder of the time speaking of the value of the Bible to the nations that use it and the necessity of studying it as a means of Christian growth. The questions which were handed in were answered by the Field Secretary and all felt that the meeting had been productive of good.

CORN TEMPER.

Just as trying to the nerves as temper excited by other causes. Haven't you heard of Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor? Mount Allison Institutions

Mount Allison after a period of unusual success as a concert soloist in England, Germany and America and teacher in La Grange Female College, Professor Wilson is an Englishman, and gained his musical education in England and Germany, graduating from Leipzig Conservatory. A student, performer, composer and teacher, he is highly recommended by his professors, having attained, according to Herr Weidenbach of Leipzig "an eminent grade of musical proficiency." Professor Wilson is highly esteemed in St. John, N. B. where he was for some years connected with the Davenport School and the Mission Church. At Mount Allison he will teach piano and organ and the theory of music. The study of harmony will be as previously under the direction of Dr. Archibald, who has charge of the violin department. Dr. Archibald received his training at Mount Allison Conservatory, and has since studied under some of the most illustrious teachers in Germany.—Boles and Butler of Berlin, and Schuster of Strasburg. Doctor Archibald carried on extensive mathematical research at Harvard, where he obtained his degree of M. A. and again in Germany where he obtained his degree of Ph. D. With his musical studies at Mount Allison he teaches geometry and trigonometry in the Arts Department of the College.

Miss Farr of Cambridge, Mass. succeeds Miss Higley as teacher of vocal music. She studied with A. J. Hubbard of Boston, and with the illustrious Vannini of Florence, Italy. She is an artist with a voice of wide range, pure clear tone and very expressive. Five other teachers of piano and voice, who have pursued extensive studies here and abroad, afford opportunities to students which cannot be excelled within our own country.

The prestige of the Arts Department was established years ago in St. John when the Owens Art Collection had its home there. In 1894 this remarkable collection was moved to Mount Allison and a beautiful building, the Owens Museum of Fine Arts, erected. In this Museum are galleries adorned by casts from the antique, reproductions of some of the most famous paintings of the old masters. In the classrooms is found every device for the study of painting and drawing. There is no finer collection nor more commodious building in this country for such study.

This department of the college is presided over by Professor Hammond, R. C. A., well known as an exhibitor in the Paris Salon, the London Academy, and leading art exhibitions of America and Europe. Professor Hammond is at present climbing the mountain summits of British Columbia, finding new inspiration and fresh subjects for his canvases in their grand scenery. With Mr. Hammond are associated as teachers of painting and drawing Miss Ethel Olgen and Miss Bessie McLeod, the latter of whom is present pursuing a special course at the Chase Art School in New York.

There is an inter-change of interest between the Ladies' College and the University and Academy which is mutually beneficial, young ladies desiring a business training find every opportunity at the Commercial College connected with the Academy; young women students for the degree of B. A. find a happy home in the Ladies' College; young men studying in the Academy or University find opportunities for musical and art study open to them; and between the teachers and students of the different institutions and departments there is a healthy social intercourse.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the importance of the influence of the home life of the Ladies' College. In the dining hall and reception rooms the students mingle freely with the family of the principal and with the teachers in a simple unrestrained companionship that creates confidence and establishes the feeling that rules and regulations are not inflicted penalties but only observances to bind all in a more harmonious union, since all tends toward the highest good of all. In the large gymnasium the ample tennis courts, and the large park stretching below the College is every opportunity for exercise and the Sackville breezes are proverbially health-giving as the bright faces of the students attest. Physical culture is a definite feature of the work at the College and the surrounding country invites walks in summer and snow shoeing and skating in the winter. For study, recreation and development of happy useful womanhood the Ladies' College at Mount Allison affords every opportunity.

For the masses not the chosen BEN TLEY'S Linctant is the family medicine chest. Price 10 and 25c.
