AGRICULTURAL WASTES

The dairy industry of this province has for many years past been a source of not only large revenue but of soil fertility as well.

Of late years, some farmers, taking advantage of the high prices, have undertaken to manufacture their own butter, thus saving the factory expenses, milk hauling, wages, etc.

This is a serious loss to the province and to the farmers and the only preventative is to patronize the factories as before.

EGG DAYS

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Prince Edward Island Hospital are asking for contributions of eggs from the farmers and poultry men of the province for the use of the hospital.

A few dozen eggs each from the many who can afford to give them will be but a slight sacrifice for the givers, but will aggregate a very great boon to the hospital and to those whose misfortune it may be to require its services.

CRITICISM

The critics, like the poor, we shall always have with us. It has been said that there are three classes of poor, namely "God's poor, the Devil's poor and poor devils."

purpose of finding fault or of doing an injury—paralleling the Devil's poor; and there are those who criticize something they know nothing about—like the poor devils.

Criticism with a view to correction and improvement is not only wholesome and helpful but necessary for the betterment of society; for the elevation of community standards in morals, in taste, in appreciation.

To criticize justly and at the same time to safeguard the rights of all concerned, is perhaps one of the most difficult of undertakings. Take the case of an ordinary theatrical performance. By "ordinary" we mean the class of play that is neither wholly good nor bad, that by one half of the audience is declared to be "one of the best that ever happened" and by the other half as vehemently declared to be "rotten."

Where vulgarity in any form enters into the performance, a thing fortunately unknown in this city, it should certainly be severely censured, even although, conceivably, such vulgarity might tickle the palates of one-half the audience.

The wise critic never forgets that his personal opinion cannot be the unanimous opinion of the audience. He may be bored but his neighbor is delighted; he may not be "in the spirit" and the performance may jar upon him, while the majority of his neighbors are having the time of their lives.

THE NEW SUBMARINE VENTURE

The appearance of enemy submarines off the United States coast need not be taken too seriously, says an exchange. The undersea boats can scarcely accomplish 3,000 miles from home what they have failed to do 300 or 400 miles from their own bases.

From this continent alone upwards of 1,000,000 men and enormous quantities of munitions and foodstuffs have been successfully carried across the Atlantic. The Hun submarines are not sinking half as many vessels today as they were a year ago.

NOTES

Col. Roosevelt has paid a high tribute to the late James Gordon Bennett and the patriotic work done by the New York Herald. Yet the Colonel never had a harsher newspaper critic. Every man who was a friend of the Allies is a friend of Roosevelt's.
