O'Brien) has a rare specimen of equine beauty and symmetry. Arthur Ramsay has another good one from a mother of the "June" family with Bud Axworthy parentage. Fred Rennie has another beautiful Clegg foal. Rev. John Sheen, Elmsdale, has a large-well-formed Lusty Frisco chestnut colt 3 years old, as pretty as a picture. Apparently Elmsdale horsemen aim to uphold their reputations in the "Sport of Kings". — K

EXTENDED CONGRATULATIONS — A number of the friends of Mr. Hugh F. Morrison, gathered at his home in Summerside on Tuesday evening to extend congratulations and west wishes on the anniversary of his birth. Mrs. L. M. Callbeck made a presentation of several lovely gifts to the honored guest, who fittingly replied, thanking all for their thoughtfulness. Mr. J.E. Campbell, in a brief address, after congratulating the guest of honor, said he was pleased to be present at such an enjoyable gathering and hoped all would meet again at a similar function next year. Out of town guests included Mr. David Walker, New Annan, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Lowther, Carleton. Mr. Lowther's birthday falls on the same date Refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Jean MacFadyen, assisted by Mrs. Ernest L. Walker. —S.

—PRINCE COUNTY PROGRESS — A motor car drive West from Kensington to Elmsdale and Alberton on the paved highway when one is in a receptive and appreciative mood, is exhilarating and edifying to a high degree. Architectural beauty and landscaping is noticeable at once in the many new residences and places of business built recently on the western limits of Kensington. Summerside is also expanding its limits rapidly. The roadside on both eastern and western approaches is well festooned with beautiful tourist cottages. People have faith in the future of tourist business. Land is being secured for the building of tourist cabins at suitable places along the highway. Three individual acres were sold recently off Roy Tanton's farm near St. Eleanor's village at $500.00 per acre. (Tempores mutans). The village of St. Eleanors is also building up. A large commodious new school is being built. The high smoke stack of Curran & Briggs Contracting Co. and the many subsidiary buildings, give the plant the appearance of a small New England industrial town. A beautiful baseball diamond has been made by the company on recently filled-in ground. More swampy ground is in process of being filled in. Portage and Richmond villages scintillate in new coats of paint. Perhaps the greatest improvement in farm dwellings and roadside cottages is between McAusland's gravel pit and Elmsdale. Some real classy buildings have arisen there within the last two years. Alberton, one of the oldest towns in the province, is not "mushrooming" like some new Western towns and cities, but is making steady, solid progress. It has a new hospital, rink and very imposing new garage and a new theatre. For recreation and diversion, Harry O'Brien, proprietor of the local race track, plans to stage matinee races weekly. The bridges and "fills" on the Western Road with their posts and rails painted white and red present a gala appearance. One would require the aesthetic sense of a Longfellow or Bliss Carman to do justice to the effulgent panorama of emerald green fields and profusion of apple blossoms en route. If some of our poets or poetesses or lyricists could only write something to equal "Killarney" or "Loch Lomond", this island could be made as famous and romantic as any of the European immortals. — K

Conservative Meeting At Malpeque Hall

On Monday evening, June 6th, a largely attended meeting greeted Mr. John H. Price at Malpeque Hall.

Mr. Archibald Woodside capably presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers in a few well-chosen words.

Mr. J.F. Arnett was the first speaker and showed plainly to the electors that Mr. MacNaught's claim for credit in having the decks of the car ferry planked and obtaining reduced truck rates on the car ferry was unfounded, as different boards of trade had been pressing such matters for some years.

He also dealt with the important part that women fill at election time, and afterwards commended the remarks of Mrs. Neil Simpson, who spoke forcibly on the importance of women's organizations assisting their candidates.

Mr. John H. Price, Progressive Conservative candidate, very effectively dealt with the problems and issues of the day to the attentive audience. He stated among other things that the claim that the Summerside airport would be closed if the Progressive Conservative Party was elected was unfounded.

In view of the fact that he was a veteran of two wars, he knew the necessity of maintaining an adequate air force, so naturally he would be the last to suggest anything but the enlargement of the present airport as it was ideally located for military purposes.

He also dealt particularly with the transportation difficulties and freight rate handicap that the farmers and fishermen of this Province suffer from.

Mr. E. H. Strong and Mr. H. F. Morrison made a few appropriate remarks when called upon by the chairman.

The meeting closed with "God Save the King", and three cheers for the candidate "Jack Price."

Air Force Day Observed At Summerside Station

Yesterday was Air Force Day at the R. C. A. F. station, Summerside, and the commanding officer, Wing Cmdr. G. R. F. Gross, the officers and men went all out to entertain the visiting public. Unfortunately the weather was unfavourable with a cold wind blowing and intervals of drizzle. Nevertheless, a large number of people visited the station to see the ground and air displays. Visitors were welcome in any part of the station and wherever they went airmen were on hand to explain the uses of equipment and to answer questions.

On entering the station people were given a very helpful pamphlet which gave the program of activities for the afternoon and evening and a map of the station with locations of the ground displays marked. Much interest was taken in the aircraft on display which included a Dakota, Lancasters, a Canso and a Helicopter. The Dakota shown was one used for training navigators and much interest was shown in the training equipment aboard. The Lancaster on display was the Zenith, which is well known to the people of this Province for the many long distance flights which it made during the past winter and spring. This aircraft also made history a short time ago by being the first R. C. A. F. plane to fly over the North Pole.

Various other items of equipment were also on display, including safety equipment, armament, Celestial navigation trainer, Link trainer, and many training instruments in the Air Navigation School.

The flying display commenced at three o'clock and consisted of "fly pasts" by various types of aircraft, singly and in formation. There was to be a paracnute jump but this was cancelled due to the high winds. Perhaps the item of the program of most general interest was the flying display put on by the helicopter, which climbed and descended vertically, remained motionless in the air and travelled backwards, forwards and sideways.

In the evening a large crowd attended a dance in the drill hall to the music of Mart Kenny and his orchestra under the joint sponsorship of the station and the Y's Men's Club.—S.
