ABEGWEITS WIN OPENING GAME OF ISLAND LEAGUE

Summerside Shut-Out 7 To 0.—Tom McFarlane, Backed Up By Splendid Fielding Hurls One Of Best Games Of His Career.

Tom McFarlane, hurling for the Abegweits, in the first game of the Island baseball league covered himself with glory last evening on the local gridiron by allowing one long hit and at the same time shutting Summerside out by a score of 7 to nil.

Outsmarted, but not outplayed the visiting Western ball tosser gave the local fans an exhibition of the popular outdoor game that will live long in their memories; each and every member of the nine exhibited a calibre of ball that before the series is over will prove a sore thorn in the sides of the locals.

Outsmarted, because the Abegweits used all the fine points of the game in their offense and defence, but not outplayed, as Summerside showed all the earmarks of a real ball club. When his meant runs they failed miserably, with the result that runners were left on the sacks to die a natural death.

The fielding and throwing behind the Abegweits last night was good to witness; each and every throwing fielder showed pep and precision in every inning. Summerside fell down in the pinches.

Bufling hits in the first and sixth the locals showed the real worth that wins ball games. They hit when clouts needed runs; hence the one-sided score.

Monkley, mounding for the visiting team, did not show the control he had manifested his previous appearance here; he seemed erratic and at times bewildered, especially when runners crowded the sacks.

The attendance at last evening's game was fair, but if the same brand of ball is handed out in future fixtures, it looks as if the stands both in Summerside and Charlottetown will be crowded at all coming games.

Loughran Will Fight Boston Boy

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Evidently prepared to relinquish his light heavyweight title, Tommy Loughran today signed articles with Tex Rickard for a 15-round bout against the Boston Lithuanian, Jack Sharkey, at Madison Square Garden, October 5. Sharkey's signature has not yet been obtained, but his manager, Johnny Buckley, is to confer with Rickard here tomorrow.

After Gene Tunney's retirement, Loughran announced he was ready to abandon his 175 pound crown and cast his lot with the heavyweights.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7.—Joe Wright, Jr. of Toronto was defeated by his Henley rival Dave Collett in their Olympic single sculls heat today. Wright was three lengths behind. He spurred gamely but lacked the punch. Only two hours before he had paired with his Argonaut Club mate, Jack Guest to defeat the French doubles crew by four lengths.

W. CHESTER S. MCLURE DONATES TROPHY TO C. Y. C.

Mr. W. Chester S. McLure has very kindly donated a Trophy to the Charlottetown Yacht Club. This donation on the part of Mr. McLure is deeply appreciated by the club and especially by the members who are sailing boats, all of which will no doubt do everything possible to get possession of this beautiful piece of silverware.

ANOTHER FAIR CANADIAN ATHLETE

Miss Jean Thompson (above) of Fenwick, won points for Canada in the 800 metres race. The event was taken by Froula Rodke of Germany and Swedish girl third, Jean Fanny Rosenfeld, her team mate, as fifth. Miss Rosenfeld had never trained for this event. So fast she gained points, beat the accepted world mark for women.

SPORTING COMMENT

"Protest" J. Mulqueen and Bob Robinson seem to have aroused the indignance of many of their ill-timed indulgence in bombast and verbosity over future Olympiads, and by their threats to withdraw Canada from participation at Los Angeles. Their loquacity in protesting referees' decisions, and their lack of diplomacy, has left a bad impression with John W. Public who are interested more in the results of the games than any other factor.

The delight of Canadians at unexpected, though well deserved, successes is being marred by the wrangling, and swashbuckling indulged in by the reflected glory retinue with the athletes. The Toronto Globe points out that Canada through its representatives, entered six protests most of them trivial, and so far have outyanked the Yankees in this regard. The old custom of shaking hands with your opponent win, lose or draw has apparently been lost sight of.

The Globe says: "From this side of the ocean it does appear that no protests should have followed the winning of the hundred metres by Miss Robinson, or the disqualification of Myrtle Cook or George Hester. Judges' decisions at all times should be upheld. It is hardly conceivable that incompetent men would be appointed to fill these important positions. Like everybody else, being human, they may err but so long as they err honestly there isn't any reason to raise objections. In the meantime it is hoped that win or lose, there will be no more claim of unfairness by Canadian officials."

It may be that Mulqueen and Robinson are trying to make a grand gesture of nationalism, and to justify their position at the Olympiads. Just now one Percy Williams, another Joe Wright, bulk so far in importance through accomplishment over what any of the officials say, that the latter might as well stay quiet. They are only giving Canada an undesired reputation in the sporting realm. Actions speak louder than words" as usual.

Apparently the thoughtless remarks of those in authority with the Canadian team are going to have a record. Amateur officials all over the country tired of the domination are muttering. The next session of the A. A. U. of C. promises to be a snappy affair. If amateur officials hereabouts stick to their guns, and are not awed by the utterances of the overlords of amateur sport there should be plenty of action.

The Dominion Government each Olympiad gives a grant which is ostensibly for the purpose of paying the way of Canadian athletes. To dissipate the uncertainty, to dispel the doubt, and to set at rest rumors it would be well if the Olympic committee published in the Canadian press when they return, an itemized statement giving a list of the expenditure in connection with the trip. None of the officials should object to this, and certainly there would be no protest from the athletes. This is something for the amateur mandarin to bring forward. It will serve also as a guide for future Olympiads.

"Stiffer competition" is responsible for the poor showing of United States athletes in the track events at the Olympiads, was the opinion expressed by General Douglas McArthur, official chief of the United States delegation to the Olympiad. "Our boys train on faster tracks and make faster time as result," the General pointed out, "consequently, when they meet the Europeans on the latter's own tracks, their advantage is reduced. I think this is the best team we ever had, but I also think the opposition is better in every respect."

Federation Has Debate On Girls' Events

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7.—Controversy of whether women's track and field events should be retained on the Olympic program, was brought to the floor of the congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation this afternoon. A majority report from the council favored retaining the female nine features limited to not more than six events provided the grueling 800 metre race be eliminated, but sharp opposition immediately developed. A prospective fight over the issue was postponed until tomorrow, after Finland's representatives had moved to abolish the women's events.

ONLY MARITIME SHOT

Sgt. G. G. McLennan, of the P. E. I. Highlanders, the only Maritime Provinces marksman included in Canada's 1928 Bisley Team, which failed somewhat collectively, but did well individually. He is seen ready to disembark at Montreal from the Cunarder Ascania, aboard which many of the returning riflemen returned to Canada July 30, happy in spirits and anticipating the Connaught meeting in August, when next year's team will be chosen. McLennan is of Charlottetown, 30.
