Eminent Scientist Ends His Life

(Special to the Guardian)
 OTTAWA, Ont., July 19.—Suffering from a nervous breakdown and believed to be physically ill, Dr. Charles M. Anderson, Ph. D., director of the Division of Laboratories, Provincial Department of Health, Toronto, and member of a well known Ottawa family, ended his life by cutting the jugular vein in his throat with a safety razor blade at a summer cottage at Burritt's Rapids, Ont., about 9 o'clock this morning. His death shocked the entire countryside around Kemptville and neighborhood, where Dr. Anderson had spent his summer vacations for the past five years, and where he was widely known and most popular.

SOURIS LINE ROAD SOUTH—Answered roll call with "Where would like to travel." It was decided to have an ice-cream festival as a means of raising funds. Some papers were read and enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Allan J. McCormack.

Controlled by a thumb lever, a new reel for anglers retrieves the line automatically after it has been cast.

—Mrs. Augustus Boudreau has returned to her home in Lower Montague, after attending the Hope River tea party and spending a few days at the home of Mr. Wendal Murphy.

—DEGROS MARSH—Quite a number of the farmers, Messrs. J. D. Johnston, John J. McCormack, Hugh McPhee, Eugene Delarey, Innocent Campbell, James Aeneas McPhee and Duncan McDonald, had portions of their land surveyed last week by Mr. McDonald of Hermanville who was busy in the settlement all week. Though the farmers here are all largely engaged in growing seed potatoes, they are not neglecting the cow, for a branch receiving and pasteurizing station of the Central Creamery, Souris, is now established here, and is two days in the week taking quite a lot of cream.

—At the luncheon, the speaker of the evening was Mr. Reuben MacDonald, Editor of the Patriot, who gave an address on "Will it Pay the Club to Advertise the Canadian Grenadier Guards Band." Mr. MacDonald replying in the affirmative submitted arguments to show why advertising pays, dealing first with the value of advertising in general and with the coming band concert in particular. He took it for granted that the Club, composed of alert, progressive and intelligent young business and professional men, would be unanimously in favor of advertising. He pointed out that as a distributor of intelligence, commodities, ideas in general, state policies, political propaganda and as a contributor to national wealth and public welfare, advertising is playing an increasingly important part in the world's activities today. He touched on the many forms advertising may assume, enlarging on the value of the newspaper, as

A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Gyro Hon. H. Frank MacPhee, in eloquent and appreciative terms, the motion being seconded by Henry Fitzgerald. Mr. Macdonald making fitting acknowledgment.

The reports of various committees appointed in connection with the band concert were presented. Chief of Police Birtwhistle, one of the guests, stated that he would see that the traffic regulations with respect to parking cars in the vicinity of the Arena Rink, would be handled. You have a good thing, he said, on July 30 should be written and handed. In this internationally famed band. Let its merits be made as widely known as possible, through various advertising mediums.

Teams will be selected for the sale of tickets for the concert and the Gyros are determined if possible to have the Arena Rink filled to capacity.

Figures of animals in a new target for rifle galleries drop out of sight when struck by bullets and reappear when the bull's eye of a ring target between them is hit.

GRAND RIVER.—The July meeting met at the home of Mrs. John S. McKinnon. Eleven members and six visitors were present. It was decided to have men grade school grounds, before fencing is put up. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. D. McLellan.
