PEARLS, and wore a bridal veil and a corsage bouquet of bridal roses. The bride was attended by Miss Euphemia MacPhail, who was neatly gowned in blue silk, while the groom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Gordon Taylor. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. McLeod. After the ceremony all sat down to a very dainty supper. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of grey fox furs. The bride received many useful presents, which goes to show the popularity of the young couple. The evening had been very pleasantly spent in games, music, singing. The leading entertainers of the evening were Professors Shaw and Smith. Mr. and Mrs. MacRae will leave the latter part of this month for their future home in Empress, Alta. A host of friends join in wishing the newly wedded couple a happy journey through life.

IN MEMORIAM MR. MALCOLM C. MARTIN. This passed away at Heatherdale on Feb. 8th an aged and respected citizen Mr. Malcom C. Martin at the age of 92 years and 10 months. He was born in Scotland in April 1825. He emigrated to this island about the year 1840, along with his widow mother, one brother, and four sisters. Some years later he married Miss Catherine MacLeod of Orwell Head, rearing a family of four sons, and nine daughters. At the outbreak of the Fenian Raid, he with a number of his fellow citizens, offered their service to their Queen and was accepted. He was appointed Captain, beloved and honoured by his men. They were on the eve of embarking when they received word that the raiders were quelled. Having given his heart to his Saviour, in early life, he was ordained Elder in the Presbyterian Church, Orwell Head in which office he served faithfully and well. The funeral service was conducted by his Pastor, Dr. McEwen at the house and church. His remains were laid to rest at Orwell Head cemetery, beside his wife who predeceased him by thirteen years, and at the time of his death was in the pastoral charge of the Presbyterian church at Bridgetown. His wife is a sister of William Duff, of Lunenburg, and of the wife of Rev. J. A. McGlashen, of Dartmouth. Two children survive, one a lieutenant attached to the Halifax depot battalion, and who has seen service overseas, the other a daughter, on the staff of one of the departments at pier 2, Rev. Mr. Simpson was one of the best known ministers of the Presbyterian church and was most highly esteemed by many friends and all who knew him.

REV. F. C. SIMPSON. HALIFAX, March 18.—Word was received yesterday from Bridgetown of the sudden death of Rev. F. C. Simpson, minister of the Presbyterian church at that place. He was preparing for the church service to be held soon afterwards when he dropped dead. Coroner's inquest was held on the cause of death. Mr. Simpson had been apparently in his usual health and the death was entirely unexpected, though his physician had informed him previously that he was liable to an attack such as that to which he succumbed. He was about 55 years old. Mr. Simpson came to Halifax from Hull, England, many years ago, and though then a member of the Methodist church he entered the Presbyterian College, was admitted a member of that church and became one of its clergymen. He was minister at Bridgewater, Souris, P. E. I., and Douglastown, N. B. For a time he was on the staff of the Presbyterian Witness, and at the time of his death was in the pastoral charge of the Presbyterian church at Bridgetown. His wife is a sister of William Duff, of Lunenburg, and of the wife of Rev. J. A. McGlashen, of Dartmouth. Two children survive, one a lieutenant attached to the Halifax depot battalion, and who has seen service overseas, the other a daughter, on the staff of one of the departments at pier 2, Rev. ISLAND SOLDIER HEARD FROM. Private D. A. McDonald of Riverton, P. E. I., writes as follows to his mother: Seaford Camp, England, January, 30th, 1918. Dear Mother,—I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know that I am in good health and hoping to hear that you are the same. I would like you to send me a good box as I haven't heard or received any thing from any body yet and it makes me feel pretty bad not to get any mail. I know that I should have written sooner but it won't happen any more for I intend to keep in touch with you for you are the only and best friend I have. If you can find Joe's address let me know if he has gone to France as I would like to write to him when you send me the box try and send me some towels for they are awful hard to get over here. Would like to see you and see any of the boys too. I will chip in enough to get me a box and if they do that you can tell them that I will be pleased to get it and I will not forget them. Say where is Jarvis Campbell this winter. Let me know his address. I heard he was in Charlottetown and let me know where Marks Duff is. We expect to sail the first of March. Well I guess I will have to close for the want of news. I remain your loving son. PTE. DANIEL McDONALD, 236 Barr, Coy. B, No. 101-121, Seaford Camp, England.

MRS. ROSELLA WARREN. Their passed peacefully away on March 15th 1918 after an illness of four months at the home of her daughter Mrs. B. Proffitt Kensington. Mrs. Rosella Warren widow of the late Edward Warren, Burlington, leaving a family of five daughters and three sons. Mrs. James B. Proffitt, Kensington, Mrs. J. M. Clark, Halifax, N. S., Mrs. Oscar Johnstone, Long River, Mrs. Melville Donald, Phipps, Sask., Mrs. Herbert Greive, Vancouver, B. C., Willard of Kensington, Bert of Burlington and James E. at present in hospital in Buxton, England, also two sisters and one brother. Mrs. Sarah Crozier, Malpeque, Mrs. George Mountain, Darnley and Mrs. John Donald, Seaview. The funeral took place on March 18 from the Presbyterian Church Kensington where a large circle of friends assembled to pay their last respects to one who was loved by all with whom she came in contact. The service at the church was conducted by Revs. Goodwill, Neish and Sellar and was very impressive. The remains were laid to rest in the Geddle memorial cemetery beside her husband who predeceased her five years ago.
