fillment of Confederation pledges, including increased subsidy, the restoration of our representation at Ottawa, and provision for continuous communication with the mainland.

B.N.A.A. Amendment

Originally the Province was represented in the Federal Parliament by six members, but under the Quebec ratio agreement the number fell to four and was likely to fall still further when Premier Mathieson presented the Island's case before the Inter-provincial Conference of 1913. He subsequently appealed to the Federal Government, armed with an effective brief. With the assistance of his colleagues, notably the present Mr. Justice A. E. Arsenault, he succeeded in getting the British North America Act changed to provide that our representation in the House of Commons should not fall below the number of our Senate members, namely, four.

Premier Mathieson also pressed for reopening of the provincial subsidy question at Ottawa, and succeeded, in 1913, in obtaining an annual increase of $100,000. This greatly relieved the straightened financial resources of the Province at the time, and proved the forerunner of other successful appeals, based largely on grounds covered by the Mathieson Government's brief.

Obtained Car Ferry

It is to the Mathieson Government, assisted by Mr. A. A. MacLean, K.C., and the late Mr. Donald Nicholson, our representatives in the House of Commons at the time, that we owe our present car ferry steamer, for it was through their able presentations at Ottawa that the Borden Government undertook this project and carried it through. The car ferry was followed by the widening of our railway lines to standard gauge and the establishment of a system of improved road building with federal assistance.

Another reform undertaken by Premier Mathieson was the introduction of the secret ballot. Up to 1912, there was open voting for election to the Provincial Legislature. In accordance with its election pledge, the Mathieson Government passed the Franchise Act, and in 1915, for the first time in the Island's history voters were free to make choice of their representatives in secrecy.

Introduced Automobiles

Another important reform introduced by the Mathieson Government with the support of many outstanding Liberals headed by the late Mr. L. E. Prowse and Senator Prowse, was to abolish the ban on automobiles. The move was opposed by the official Liberal Opposition and in the 1915 campaign this became an exciting issue. When the votes were counted it was found that the Government had been sustained, though with a greatly reduced majority.

The first fruits of the 1915 Conservative victory were seen in the introduction of an aggressive health policy. The Dalton Sanatorium, erected and equipped by the late Lieut. Governor Dalton (then a member of the Mathieson Government) was followed by the introduction of a war and health tax for the dual purpose of financing the Province's war expenditures and providing ways and means of maintaining the sanatorium. This institution, which proved of great value at the time, was later leased by the Dominion Government as a hospital for returned soldiers.

In June 1917, on the retirement of Sir William Wilfrid Sullivan as Chief Justice, Premier Mathieson was chosen to succeed him. His chief lieutenant in the cabinet, Hon. A. E. Arsenault, became Premier and Attorney General in his place.

In 1919, on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales, now Duke of Windsor, Chief Justice Mathieson was Administrator of Prince Edward Island, and he and Mrs. Mathieson entertained his Royal Highness at Brighton Villa.

Maritime Claims

An outstanding authority on the subject of Maritime claims, it is not surprising that in 1934 Chief Justice Mathieson should have been chosen unanimously by the three Maritime Provinces to represent them on the Royal Commission on subsidy settlement. This commission, headed by Sir Thomas White, recommended subsidy increases to each of the Maritimes, the increase to Prince Edward Island amounting to $150,000 annually. But in addition to the recommendations embodied in the majority report of the commission, Chief Justice Mathieson filed a memorandum of dissent, in which he emphasized the importance of "fiscal need as a guiding principle in determining the amount of subsidy which provinces are entitled to receive from the Federal Government in support of provincial governments and legislatures."

The same principle of fiscal need was subsequently recognized in the Rowell-Sirois report on Dominion-provincial relations, and is actually the basis of much of the revenue we receive from Ottawa at the present time.

A few years before the war, Chief Justice and Mrs. Mathieson visited the Old Country. This may be said to have been his first real vacation since entering public life, and his wide reading and knowledge of Empire affairs prepared him to enjoy every moment of it. On their return, at a banquet given in his honour by the Law Society, the Chief Justice gave an illuminating address on his experiences and impressions overseas.

Chief Justice and Mrs. Mathieson's son, Capt. David L. Mathieson, is also a member of the legal profession and a member of the firm of Bell and Mathieson. He volunteered for overseas duty at the outbreak of the war, as a Lieutenant in the Artillery. He has remained on active service in Great Britain, having been promoted to the rank of Captain some time ago.

SEVEN YEARS GROWING

Served In Many Theatres Of War

Flight Sergeant Bertram Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cameron, Hampton, attached to the Royal Air Force in action overseas, is at present spending a 14-day leave at home. He has seen action in Europe, Malta, Egypt, India, El Alemein, and other theatres of war.

He was home on furlough last Christmas when he was a Sergeant but now he has returned as a Flight Sergeant Air Gunner instructor. He has been posted at points in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia since returning to Canada.

Enlisting in 1940, the Island airman was soon after sent to England where he was attached to the R.A.F. He was there during the Nazi air blitz and saw plenty of action.

Flt. Sgt. Cameron spent five months in besieged Malta. Following this he went to Egypt and participated in the battle of the clouds for about three months before moving on to India.

One of his most narrow escapes came when the plane in which he was flying from Gibraltar to Malta was shot down. Along with his other companions in the aircraft he spent six hours in a rubber dinghy floating about the Mediterranean. Fortunately, the airmen were sighted by a friendly aircraft about 90 miles from Malta and picked up.

During his stay in Malta, Flt. Sgt. Cameron witnessed day and night bombing. Part of his job was to assist in beating off these marauders and the toll of planes shot down told the story of how well this was accomplished by the young sky fighters of the United Nations. His pilot was W. O. Barlow of Wellington.

Transferred to Egypt and comparative quiet after Malta, he spent about a month at harassing the enemy and was then sent to India. After giving a good account of himself in the Far East, the young airman returned to Egypt and was on hand for the general advance on El Alemein. His second last flight in this area was made on his birthday and he narrowly escaped crashing when the aircraft was badly damaged by enemy fire.

Flt. Sgt. Cameron then returned to England where he took an instructor's course before returning to Canada.

Legislature Hears Request Re Prohibition

A large delegation from the P. E. Island Temperance federation waited on the Provincial Legislature yesterday afternoon to ask that a limit of 50 prescriptions for alcohol a month be imposed on medical doctors. The request was based in part on the result of the vote taken at the plebiscite in 1940. The delegation was led by Mr. J. H. MacFarlane, Bedeque, president of the Federation. The meeting with the Legislature was the result of special assembly of the Federation held yesterday morning at the Y.M.C.A. Various parts of the Province were largely represented. The motion to meet the Legislature was made by Mr. Thomas Moyse, Bedeque, and seconded by Rev. Geo Tilley, Cavendish.

Resolution

Following was the resolution presented to the Legislature:

"Whereas the people of the Province in the plebiscite of June 25, 1940 urgently desired the Provincial Government to limit the number of prescriptions for alcoholic beverages to 50 a month for each medical doctor;

"Whereas it is apparent that a number of doctors are issuing such prescriptions in number far in excess of any medical requirements and are to that extent thwarting the intention of the Prohibition Act, as well as leaving more conscientious fellow-practicioners open to suspicion;

"Whereas the increased difficulty experienced by bootleggers and others in securing illicit liquor will probably lead these gentry to endeavour to replenish their supplies from vendors' stores by means of doctors' prescriptions;

"Whereas other narcotic drugs, not in general anti-social use, have almost completely supplanted the narcotic, beverage alcohol, as medicine;

"Whereas the beverage use of alcohol is everywhere related to serious crime, to the spread of disease, particularly social diseases, and to moral, spiritual, and social degeneracy;

"Whereas the Prime Minister has asked the Canadian people to reduce their consumption of liquor during the war emergency;

"Therefore be it resolved that the P. E. I Temperance Federation strongly insist that the number of prescriptions issued to each doctor be limited to fifty (50) per month, and that the prescriptions be not transferred from doctor to doctor."

Those speaking to the resolution were Mr. J H. MacFarlane, Mr. Heber McPhail, Clyde River, Mr. Hugh Campbell Graham's Road, Miss Louise Callbeck, Bedeque, Mrs. A.E. Todd, North River, Miss Edith Sterns, Charlottetown, Mr. Ralph McCaull, Bedeque, Rev. R.E. Shaw, New Glasgow, Premier T.A. Campbell in replying stated that the limitation of prescriptions was not a matter of government policy; however a private member could bring a resolution before the House.

Thee sessions of the Temperance Federation were held yesterday. The morning session was devoted largely to the limitation of the prescriptions Matters discussed at the other sessions included Federation financing, temperance education, the question of bringing a resolution or amendment to the Prohibition Act before the Legislature.
