

Woman's Realm :- Social and Personal :- Fashions :- Literature

A Morning Smile

"The minister certainly preached a scathing sermon on vanity and extravagance."

For The Cook

OLD-FASHIONED DATE CAKE

Pour 1 cup of boiling water over 1 cup chopped dates. Let cool. Cream 1 tablespoon butter with 1 cup brown or white sugar.

The new French "stocking-cap hats" are a story in themselves.

AUCTION SALE

I am instructed by Mrs. John A. McKenzie to sell on the premises, Harrisville, on Tuesday, September 9th, at one o'clock p. m., her farm consisting of 100 acres land with buildings, situated about two and a half miles from North Wiltshire.

FOR SALE

Excellent 50 acres, Charlottetown Royalty. Good dwelling and out buildings, young orchard. With or without ranch.

Red Cross Line Furness

Freight and Passengers. Arrive Ch'Town and sail for St. John's. Sept. 12. Sept. 16.

Professional Cards

Miss Roberta G. Spencer Fellow Trinity College of Music London, England Organist and Choir Director

AUDITORS Accounts Audited. Income Tax Returns Prepared. A. E. MacNeill & Co. 127 Grafton Street

Mark R. McGuigan, B. A. BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC. MONEY TO LOAN

McLeod & Bentley J. A. BENTLEY W. E. BENTLEY, R. G. Barrister and Attorney-at-Law

McDonald & McPhee B. A. J. A. McDONALD, H. F. MCPHEE BARRISTERS, ATTORNEYS, ETC. MONEY TO LOAN

Stewart & Lowther J. D. STEWART, K. C. N. T. LOWTHER BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, ETC. MONEY TO LOAN

The Wife-Ship Woman

By Hugh Pendexter AUTHOR OF 'KINGS OF THE MISSOURI', 'THE GRIZZLY', 'A VIRGINIA SCOUTER', ETC.

(CONTINUED) And monsieur did me the honor to call me tete de bois! Are you indeed mad, my friend?

CHAPTER VI

I Keep an Appointment Without incidents of interest the packet anchored at sundown in the mouth of the little Bayou St. Jean, or Tchoupaie, as it still was known to many settlers.

Keeping close to the bank and under shelter of the overhanging willows, I worked along slowly until the splash of a paddle ahead sent me into hiding.

"The good saints!" he ejaculated, swearing his canoe with a swirl of his paddle and making toward me, "Hal-lo! Who calls to me from the dark in the voice of a white man?"

"I see I must do my own errand," I broke in. "When my friend believes evil of me he does evil in doing my business."

AMHERST, N. S., Sept. 4.—One of the most attractive weddings of the season took place this afternoon in Christ Church, Rev. Horace E. Dibble officiating, when Mary Jean Lamy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey H. Lamy, of Amherst, became the bride of Frederick Walter Hyndman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Eardley Hyndman, of Charlottetown.

Advertisement for Dr. Watson's Ale & Stout Materials, featuring an illustration of a man and a glass of ale.

Is a Woman's Duty To Husband Or Children? Dorothy Dix

"Generally Speaking, the Better a Woman Does Her Duty to Her Husband the Better She Does it to Her Children, for in That Way She Holds Her Home Together," Declares Dorothy Dix

Is a woman's duty greater to her husband or to her children? I think that a woman's duty is incomparably greater to her children than it is to her husband.

In a word, when a husband falls in his duty to his wife by that same token he cancels her obligation to him; but no matter what a woman's obligations to her duty to them never ends because her responsibility never ceases.

She brought them without their volition into the world. She not only thrust life upon them but she shaped their lives. She gave them their heredity because she picked out their father for them as well as sending her own blood through their veins.

I see no reason why a childless woman should endure the martyrdom of marriage that is a hell on earth, nor why it is her duty to put up with insult and abuse from a brutal husband who misuses her.

I think, however, that most women overdo their duty to their children and underdo their duty to their husbands. They sacrifice their husbands needlessly and causelessly to their children, which is one of the main reasons why in the end so many husbands default on their marriage obligations.

It generally begins with the first baby, when a young woman is so anxious to be a good mother that she forgets that she has any obligation to be a good wife.

But with the advent of the baby only too often all of this is changed. She lets herself get slouchy and sloppy because baby pulls at her clothes and musses her hair.

Now these cases, and they are plentiful, of the sacrifice of the father to the child are unnecessary. It does a child no good for a mother to sit and watch it sleep, while her whole happiness and the ultimate welfare of the child depends upon her watching her husband and seeing that he does not stray away from his own freestone in search of the society his wife is too much absorbed to give him.

Many a wife forgets that, while she can hire a reliable woman to take care of her children there is no woman she can trust to take care of her husband, and while she is in the nursery holding little Johnny's hands some vamp is generally holding hands with her husband.

Furthermore, this process of making father a goat for the children does not end with the cradle. It continues. Women justify themselves in shutting up their houses and going away for two or three months at a time in the summer and leaving their husbands alone in the city by saying that they do it for their children.

The children must have country air and coolness and room to play in, and so the mothers, calmly hugging this alibi to their breasts, go forth to summer hotels with their offspring and then feel themselves grievously ill-used because their husbands finally rebel at being sacrificed to the children and console themselves after the fashion of summer widowers.

And there are other mothers who enslave their husbands for their children and who literally work their husbands to death to give their children fine clothes, fine cars and a thousand frills that they cannot afford.

If it comes to a showdown between the two, a woman's duty to her children is greater than it is to her husband, but it is not her duty to sacrifice her husband needlessly to her children. Generally speaking, the better she does her duty to her husband the better she does it to her children.

HYNDMAN-LAMY AMHERST, N. S., Sept. 4.—One of the most attractive weddings of the season took place this afternoon in Christ Church, Rev. Horace E. Dibble officiating, when Mary Jean Lamy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey H. Lamy, of Amherst, became the bride of Frederick Walter Hyndman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Eardley Hyndman, of Charlottetown.

The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the church to Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Walter MacNutt, of Charlottetown. She presented a charming appearance in a dress of white lace with pearls and train, and carried a nosegay of roses. The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Mills and Miss

MRS. CHARLES HOWARD JACOBIE MRS. IVAN B. DAHL

"HANDS.. lovely as on our Wedding Day thanks to Lux in the dishpan"

HANDS lovely as a bride's! Everywhere... east, west, north, south... young wives exclaim over a new-found secret... a way to cherish the beauty of their hands in spite of home-making cares.

"Using Lux for dishes and other soap and water tasks has kept my hands as dainty as when I was married, 6 years ago," writes Mrs. Ivan B. Dahl.

Many other wives, like Mrs. Charles Howard Jacobie, Mrs. Carolyn Pierson, also give Lux the credit for hands lovely as a girl's, after years of house-keeping!

Among hundreds and hundreds of young wives interviewed in 11 big cities, 96 out of every 100 are using Lux!

Wisely, they follow the advice of beauty experts, who say—"A wife who uses Lux in housework has hands lovely

Hands lovely as a bride's for less than 1¢ a day

... LUX for Dishes ...

Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto—Soap-makers by appointment to their Excellencies the Governor-General and Viscountess Willingdon

What the Fashionable are Wearing

Illustrated Dressmaking Lesson Furnished With Every Pattern

By Annabelle Worthington

Advertisement for a dressmaking lesson, featuring a detailed illustration of a woman in a long, patterned dress and a smaller illustration of a pattern piece.

Etiquette

Q. How should an unmarried woman sign her letters? A. With her full name; and in writing to strangers she prefixes "Miss."

BEEF EXPORT RESUMES

The current Live Stock Market Report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture carries an item of more than ordinary interest relating to the resumption of the export cattle trade with Great Britain after a lapse of more than a year.