

Heavenly - and so Simple!

SELF-LAYERING FRUIT MOLD

- 1 package Strawberry Jell-O
2 cups hot water
1 cup fresh orange sections
1 cup banana slices
1/2 cup broken nut meats

JELLO What's found only in Jello? That "locked-in" Jell-O Flavor!

WEDDING A wedding of interest to their many friends and relatives in N. B. and P. E. I. was solemnized in the Parsonage at Bayfield, N. B., November 20th, when Rev. Theodore Ross, united in marriage Gladys Carita Tremblay, daughter of Robert Tremblay and the late Mrs. Tremblay of Cape Spear and William Frank Silliker, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Silliker of Cape Turmentine, N. B., formerly of Charlottetown, P. E. I.

wedding supper was served to a number of invited guests. The dining room was decorated in pink and white and a three tier wedding cake centered the table. Mrs. Myrtle Allen presided and the Misses Enid and Gloria Capman, Helen Doodran, Myrtle Biddington, Betty Cerette and Iva Wood served. Mrs. E. E. Riley of Dartmouth, sister of the groom was present at the wedding.

MACDONALD - HORTON The marriage of Miss Ida J. MacDonald of Shamrock to Mr. Claude Horton of Village Green, took place on Dec. 1 at Zion Mansie By Rev. Carlyle Webster. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Angus M. MacDonald and looked very lovely in a dress of blue silk crepe, trimmed with gold and hat to match. Her bridesmaid was Mrs. Earle Garnet who looked nice in a smart dress of brown silk crepe. The best man was Mr. Earle Garnet, after the ceremony they drove to the home of the groom where supper was served by Mrs. Lane, sister of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Horton will reside in Village Green where Mr. Horton is a prosperous farmer.

WRITE Marie Roy FOR HER ADVICE ON ALL YOUR COOKING PROBLEMS. Marie Roy is now ready to offer all homemakers her personal advice on problems relating to economical home cooking and kitchen planning.

REGAL FLOUR IT'S WONDERFUL FOR ALL YOUR BAKING. YOU'LL REALLY ENJOY BAKING WITH REGAL FLOUR. Marie Roy says, "For tempting, nourishing bread... for light, fluffy, delightful cakes... for pastry that is crisply tender and flaky... you can always depend on Regal Flour."

CENTRAL GUARDIAN

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of a new way may be inserted at five cents a word, strictly payable in advance. JIMMIE'S TAXI Phone 525. CRASWELL for Photographs. CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE. AT YOUR SERVICE - Arncliffe Coal Co., Phone 2498. HOWARD McINNIS' Film Footwear at 175 Queen Street. ISLAND VIEWS hand colored, Craswell Studio. FOR THOROUGH CLEANING and glazing job on Fur Coats. Money back guarantee if not satisfactory. Betts Fur Salon.

ARRIVING DAILY - New Fur Coats, latest styles. We sell only the best from well known firms such as Model Fur and West Canadian Fur Co. Betts Fur Salon, Phone 1693.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPER Special. With every two books purchased we will give a gift of one (corresponding price) free. Island Book Room. Open evenings now till Christmas.

THE PERCENTAGE Allotment Committee of the Prince Edward Island Musical Association is prepared to receive applications from rural schools wishing to compete in the festival next May and requiring help in financing instruction in music. A minimum of six weeks instruction is required. Applications should be sent to G. D. Steel, Chairman Percentage Allotment Committee, 308 Euston Street, Charlottetown, not later than January 15, 1949. Upon receiving these applications, the Chairman will forward a questionnaire to be completed and returned to him without delay.

Personals Mr. James Hennessy, Kent St., will be the recipient of many hearty congratulations from his many friends today on the observance of his 80th birthday. Mr. Hennessy although retired the last few years is very active and a well known cabinet-maker.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. CATHERINE CURLEY The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Catherine Curley, Freetown, were sorry to hear of her death on Oct. 24th in her eighty-second year. Although in ill-health for some time, it was not until the day of her death that her loved ones realized the end was near. She received the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church of which she was a devoted member from Rev. R.P. MacDonald.

Ellen's Diary (Continued from Page 2) circumstance to do, stealing away out of sight of the onlooker, trusting all the time that he that watching might overlook her careless ways-and forgive? Or would she, having been pressed for time on Saturday, whip up quickly a bit of a cake, thus disturbing her peace of mind and the hallowed day as well? No indeed! She would have no need of the like for there everything would be in good order, and due preparations have been made to keep the Day holy.

And he? scarcely ever missing from his place in the old Kirk, would he consider polishing his shoes on Sunday? Or whistle other than a sacred air, in a manly art so melodious, and fast dying out? Or even dust the car? Or carry an armful of bedding-straw to the stock? Only should extreme circumstances arrive, and I doubt then whether a conscience nurtured in the ways of the Kirk since childhood would allow any lapses, and certainly these would not be entered into thoughtlessly. It was fitting indeed that on this St. Andrew's night these two were so honored. Of Scottish folk they come, their forebears mainly of Highland descent of a people that knew how dearly bought often was their privilege to worship, and who drew their conceptions of their Maker sternly—a God that was indeed "jealous and demanding" of His children, though finally just and ready to forgive. Coming to the A's snug and always hospitable kitchen, there is a worn bible on a sill and on the organ in "the room" the book is opened at a favorite hymn or psalm. Some day the like of these folk will all have gone from the earthly scene—those of the staid old school, whom to know is to admire and respect. And what of the new generations, with altogether different ideas of spiritual things and certainly worshipping a more tolerant God?

Grand-daughter's cold, becoming

IT WAS MORE THAN A MONEY MATTER WITH ME

You feel that warm welcoming bond of friendship just as soon as you become a member of I.O.F. This means much more than the "money security" of planned insurance and health benefits. This means more than the knowledge that this is an organization where profits go to members in fraternal benefits and dividends. The insurance is safety guaranteed; but the fellowship and co-operation between members and their families is a precious thing.

INDEPENDENT FORESTERS

A. C. McCarville, District Manager Box 211 Phone 2686 205 Grafton St., Charlottetown

Drake-Barwise

On Wednesday, November 10th, a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barwise, 67 Prince Street, Charlottetown, when their eldest daughter, Jeanne Irene, became the bride of Samuel Finlay, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Drake of Pownal. Rev. D. W. MacPherson of St. Peter's Bay was the officiating clergyman.

The ceremony was performed beneath an arch decorated with fern, autumn flowers and wedding bells. To the strains of the Lohengrin's Wedding March the bride, entered the room on the arm of her father who also gave her in marriage, looked lovely in her full length gown of white moire taffeta cut on princess lines with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the hand. Her fingertip veil fell from a halo headdress and she carried a bouquet of Better Time red roses. Her only ornament was a three strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

She was attended by her sister, Betty, attired in pink taffeta also cut on princess lines with cap sleeves and carried a bouquet of pink roses. A niece of the bride, Fredda Thompson as flower girl, was gowned in a full length dress of yellow taffeta and carried a nosegay of yellow baby's breath.

Mr. Alex MacRae capably performed the duties as broomsman. The bride's mother chose a light blue ensemble and a corsage of pink roses while a sequin-trimmed black frock was worn by Mrs. Drake, whose corsage was of yellow roses.

Miss Amy Barwise, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music and during the signing of the register sang sweetly "I'll Walk Beside You" accompanied on the organ by Mrs. John MacEachern, sister of the groom.

Following the service delicious refreshments were served and the bride and groom cut the daintily decorated wedding cake in the customary manner. Friends and relatives assisted in serving.

The young couple left the next morning on a motor trip to points of interest in the Maritime. While in Halifax they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan MacAusland. For travelling the bride wore a grey serge suit with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered several miscellaneous showers where the richest valuable and useful gifts. Many gifts of china, silverware and cheques testified to the popularity of the happy couple.

A wire of congratulations was received from Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Drake of Rabbit Lake, Saskatchewan. A host of good wishes accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Drake as they are residing at Pownal where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

COAL OUTPUT HIGHER

Britain's total coal output this year to the end of September was 154,576,499 tons - 10,000,000 tons more than the first nine months of 1947.

less annoying to her, has spread to other members of the family, so that this evening Jeanne of all is still free of it. "You're-a-chookin!" grand-daughter laughed this morning, catching me in an annoying spell of sneezing, and James boasted as he said, "if he only had time to think of it!" has also contracted it. Though as we agree "we're not at all heart-sick" a term which when used to apply to either human or animal about the place, is indeed a sorrowful word. The rainbow "at morning" did little to dispell the dampness which has attended many of November's days. Though "there never was a better November than this" James commented of it to-night when company sat with us. Here's the last of it and no frost yet to stop the plow. Just think of that! It's remarkable, that's what it is, remarkable. We may live many a year and not see such an open Fall as this one has been. And so, we move into the magic month which to the like of Jamie and other youngsters has been a long time in coming but is presently here. Now in truth, "not many shopping days before Christmas."

Until tomorrow... Diary... Good-night...

Gifts for Your Family Tree

For Father, Mother, Sister, Brother, Grandpa, Grandma and Baby, our Departments are loaded with appropriate gifts.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS

- SHIRTS SNOW SUITS GLOVES
TIES COAT & BONNET COATS
ROBES CRIB COMFORTER BLANKETS
SWEATERS SKIRTS BED SETS
SOCKS PYJAMAS BLOUSES
MUFFLERS DRESSES COSMETICS

S. A. McDONALD'S

IN MEMORIAM

MR. THOMAS COOK

A link with the pioneer days of Cape Wolfe has been severed with the passing of Mr. Thomas Cook whose death took place at his home on Oct. 8 after a lingering illness which he bore with Christian patience never complaining always looking on the bright side of life.

The greater part of his long life was spent on the old Cooke homestead. His parents Henry and Elizabeth MacNeill Cooke belonged to pioneer families of West Prince it was on their land that the first Methodist Church in the West was built around about 1858. The minister being the Rev. Mr. Wilson. The church has been removed but the cemetery is still used. Mr. Cooke had a charming personality and was a favorite with young and old. He remained a pleasant companion. Taken a keen interest in the affairs of the day, and was always ready to entertain with interesting stories of the past. His memory was remarkable for his advanced years, had he lived one month longer he would have reached the age of 93.

But though enjoying life he was not forgetting that there was an end to this earthly journey. This was not a gloomy thought. He believed that to depart and be with Christ was far better.

He was one of the oldest members of Cape Wolfe Methodist Church, now United, and was never absent from service while health permitted.

He was the last surviving member of a large family of brothers and sisters. The funeral service which was largely attended was held from his late residence on Sunday afternoon conducted by the Rev. Mr. John Sheen, a former pastor. The Hymns and scripture were his favourites and chosen by the deceased, "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me."

IN MEMORIAM

MR. THOMAS COOK

A link with the pioneer days of Cape Wolfe has been severed with the passing of Mr. Thomas Cook whose death took place at his home on Oct. 8 after a lingering illness which he bore with Christian patience never complaining always looking on the bright side of life.

The greater part of his long life was spent on the old Cooke homestead. His parents Henry and Elizabeth MacNeill Cooke belonged to pioneer families of West Prince it was on their land that the first Methodist Church in the West was built around about 1858. The minister being the Rev. Mr. Wilson. The church has been removed but the cemetery is still used. Mr. Cooke had a charming personality and was a favorite with young and old. He remained a pleasant companion. Taken a keen interest in the affairs of the day, and was always ready to entertain with interesting stories of the past. His memory was remarkable for his advanced years, had he lived one month longer he would have reached the age of 93.

But though enjoying life he was not forgetting that there was an end to this earthly journey. This was not a gloomy thought. He believed that to depart and be with Christ was far better.

He was one of the oldest members of Cape Wolfe Methodist Church, now United, and was never absent from service while health permitted.

He was the last surviving member of a large family of brothers and sisters. The funeral service which was largely attended was held from his late residence on Sunday afternoon conducted by the Rev. Mr. John Sheen, a former pastor. The Hymns and scripture were his favourites and chosen by the deceased, "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me."

IN MEMORIAM

MR. THOMAS COOK

A link with the pioneer days of Cape Wolfe has been severed with the passing of Mr. Thomas Cook whose death took place at his home on Oct. 8 after a lingering illness which he bore with Christian patience never complaining always looking on the bright side of life.

The greater part of his long life was spent on the old Cooke homestead. His parents Henry and Elizabeth MacNeill Cooke belonged to pioneer families of West Prince it was on their land that the first Methodist Church in the West was built around about 1858. The minister being the Rev. Mr. Wilson. The church has been removed but the cemetery is still used. Mr. Cooke had a charming personality and was a favorite with young and old. He remained a pleasant companion. Taken a keen interest in the affairs of the day, and was always ready to entertain with interesting stories of the past. His memory was remarkable for his advanced years, had he lived one month longer he would have reached the age of 93.

But though enjoying life he was not forgetting that there was an end to this earthly journey. This was not a gloomy thought. He believed that to depart and be with Christ was far better.

He was one of the oldest members of Cape Wolfe Methodist Church, now United, and was never absent from service while health permitted.

He was the last surviving member of a large family of brothers and sisters. The funeral service which was largely attended was held from his late residence on Sunday afternoon conducted by the Rev. Mr. John Sheen, a former pastor. The Hymns and scripture were his favourites and chosen by the deceased, "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me."

Fall Fashion Look. You'll need a New professional permanent wave. As the basis for chic hairdos. You'll find our staff well trained and skillful in giving short hair Permans. Sunnyside Beauty Parlor 111 Grafton Street Phone 612