SUPREME COURT.—In the Supreme Court yesterday before Mr. Justice Hazard, the case was called of the Prince Edward Island Fox Exchange and Realty Co., Ltd., vs. John R. Oliver, an action for the recovery of $1,400 being deposit paid on contract by plaintiff to defendant for purchase and sale of foxes. Counsel were: for the plaintiff A. C. Saunders and C. D. McCallum; for defendant, K. J. Martin and R. H. Rogers. The case was still in trial when the Court adjourned at 5 o'clock until this morning.

SCHOOL WORK.—A public examination was conducted at the Tryon Consolidated School on Thursday. Mr. Campbell, Superintendent Education, inspected the work of the Principal, Fred Bell, while Inspector Boulter reviewed the work of Miss Gamble's department. Practically all the children enrolled were present, and by their quick and intelligent replies to questions in the various subjects did credit to their energetic and conscientious instructors. Mr. Campbell declared himself well pleased with the work which he had time to review, and hopes to give the school a more thorough examination in the spring. He was also well pleased with the sanitary aspect of the school, referring to the new hardwood floors which were put in at Christmas. Regrettably only a few of the parents and friends of the children were present.

SKY-SCRAPERS.—TORONTO, Jan. 23.—By reason of the hazard involved in the steel construction of "sky-scrapers" the Workmen's Compensation Commission has fixed the assessment for this class of work at $7 per $100 of wages paid. Liability Company Insurance for the work has been $4.72. The various construction companies hold that the increase is serious, but have entered no protest owing to the boards' assurance of readjustment of rates based on the first year's experience.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—To-day the meetings of the Charlottetown Teachers' Institute will be held in the School Board office at 4 p.m. Mr. Henry Smith, member of the School Board, will read a paper on the Progress of Public Schools in Prince Edward Island. All are invited.

HOCKEY TO-DAY.—The Connaughts leave by special train this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Summerside to play the Crystals the first League game in Summerside this season. The Crystals will likely be the same as last game and the Connaughts will be the same with the exception of J. Dougan replacing Reddin at centre. A large crowd is expected to go.

THE MAIL.—The ice-boats left Cape Tormentine yesterday morning at 7.30 o'clock with 52 bags of mail and arrived at Cape Traverse at 12.5. The boats left Cape Traverse at 1.15 with 38 bags of mail and arrived at 11.45. The special with the mail on board reached here at 2 o'clock and left again for Cape Traverse at 8.45 last evening.

HOME GUARD.—No. 3 Company Home Guard after drill on Friday night last, unanimously voted that the thanks of the company be tendered Capt. W. B. Prowse for his generosity in donating Home Guard pins to the members of No. 3. Good progress is being made in drill exercises. Plans for about an hour, but it is claimed by all that the drill is worth the effort for its own sake to say nothing of the opportunity of showing sympathy with the Empire in the struggle that is now going on. Home Guard cannot go to the front, give the Empire their support, but they can show their support afforded by an enthusiastic and successful Home Guard.

MARRIED LAST EVENING.—The marriage took place in Charlottetown last evening at 7 o'clock of Miss Minnie Pursey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pursey, North Rustico, to Mr. Reginald Fraser, Charlottetown, the ceremony being performed by Rev. George C. Taylor, pastor of Zion Church. The bride was becomingly attired in crepe de chene, with Irish point lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet hat with white ribbons. The couple were unattended. A substantial cheque was the groom's gift to the bride. They left last night by the mail special on their wedding trip, followed by the best wishes of their many friends. They will return in about two or three weeks to reside in Charlottetown.

BONSHAW.—Bonshaw Debating Club held their first regular debate on Saturday evening and, notwithstanding the storm, was largely attended, and the meeting proved extremely interesting. The question of Farmer versus Mechanic was discussed and both sides of the subject were handled in a very creditable manner. The speeches of the leaders, Mr. Aeneas McManis and Mr. F. D. McNevin, were particularly excellent and were loudly applauded. The farmer won by a majority. Owing to the disagreeable weather and the bad roads on Saturday, the Club have decided to hold a public meeting again on Saturday next. Mr. Lawson Crosby will move "That the franchise should be extended to women." and, needless to say, the debate will be a lively one. A programme of choruses, songs, etc., will also be presented. Everybody welcome.

METHODIST CIRCUIT, CORNWALL.—Sunday, Jan. 24th at Cornwall, Wiltshire, Kingston and Cornwall, large congregations gathered to listen with absorbing interest to the utterances of Rev. W. D. Wilson, Field Secretary P. E. I. Alliance, as he read a sermon of "righteousness, temperance and judgment to come." All were deeply impressed and numerous pledges to help forward legislation calculated to ensure the prevalence of righteousness founded on temperance principles and practices. All interested will be glad to know that they have another opportunity of hearing him at Methodist Church, Kingston, on Thursday evening, January 28th, when, with other speakers from the city, these matters will be dealt with. The choirs of the three churches are worthy of special mention for their spirited rendering of appropriate music.

NEW PREMISES.—Attention is directed to the advertisement of Messrs. Currie and Murnaghan, plumbers and heaters, in this issue. This enterprising firm has just removed to new premises at 71 Queen street, where they have more room and facilities for handling their rapidly growing business. On the first floor is a large and attractive show room, where samples of their goods and of their work may be inspected. On the second floor are the work rooms, which are suitably equipped with all modern conveniences required in first-class heating and plumbing. The third floor is used as a store room, where a large stock of material is always kept on hand. Those needing first-class work in this line, promptly and well done, should call and talk the matter over with Messrs. Currie and Murnaghan.

THE PRINCE EDWARD.—The attendance at the "Prince Edward" Theatre yesterday was large, as was also the programme of entertainment presented. "Unto the Third and Fourth Generation" was the headliner, showing the heredity of drink. The ravages of drink and how the cure descended from generation to generation were graphically told in this excellent story of two reels. How it is finally overcome and entirely climaxed makes a happy ending to a most entertaining and beneficial photo-play. "Waifs" was a drama in one part, containing a pathetic story showing the misery of an independent spirit that would not yield to forgiveness. But it also terminates pleasantly. Yesterday's instalment of "The Trey O'Hearts" was far in advance of anything yet shown. It was thrilling from start to finish, and its setting was unique. A feature of the episode were the performances of a trained pony used in the production, whose actions were surprising and almost equal to those of a human being. The other three instalments of this serial will be eagerly awaited. "An Enemy's Aid," drama, and "Getting Even and an Innocent Victim," a side-splitting comedy, were the other numbers of the pictorial programme, and with the above made up a programme of rare enjoyment. In the rendering of "Loch Lomond," Mr. Huskins did full justice to this beautiful Scottish ballad, receiving tremendous applause.

A SPLENDID DEBATE.—The biggest subject of the season was discussed by the smiling crowd, who greeted the Mutual Improvement Society of Tryon since its reopening this year. The subject, "Resolved that war is essential to the development of civilization," was opened by R. Metcalfe, who was the sole speaker on the affirmative. He spoke of his hatred of war, but that it was necessary. The ideals of good men cannot prevail without the sword or freedom over tyranny. He quoted crises when war was the only thing to save freedom and ideals, for instance, the time of Sir Oliver Cromwell and the emancipation of slaves in the Southern States. Fred Bell led off on the negative, quoting equally as great crises as the execution of Charles I., when the freedom ruled without bloodshed. John and the Magna Charta and the deposition of James II. He contended that more civilization has been brought through such works as the Ten Commandments and Shakespeare, and lives such as Lincoln and the great English statesmen; than in all the fallen empires the world had known. He spoke of the rapidly advancing civilization of China being brought about by Christianity rather than by the curse that the war between England and China was to the latter. Mr. McPhee also spoke on the negative, showing that the maintenance of the soldiers in times of peace is a great standard of morality and that the times of war they burn, plunder and devastate to such an extent as to make their undersirable citizens when they leave the army. He spoke also of the decay of great nations, such as Spain, Rome and Carthage, through war. Mr. Metcalfe in his summary of his arguments gave a great "come-back" and convinced practically everyone that war is essential to civilization. The next debate is to be an open debate, resolved that mixed farming is better than specialised farming.

B.Y.P.U. LECTURE.—At the Baptist Church last night Dr. Mays gave a very interesting lecture on Self-Sacrifice. "We say that self-preservation is the first law of nature; but the first law of nature is self-sacrifice. The centaur, which is half man and half horse, strength for its wonderful ears gathers flowers; then it dies and a new plant springs up. This century plant sacrifices itself for the good of the next plant. The gentle dove risks its own life to save its weak and helpless. The fierce antelope risks its own life for the fierce antelope of the herd. The lion risks his life for the protection of his young. She will die to save them. This willingness to die for her offspring is the highest law of her nature. The tigress will protect her young as long as she lives. This is the law which has been implanted in every creature in nature. The first law of every creature is self-giving rather than self-preservation. There are examples on every side of those who give their lives for something which they deem more precious than life. Wherever we go, wherever we look, we consider truth above life. The missionaries are daily examples of those who are not looking for number one, but for number two, the other fellow. They are not seeking how much they can get out of the world, but how much they can get into it. The joy of bearing the cross is the highest in the world. The law of self-sacrifice is the first law of Jesus Christ. He is the Author of this first law of nature. Jesus Christ chose to die that others might live." A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Rev. Z. L. Fash, and seconded by A. F. Webster, for the able and interesting lecture given by Dr. Mays. The B.Y.P.U. will be anxious to hear Dr. Mays again. Mr. Ross Bethune presided. It was a delightful evening. Next Sunday evening Mr. J. P. Gordon has charge of the programme, and it will be unique. All services are open to the public.

SUPREME COURT

In the Supreme Court yesterday morning Mr. Justice Hazard delivered the following judgment in the case, tried before him last week without a jury, in which W. F. H. Montgomery, of Amherst, to recover $4,000, price of a pair of foxes sold and delivered to MONTGOMERY v. DOUGLAS. This was an action to recover the sum of $4,000, the price of a pair of foxes sold by the plaintiff to the defendant. The case was tried before me without a jury a few days ago. Practically the only question to be determined was as to the delivery. The contract of purchase at $4,000 was admitted by the defendant but it was claimed by him to be conditional on the foxes being placed in the Park Island Ranch. While it may have been arranged between the defendant and Lea, who acted as his agent for the purchase, that the foxes when purchased were to be placed in the Park Island Ranch in pens leased to the Barker Co., in which both the defendant and Lea were interested, the one as a director and the other as manager, the correspondence and acts of the parties, and the weight of evidence, shows conclusively in my opinion that it was not a conditional sale, and that the plaintiff had nothing whatever to do with the arrangements between the defendant and Lea as to the placing of the foxes in the said Park Island Ranch. The delivery was complete when Lea notified plaintiff in writing that he had taken possession of them for defendant. The point raised by the defendant's attorney as to the action not being properly brought, the animals or foxes being "fur nature" has no application in this case, these animals having been tamed or domesticated and while so under control were the plaintiff's property. A verdict will be entered for the plaintiff for $4,000, the amount claimed.

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.
Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss ESTHER A. FLOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

If Tea and Coffee Were Sold In Drug Shops

just as their drug, caffeine, is sold, would you but them? Wouldn't it bring home to you very forcibly, the fact that neither tea nor coffee is a food but a drug? Caffeine is a cause of indigestion, heart trouble, nervousness, constipation and kindred ills. Some persons are strong enough to drink tea or coffee without immediate harm, but many others are not. Anyone can avoid risking health by a change to
