A special meeting of the City Council was held Thursday afternoon, Nov. 22nd to discuss street paving.

Dr. Milton L. Hersey and Charles A. Mullin, C. E. of the firm of Milton Hersey Co., Ltd., Montreal, consulting engineers, were present and submitted the following report on the work done by the city in regard to street paving:

Charlottetown, P. E. I., November 22nd, 1921.

To the Mayor and City Council of Charlottetown, P. E. Island, Gentlemen:

We have today examined all of the Asphalt pavement laid in the City of Charlottetown, since you first retained us to work with you as City Engineer. Mr. Nicholson, on this phase of your municipal public works, in the past year. In a few words, our verdict is that we do not know any other City, which all things considered, has been done in this respect than has Charlottetown. In fact we are far from sure that we can even pick out one which has done so well.

Concerning the Asphalt Paving Mixture produced by your municipality, we find that it is equal to the best. The same mixtures are laid under our direction in Montreal and the other cities for whom we are Consulting and Supervising Engineers and Chemists; but a better plan has been adopted quite so uniform and regular a high grade mixture as yours. We have, in fact, tabulated the Charlottetown test and we send this tabulation to cities concerning the re-entrance of whose work we compare, to show the degree of uniformity that is possible, where the men doing it are sufficiently interested to follow directions closely. We especially do this where Contractors complain that it can't be done, as they are very sensitive to the competition of Municipal Paving Plants.

Concerning the cost of the work, which, according to the report of Mr. J. P. Nicholson, your City Engineer, is $1.06 per square yard of Asphalt Paving Wearing Surface, two inches finished thickness. You are not only well below our original estimates, but we do not know of any city in Canada which is doing work so cheaply; and this despite the fact that in setting the mixtures for you, we always consider quality first and economy second. Every ounce of the expensive ingredients that belongs in the mixture was put there; and far more than is ever used by any Contractor who is not under very rigid specifications and technical control. City paid labour has, of course, no incentive to short weight the City, as the analysis very well prove they have not.

Concerning your general Paving Policy for the future, we can only say, continue the work as you are doing it. The mixture you are laying is, practically waterproof, and will not rot in a hundred years; and, as time goes on, when under heavy traffic, some of it may get too waxy and greasy, you have but to take it up, rebake it, and relay it as at first. The sand, put on a vertized limestone, dust and Asphalts are practically indestructible, the actual wear is infinitesimal and receding and receding it restores the pavement to its original shape and smoothness. A regular pavement has stood in the City of Washington for forty years and is still in good condition, with very slight maintenance charges for local repairs.

It seems to us that the season of 1922 should see a large yardage of Asphalt paving, added to that already on the streets of Charlottetown. Of course you will never have a clean City until the side streets as well as the main streets are paved for the mud from the unpaved streets will always be tracked upon the paved ones; and there is another reason for preparing to do a large amount of work in 1922; unemployment. Not only is there a prospect that present residents of Charlottetown may need the work, but, with the general unemployment now found and threatening to grow worse all over the Continent. Some of the Charlottetown boys who have left home to wander, may be forced to return to the place of their birth to seek a livelihood, and you will wish to help these native sons as much as possible in their extremities.

We have said that your work was economically done. We are certain that even had you been willing to guarantee him a large yardage in one season, no Contractor would have undertaken to lay the Asphalt pavement surfaces which cost you, under Mr. Nicholson's direction $1.06 per square yard for less than $2.25 per square yard; for a Contractor must figure in besides a profit, a heavy overhead expense and risk that a city does not encounter. Your plant bought in 1919 will cost you between two and three times as much today; and you have already spent more than its original cost by not paying the Contractor profits and expenses stated above. Besides you have no lawsuits on your hands, as has the City of Halifax, from its recent paving contracts.

Charlottetown has handled her paving affairs in a very business-like manner, that is a pleasant contrast to the way in which they are being handled in other cities. Halifax for instance, Mr. J. J. MacKinnon, whom we first knew in the matter, acted so quickly upon our recommendation for a Municipal Plant, that it astonished us. He seemed to have a hearty support of your full body then, and we note that he still seemed to have it. From our experience with the way he has conducted the city's paving affairs, as Chairman of the Street Council, we feel that Charlottetown was fortunate in having him in that position at the time it became necessary for her to initiate a Street Paving policy.

Respectfully submitted,

REV. W. MALONE WELCOMED
There was a very pleasant social gathering in St. Peter's School room last evening. A large number of the congregation attending the St. Peter's Cathedral services were present, and those who were friendly members of other congregations including the pastors of St. Paul's and Zion churches, the Rev. Mr. Raymond and the Rev. Mr. Taylor.

On the part of St. Peter's congregation a warm welcome was given the Rev. W. Malone, Priest in charge, recently arrived from Barbados; and hope was expressed that there may be under his influence and direction co-operation in good works, not only in the part of members of St. Peter's congregation, but with the members of other City Churches.

Mr. Malone responded eloquently and expressed the hope that mutual trust and confidence would increase and prevail throughout the congregation and those with whom it is connected.

The Rev. Mr. Raymond and the Rev. Mr. Taylor, voiced their good wishes briefly and eloquently.

Studied Old Prints, Digested Legends, Dug Up Gold Chest

BRITAIN, Nov. 24.—The romance of the librarian of Ottendorf Herr Klop, who unearthed the gold treasure of a mediaeval pirate on an estate outside of a Hanover village, promises to have another chapter. It was at first supposed that treasure belonged to Klaus Stortebeker, a notorious pirate, who was hanged in Hamburg early in the fifteenth century, but further studies by Herr Klop lead to the conclusion that it must be the treasure of another pirate, and that the famous Stortebeker booty still can be found. The house near which the chest of gold was found buried under two feet of earth stands on the site of a former castle, and this castle was destroyed before Stortebeker began his lucrative raids on shipping between the ports of the Hanseatic League. Herr Klop became interested in searching for treasure while tracing his family tree. Among the archives he found so many references to buried treasure, and from old residents he heard so much legendary lore about it that he determined to make a close study.

He went through the records of various mediaeval castles and decided that one near Neustadt fitted all the references in manuscripts and legends. He made a design showing how the castle stood and chose the spot that seemed to him the most likely place to bury treasure. Then while alone he started digging and immediately struck upon a chest filled with gold coins. He removed a few pieces and then covered the chest again, thus being the only one who knows where the chest lies.

Herr Klop says he will not reveal its location until the owner of the estate promises him the legal tariff of his discovery. He is now pursuing his studies as to the whereabouts of the real Stortebeker treasure, and predicts that he will find it.

Probably the only two things that can kill the movies are industry and onions and the legislature never says a word about protecting the industry against the onions.

Japan Leading Double Life, Says Toyoda

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Japan is leading a double life. Such is the opinion of O. Toyoda, Imperial minister of railways of the island empire, who has been a visitor in Philadelphia. But the double life has no sinister meaning—rather a humorous one, for it is the product of the never-ending battle between the traditions of Nippon and the practicalities of the Occident.

Even old man High Cost of Living has invaded the Orient in quaint fashion, according to Mr. Toyoda, selecting the kimono as the prime object of his attack. Once the regulation dress of every respectable Japanese the kimono is being rapidly driven out of the islands by the American ready-made suit which in addition to being cheaper than the native garment, allowed the wearer to work unhampered by loose flowing folds.

Even the children are now hatched in rompers, overalls and other Yankee clothing, which gives the maximum amount of freedom in play, combined with ease of washing.

PREFER CHAIRS TO MATS.

"But it is in other phases of home life that the clash between the old and the new is being most severely felt," said Mr. Toyoda. "Many of the younger generation have gone to school and been engaged in business in Europe and America and become accustomed while there to sitting in chairs, thereby acquiring an aversion to returning to the Oriental fashion of squatting on a mat."

"As the younger person returning to Nippon will not squat, so it is equally one of the question for the older people to sit up straight in high backed chairs and preside at tables. The solution has been found in furnishing rooms to suit both generations which, although it separates the family at social functions is as suitable to the needs for jazz parties in one part of the house and dignified recreation in the other."

"The changes wrought by contact with the Occident have affected the family meal, as well, making it now practically impossible for a Japanese household to dine together."

Notice Re-obstructing Drains on Public Highways

The attention of the public is called to Section 65 of the Road Act which reads as follows:—

"No person shall obstruct or impede the water course of any drain draining any highway in order to facilitate his access from his property to such highway, and it shall be the duty of every owner or occupier of land fronting on the highway to see that such drains are kept open at the point of approach through any gateway, lane or other way from the property owned or occupied by him to such highway, and any offence against this provision shall be punishable by fine not exceeding ten dollars."

All Inspectors and Overseers are hereby required to see that the Act in this respect is strictly complied with.

STROUD TEA

In 1 lb. and 1/2 lb packages

beef, mashed potatoes, French pastry and other articles of diet not compatible with the frugal Japanese diet of rice, eggs and chicken combinations. Even tea that firmly-rooted institution of Japan we life, is being threatened by the introduction of coffee or more exciting beverages. Again, this leads to a split in the home, and necessitates the cook leading a double life, unless the family is wealthy enough to employ two chefs to meet the tastes of the older folks and the younger generation.

"In table service the conflict is again in evidence. Chopsticks for the older; knives, forks and spoons for the younger members are seen, as well as a variety of dishes and tableware. Soup is now consumed to two melodies in different languages. Not only has the "double-life" problem reached a point where it becomes serious in its social and economic aspect, but it forms one of the chief items in the upward march of the cost of living in the land of the Rising Sun."

"Your pastry will be light, fluffy and smooth if you use Borden's St. Charles or Jersey Milk with the cream left in." Look for the cow on the label.

TEX RICKARD IS DUBIOUS

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The cable advised from France announcing that Georges Carpentier had cancelled his bout with George Cook, scheduled to be held in London, Dec. 9, because he had suffered a physical breakdown, were discredited by Tex Rickard, the promoter believes the reports are grossly exaggerated, and that the French flash chose to cancel his agreement with the Australian boxer, he had some reason other than physical defects.

Rickard received a letter from Gus Wilson, the trainer of Carpentier, several days ago, in which Wilson reported Carpentier physically fit and told how the French champion was training for his bout with Cook. Incidentally, Wilson explained that Carpentier's right hand which he injured in his bout with Dempsey in Jersey City last July, is now entirely mended, and that he was using in freely during his training stunts with Battling Maroon.

"The stories that Carpentier was internally injured in the bout with Dempsey can be taken with a grain of salt," said Rickard. "I'm sure that Carpentier is O. K. and good

MOTIGUE BOUT

HALIFAX, Nov. 23.—A letter received in the city today from Al Lippe, manager of Jeff Smith, Bayonne (N. J.), says that all arrangements are complete for the McTigue-Smith bout on Dec. 11 and that Smith is to box Joe White in Montreal this week.

Young James was disturbed by the almost incessant yells of his baby brother.

"What is the baby crying for?" asked a kind soul, innocently, as man, bending over the perambulator.

"Oh, I dunno, he's always crying. I never know why one who has upon the dark side of life as he does," rejoined James bitterly.

"See here, Rastus," said the new arrival at the hotel, "do you mean to tell me that this egg is fresh?"

"It was when hit was laid, sah," replied the waiter.

"And when was that, pray?" demanded the guest.

"Ah dunno, boss," replied Rastus.

"This here is my first season at this here hotel, sah."
