Whirlaway, Famous Racer To Be Retired

Chicago, June 28 — (AP)—Whirlaway will race no more.

The long-tailed bay who won $61,161.50 in four years of brilliant racing was retired today and will spend the rest of his days in Kentucky's green pastures.

Warren Wright of the Calumet stable, owner of the great thoroughbred, said the decision to retire Whirlaway came after his disappointing showing in the Equipose mile Saturday at Washington Park, where he finished fifth.

"He pulled up noticeably sore," trainer Ben Jones added. "He didn't respond to treatment. I called Mr. Wright this morning and after a conference he agreed with me that the only logical course was retirement."

"After all, it would be a little short of inhumane to continue training such a great horse and run the chance of permanently maiming him."

He plan to ship him to Calumet farm within the next several days, and there he'll enter into the well-earned life of Riley. Next spring he'll join his illustrious daddy, Blenheim II, in Stud.

Whirlaway, affectionately known as "Whirly" and "Mr. Longtail" to thousands of turf fans who bet their shirts on him and won, apparently never recovered from an injury to his left foreleg last February, when he was awaiting the running of the $25,000 New Orleans Handicap.

Canuck Boxer Steals Show In British Fight

By Allan Nickleson
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 28 (CP)—A fighting Canadian soldier, in a London ring for the first time, stole the show at Queensberry Club and in a roundly defeated a 195 side-bet.

Avenge a previous defeat up north, Cpl. Gordie Woodhouse of Vancouver fought like a Trojan in the closing rounds to gain the nod over Harry Davis, London welterweight. Most exciting fight of a top-notch card, it kept a packed house in a welter of excitement through the eight rounds.

The side-bet was laid after Gordie and Harry were re-matched and for a while it looked as if Harry had it in his jeans. In the early rounds he repeatedly beat Gordie to the punch but the former well known amateur stiffened in the last half and tired the Londoner with rights to the jaw.

Another Canadian on the same card, Cpl. Arnold Hayes, was disqualified in the seventh round of a scheduled 8-round tilt for persistent hitting of the Montreal negro, who can stand up to the best when he's in the mood, couldn't lathom Ben Flynne, a tough heavyweight from London's Marylebone district.

Making his "big city" debut, Jimmy Moore of Birkenhead took a boxing lesson from coffee-colored Lefty Flynn of Jamaica. Winner of many contests in the north of England, Moore was worn down by Flynn's body punches over the eight rounds.

400 Axis Vessels Victims Of Mines

LONDON, June 28—(AP)—Efficiency of aircraft in the delayed action warfare of sea mines was underlined today in an announcement in an announcement that more than 400 Axis ships have been sunk or damaged by mines in European waters, with at least 70 per cent of them falling victim to explosives sown by airplanes.

A joint admiralty and air ministry communique declared that since the start of the war "no less than 400 enemy warships, supply ships and small craft have been sunk or damaged" by mines, and "it is considered that the true figure is appreciably higher."

These operations have forced the enemy to close many of his ports from Oslo to Bayonne from time to time, interrupted traffic in such important waterways as the Kiel Canal, and brought a marked reduction in Axis coastwise traffic, hence to break down supply lines upon which so much depends, the communique continued.

Brighton Hawks Defeat Cardinals

In a senior softball game of the Holy Redeemer, played over the week-end, Jackie McCann of Brighton Hawks defeated Ben Callaghan's Cardinals by a score of 44-23.

It was the second defeat during the week for the Cardinals. The Hawks now have a win and a loss.

Gordie was batted out of the box and replaced by D. Martin.

Earl McCourt, after two years layoff from pitching was the hurler for the Hawks and held his opponents to the half-way mark.

Manpower Pool To Place Labour Where Most Needed

TORONTO, June 29—Since 1939 Canada's armed forces have grown from about 10,000 to more than 700,000. At the same time, employment in our munitions industry has swelled over a million, of which number a quarter are women.

With the flower of our manhood in the armed forces, it is inevitable that we should come against a serious shortage of labour in our heavier industries. At the same time there are still some men and women in this country who are "unemployed" or looking for jobs. Not then, someone may ask, give them employment and so reduce the shortage? But it is not as simple as that. Many of those persons now unemployed are not fit for jobs. They are men or, or sex to fill the jobs now open in such vitally essential industries as coal mining, agriculture, logging and fishing.

To meet the needs of such industries much combing and sorting of our national manpower pool is now under way. Whenever possible, miners, farm workers, lumbermen and fishermen at present employed at other jobs are being encouraged to return to their former occupations. Other young and vigorous men now engaged in less essential work are being directed into work of higher priority rating, and men in low other and more essential jobs for which they may be best fitted.
