

PRINCE EDWARD TO-DAY
A RAVING SENSATION!

Himself—
The Clown Prince of the talkies takes his new role seriously! He'll make you forget to be serious in the greatest laugh-time of your life!

Fast? Nothing can catch him!
FUNNY? Breaks all laugh records!
GOOD? Boy — He's PERFECT!

JOE E. BROWN
in
LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD
with
DOROTHY LEE

Matinee 3.15
Children 16c
Adults 37c
Night 7--8.45
26c, 42c, 52c

Get acquainted with the new King of Comics — He's good to the last laugh!

COMEDY and VAUDEVILLE!

CAPITOL MATINEE 3.15 — 16c, 26c.
NIGHT 7 & 8.45 — 26c, 42c. NOW

She Went West for Her Health!

—and she lingered for the fun and thrills.

When city folks try to be "wild and woolly," the cow gives screams and the horse laughs last!

"Dude Ranch"

GALLOPING GHOST SERIAL
OH, MARRY ME—COMEDY with JACK OAKIE
Stuart Erwin — Eugene Pallette
Mild Green — June Collyer

CITY COUNCIL REPORT—His Worship Mayor Stewart has sent us a letter making certain denials with regard to statements published in the report of the City Council meeting. Although this letter was addressed to The Guardian, His Worship had not the courtesy to wait for its appearance in our columns but sent it for publication in advance under the circumstances it is unethical to publish his statement. It may be said, however, that members of the City Council who read the letter advised us that our report was absolutely correct and that Mayor Stewart is again inaccurate in his statements.

PERSONALS

The many friends of Mrs. (Capt.) Belyea will regret to learn that she has entered the City Hospital for treatment.

Mr. C. E. MacKenzie of Montreal, arrived in the city last evening and is a guest at the Canadian National Hotel.

The driver of the dilapidated car asked the bystander: Can you tell me the quickest way to Victoria? After a critical glance at the car the bystander replied: Yes, take a bus.

BACK WITH THE MILK

First Eskimo Wife: Does your husband stay out late during the winter nights?
Second Eskimo Wife: aLe? Why, last night he didn't get home till half past January.

An architect remarked to a lady that he had been to see the great nave in the new church. The lady replied: "Don't mention names. I know the man to whom you refer."

Ship's Cook (to new helper) Ever been on a ship before?
Helper—Sure, I was a gunner in the navy.
Cook—Well, start right in and shell the peas.

First Actress—Before I was sitting through the audience was half through the audience was sitting there open-mouthed.
Second Actress—Oh, nonsense! They never yawn all at once.

Your engine's missing, remarked the mechanic: I know it, growled the motorist, and I wish the whole dash car was so I could collect on my theft insurance.

At a recent political meeting it was quite obvious that some hecklers were present. The candidate commenced his speech with: I am here—
So am I, shouted a voice.
Quite so, retorted the candidate, but you are not all there.

Angry Wife: William, at your funeral I shall wear red, white and blue!
Henpecked Husband—I shall give three cheers myself!

Mother—I don't think you did right in marrying again so soon after your husband's death.
Daughter—I'll wait longer next time, mother!

Women, says a writer, spend too much on clothes, and men too little. Another distressing case of cause and effect.

You know that ice cream man who used to pass by with his invitation: Stop me and buy one.
Oh, yes, I remember him.
Well, he invented a patent bullet proof waistcoat, and is doing jolly well in Chicago. His motto is "Buy me and stop one."

First Golfer—Shall we play another round next Monday?
Second golfer—Well, I was to be married on Monday—but I'm sure we can arrange it.

An inventor is trying to perfect a motor car that will run equally as well on land as on water. We've seen some like that. They wouldn't run on land.

Among the food products, wrote a schoolboy, is indigestion.

Why don't you advertise?
Look here: I know my business. Sure! But how about letting other people know it.

O'Leary

A wide circle of friends regret the illness of Mrs. James Gray, Knutsford, who has been confined to her home for some time, and wish her a speedy recovery.

The stork circled over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams, Knutsford, recently, and left them a bonnie baby. Congratulations.

Her many friends regret the

OUR DISCOUNT SALE of Sheet- ing, Cottons, Curtaining, Bed spreads, etc., continues until Sat- uryday night. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

BUY YOUR towels now at a big discount. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

DON'T MISS getting some of our guaranteed Wabasse prints at only 15c. yd. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

YOU CAN SAVE money if you shop in our Staple Dept. this week. Big discounts in Bed spreads, sheet- ing, etc. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

OWING to existing conditions, I have decided from this date to run my business on a strictly cash basis. J. J. Larabee, Eldon, P. E. I. 1929-4-13-31

POLICE COURT—At the Police Court yesterday morning, a drunk was fined $5 and costs of ten days. The case of an offender against the Customs Act was adjourned until 11 Friday.

CONGRATULATIONS — Mrs. Margaret Wood, Southport, is receiving the congratulations on having attained her 88th birthday on April 4th. Despite the stormy night a few of her children and grand- children and friends gathered to help her eat her birthday cake. Mrs. Wood is quite smart and takes an active part in everything. Hon. W. M. Wool, Southport, is her youngest son.

BRIDAL SHOWER—A miscel- laneous shower was held in the Hall at Sea View, on April 8th, in hon- or of Mr. and Mrs. Allison B. Mann. After pleasing remarks by the chairman, Mr. J. E. Campbell, they were invited to the platform where the happy young couple were presented with numerous gifts. The presents were opened by Elva Duggan and the verses read by Margaret Blakeney. The groom in a few well chosen words thanked the donors for their kindness. After singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows," the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

WEDDING BELLS—An interest- ing event took place at Malpeque, March 30, at 7.30 p.m., when Miss Nina May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coulson of Sea View, was united in marriage to Allison B. Mann, son of Mrs. Johnson Mann, Kensington, by the Rev. F. W. Williamson, Malpeque. The young couple were unattended. The bride looked winsome attired in powder blue Canton crepe with white satin trimmings. After the ceremony they proceeded to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous repast awaited them. The immediate relatives being present only. At a later date the chivalries attended in full force offering their felicitations.

COLLEGE TIMES—Of special in- terest this month is The College Times, organ of the students of Prince of Wales College, which makes its first appearance since the disastrous fire at the College build- ing. Reference to the fire, and to the opportunities presented by the reconstruction of the institution, is made editorially. There are also interesting articles descriptive of the disaster and of the history of Prince of Wales, past and present. The articles are varied, well written and well edited, and show promising journalistic talent among the students. The keen general interest taken in the matter of educational im- provement is reflected in the issue, in which hope and confidence is expressed as to the future.

For some months past primary markets have warranted a drop in the price of

Morse's Tea
(red label)

The reduction, however, was deferred to see whether the Budget would announce any change in the Customs duty. No change having taken place in this, we now announce the new price as

45c Per Pound

Never have we given better value in this popular and reliable tea.

J. E. MORSE and CO.,
Halifax, N. S.
Est'd. 1870

Islander Honored

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR NATIVE SON

The people of St. James' Parish, Vernon, B. C., must have realized the true significance of Easter Sunday, having lived the Lenten Season in a truly Christian manner the average weekly communions numbering 200, while on Easter Sunday approximately 250 approached the Holy Table.

Satisfied that Father Coady was the instrumental cause of their great spiritual advancement they decided to surprise him on his birthday coming immediately after Lent, March 31st—just preceding the first Friday.

Having completed confessions on Thursday evening he remained on in the Church where he thought he was alone with his Master, thank- ing him fervently for the many favours he had bestowed upon the people of the parish when Father Kelly approached silently fearful of interrupting a conversa- tion so confidential. Father Kelly escorted the good Priest to the base- ment of the Church where at least 200 people of more than one deno- mination had assembled to make his first birthday in the Priesthood and in the Parish a memorable one. Mystified at the great gathering and not knowing its purpose the Altar Boys came to his aid by singing in their sweet and mellow voices— "Many Happy Returns of the Day". They were accompanied by Mrs. Carter at the piano. Next Miss Doris McDonald, also a native daughter of P. E. I., played some beautiful and appropriate pieces on the piano. Mr. George Carters beautiful tenor was heard in the "Ave Maria," Miss McKinnon's addition of an old Irish Song in her beautiful and cultured voice was enjoyed by all. Mr. Carroll O'Keefe displayed a masterly knowl- edge of the violin. Many other num- bers followed which included stir- ring addresses by Fathers McDonnell and Kelly. Father McDonnell mar- velled at the unique love displayed by the people for the Priest. Father Kelly stressed the culture and refi- nement acquired by Father Coady in his distant home—P. E. I.

All thought the climax was reached when Mr. Conroy (Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus arose and read the following:—

"Our purpose in assembling here tonight Fr. Coady, is to honour you on your first birthday in your new sphere of life—the life we know you love so well—the Holy Priesthood. In honouring you, we feel we are honouring the Priesthood in general. In our own limited way, we real- ize its hardships as well as its joys. Because of these hardships the people of this Parish have gathered here tonight to show you in our humble way that we would like to lessen your burdens were it in our power, and to convey to you our appreciation of the work you have so well begun.

We meet you on the street and greet you as no other. We call you by a name reserved for God alone, a name that reminds us of Him whom you represent. Old and young, rich and poor, speak of you and ad- dress you by the loving title of "Father". This title we deem most appropriate and most fittingly borne by you.

You have implanted in each one of our hearts seeds of love and re- spect which we know will grow and fructify. Since your advent to St. James' Parish you have labour- ed silently and fruitfully. Do not think, Father, that your work has been unnoticed by us, on the con- trary, it is our desire to show you in a material way, although perhaps a small way, that we appreciate this work. We want you to know Father, that the people of St. James' Parish are not an ungrateful people, consequently we present you tonight with a little token of gra- titude, with the hope and the sin- cere wish to each and every one of us that your life in the Priest- hood will be long fruitful and happy, and that many of those years will be spent with us that you may complete the great work you have so nobly started.

Having presented him with a sub- stantial purse—Father Coady thank- ed the good people in words that did not at first seem eloquent so great was his surprise and happi- ness. However the depth of the peoples' love for him having pene- trated his heart, he arose to the occasion in a sublime manner.

There was yet a greater surprise in store for Father Coady—Lumby (a mission Parish attended by him)—not wishing to be outdone pre- sented him with another address— concise but touching—accompanied by another purse. Fathers words of gratitude closed the program after which lunch was served. Father Coady and the visiting clergy were taken to a table on which rested a beautifully decorated birthday cake. The remainder of the evening was utilized in playing cards and getting acquainted.

Father Coady is the son of Mrs. Coady and the late Jas. Coady Em- yvale, P. E. I.

MAP OF GREAT BEAR LAKE MINING AREA

The Topographical Survey, Depart- ment of the Interior has just issued a map compiled from aerial photographs of part of Great Bear Lake in the Northwest Territories. This map shows Hunter bay, Lab- line point, and Conjour bay, which are all much in the public view on account of the mineral discoveries there last year. The map may be obtained for a nominal price upon application.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ALEXANDER K. McDONALD

The community of Hopedale and the surrounding districts were greatly shocked when on Thursday, February 18th, word was passed around that Mrs. Alexander K. McDonald had passed away at her home at the age of 70 years.

Although the deceased had been in a condition of failing health for several years, yet even the loved ones did not expect that the end would have come so suddenly and so unexpectedly. While there were times when Mrs. McDonald would be very much distressed and suf- fer from shortness of breath, yet there were quite long periods again when she would rest quite com- fortably. But as the years went by these times of distress were com- ing more and more often and her supply of reserve strength was growing less and less until on the above mentioned date her gentle and wonderfully patient spirit winged its heavenward flight.

Besides a sorrowing husband who is feeling his loss very keenly Mrs. McDonald leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother three sons and three daughters. The sons are Duncan McDonald, C. N. Rail- way, Summerside, Angus McDon- ald, Boston, but at present visiting at home, and John D. McDonald, at home, and the sisters are Mrs. Daniel Cummings, Milton; Mrs. L. B. McMillan, Wood Islands, and Miss Isabelle McDonald, at home.

Another son, Mr. Kenneth Mc- Donald, pre-deceased his mother in 1923 and another daughter, Miss Sadie McDonald, passed away in 1928.

The deceased was one of a fam- ily of five brothers and five sisters. The brothers were Mr. Malcolm McKay, Mr. Murdoch McKay and Mr. Wm. McKay, all of New Bed- ford, Mass.; Mr. John McKay, Cal- ifornia, and Mr. Roderick McKay, Bradabane, and the sisters, besides Mrs. McDonald now deceased, were Mrs. E. P. Hickox, Attleboro, Mass.; Mrs. Fred Carew, New Bedford, Mass.; Mrs. D. Inglis, Hanover, Mass., and Mrs. Calvin L. Reeves, Freetown.

Mrs. McDonald was a lady who was well known throughout the whole countryside and was held in high esteem by all.

While for a number of years she suffered from asthma and at times was very much distressed, yet all of her suffering was borne in a spirit of calmness and Christian fortitude. She was indeed wonder- fully patient and long suffering. She took a deep interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the community, the school and the church, and she was always ready to help out in every good cause. She will be much missed by a large circle of relatives and friends. But while all these shall miss her it is in the home that her loss will be felt most keenly.

Not being very robust she very seldom went far away from home, and now that she has gone her loved ones are sad and lonely without her.

The coming of the end had no fears for her. She passed away in full assurance of that blessed hope of immortality knowing that when the earthly house of this tabernacle has been dissolved there awaits those who have been faithful unto the end that home of many man- sions where suffering and pain are unknown. The end was sweet peace. The funeral was held on the af- ternoon of Saturday, Feb. 20th. Although the day was a very rough and stormy one, yet quite a large number were present to pay their last respects to one whom they all esteemed very highly.

The service was conducted by Rev. F. Hensley Stavert, assisted by Rev. F. E. Boothroyd and was a very impressive one.

The pall-bearers were Willard McDonald, James W. McDonald, Angus McDonald, (Springton), John A. McInnis and Cyrus Mar- tin.

Interment was in the Hartsville Cemetery.

MR. JAMES A. MELLISH

The death occurred at Union Road, Lot 51, on April 5th, of James A. Mellish in his 81st year. He was born at Union Road in 1852, a son of John Mellish who settled in this locality in 1848, which was at that time a wilder- ness. Of a large and long lived family only two remain, George T. Mellish of Union Road, and Mrs. George Dewar, of Calgary.

As a child Mr. Mellish witnessed the unfolding of the pioneer drama, the felling of the giant trees for the twofold purpose of clearing the land for the production of food for the settler and fuel for his comfort and cheer, as it crackled and roared on the old time hearth- stone. He grew up with the country, shared in its struggles, its joys and sorrows, and saw the transforma- tion of the primeval forest into a smiling landscape of comfortable homes.

He was a good neighbor and a faithful friend. He lived close to nature and took as much enjoy- ment out of life as any man in the country. He was an industrious, successful farmer, took a great interest in livestock, was an expert foxman, and life in the wild had a great appeal for him. Up to a year ago he had the vigor and pluck of youth, but during the past year his fine constitution began to sag under the weight of years, but he remained busy almost to the last. In 1880 he married Miss Mary-Ann Martin who predeceased him eleven years ago. He leaves to mourn one daughter, Mrs. Margar- et MacLean of Calgary, and two sons Thomas on the homestead and Leslie of New Perth, and three step- sons, Robert and George Martin of Boston, Mass., and Professor Her- bert Martin, Ph. D., in the Western States.

He was a member of the Chris- tian Church of Montague.

His remains were interred in the cemetery adjoining his farm on April 7th, Rev. C. E. Armstrong of- ficiating.

The pall bearers were James MacLeod, Alexander MacPherson, J. A. Dewar, F. R. Mellish, Josiah Campbell and William Moar.

THE LATE MRS. ELIZA McDONALD

ST. JOHN, April 13—The death of Mrs. Eliza J. McDonald, widow of Ronald McDonald, occurred at the residence of her son, Norman, on Loch Lomond road, Sunday. Mrs. McDonald formerly resided in Prince Edward Island.

She is survived by two sons, Nor- man and Ronald, both of Saint John; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. following service at 2 o'clock at her son's residence. Service will be con- ducted by Rev. H. T. S. Gornall, min- ister of Exmouth Street United Church. Interment will be made in Fernhill cemetery.

CONGRATULATIONS — Mrs. Margaret Wood, Southport, is receiving the congratulations on having attained her 88th birthday on April 4th. Despite the stormy night a few of her children and grand- children and friends gathered to help her eat her birthday cake. Mrs. Wood is quite smart and takes an active part in everything. Hon. W. M. Wool, Southport, is her youngest son.

BRIDAL SHOWER—A miscel- laneous shower was held in the Hall at Sea View, on April 8th, in hon- or of Mr. and Mrs. Allison B. Mann. After pleasing remarks by the chairman, Mr. J. E. Campbell, they were invited to the platform where the happy young couple were presented with numerous gifts. The presents were opened by Elva Duggan and the verses read by Margaret Blakeney. The groom in a few well chosen words thanked the donors for their kindness. After singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows," the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

WEDDING BELLS—An interest- ing event took place at Malpeque, March 30, at 7.30 p.m., when Miss Nina May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coulson of Sea View, was united in marriage to Allison B. Mann, son of Mrs. Johnson Mann, Kensington, by the Rev. F. W. Williamson, Malpeque. The young couple were unattended. The bride looked winsome attired in powder blue Canton crepe with white satin trimmings. After the ceremony they proceeded to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous repast awaited them. The immediate relatives being present only. At a later date the chivalries attended in full force offering their felicitations.

COLLEGE TIMES—Of special in- terest this month is The College Times, organ of the students of Prince of Wales College, which makes its first appearance since the disastrous fire at the College build- ing. Reference to the fire, and to the opportunities presented by the reconstruction of the institution, is made editorially. There are also interesting articles descriptive of the disaster and of the history of Prince of Wales, past and present. The articles are varied, well written and well edited, and show promising journalistic talent among the students. The keen general interest taken in the matter of educational im- provement is reflected in the issue, in which hope and confidence is expressed as to the future.

OUR DISCOUNT SALE of Sheet- ing, Cottons, Curtaining, Bed spreads, etc., continues until Sat- uryday night. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

BUY YOUR towels now at a big discount. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

DON'T MISS getting some of our guaranteed Wabasse prints at only 15c. yd. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

YOU CAN SAVE money if you shop in our Staple Dept. this week. Big discounts in Bed spreads, sheet- ing, etc. Prowse Bros. Ltd. 1928-4-13-31

OWING to existing conditions, I have decided from this date to run my business on a strictly cash basis. J. J. Larabee, Eldon, P. E. I. 1929-4-13-31

POLICE COURT—At the Police Court yesterday morning, a drunk was fined $5 and costs of ten days. The case of an offender against the Customs Act was adjourned until 11 Friday.

CONGRATULATIONS — Mrs. Margaret Wood, Southport, is receiving the congratulations on having attained her 88th birthday on April 4th. Despite the stormy night a few of her children and grand- children and friends gathered to help her eat her birthday cake. Mrs. Wood is quite smart and takes an active part in everything. Hon. W. M. Wool, Southport, is her youngest son.

BRIDAL SHOWER—A miscel- laneous shower was held in the Hall at Sea View, on April 8th, in hon- or of Mr. and Mrs. Allison B. Mann. After pleasing remarks by the chairman, Mr. J. E. Campbell, they were invited to the platform where the happy young couple were presented with numerous gifts. The presents were opened by Elva Duggan and the verses read by Margaret Blakeney. The groom in a few well chosen words thanked the donors for their kindness. After singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows," the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

WEDDING BELLS—An interest- ing event took place at Malpeque, March 30, at 7.30 p.m., when Miss Nina May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coulson of Sea View, was united in marriage to Allison B. Mann, son of Mrs. Johnson Mann, Kensington, by the Rev. F. W. Williamson, Malpeque. The young couple were unattended. The bride looked winsome attired in powder blue Canton crepe with white satin trimmings. After the ceremony they proceeded to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous repast awaited them. The immediate relatives being present only. At a later date the chivalries attended in full force offering their felicitations.

COLLEGE TIMES—Of special in- terest this month is The College Times, organ of the students of Prince of Wales College, which makes its first appearance since the disastrous fire at the College build- ing. Reference to the fire, and to the opportunities presented by the reconstruction of the institution, is made editorially. There are also interesting articles descriptive of the disaster and of the history of Prince of Wales, past and present. The articles are varied, well written and well edited, and show promising journalistic talent among the students. The keen general interest taken in the matter of educational im- provement is reflected in the issue, in which hope and confidence is expressed as to the future.

EYES TESTED
AND
GLASSES FITTED
E. W. TAYLOR
J. S. TAYLOR
Optometrists
142 Richmond Street

Overloaded With Shops

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13—(By The Canadian Press)—The number of American citizens working in the Fort Rouge and Transcona shops of the Canadian National Railways is rather limited, S. J. Hungerford, Vice President in charge of opera- tions, told the House of Commons committee on railways and shipping today. He was answering a ques- tion put by Robert Rogers (Cons. Winnipeg, South).

With regard to the general situa- tion respecting the laying off of workmen in the shops, Mr. Hunger- ford said that, since the depression began, efforts had been made to re- duce expenditures by reducing hours and distributing the work. The first reduction had taken place two years ago. A point had now been reached, however, when the railways found it impossible to give work to all the employees; there- fore a considerable number of men had been laid off. The total num- ber of shopmen affected was about 4,000 said Mr. Hungerford.

"Is it not a fact that the amal- gamation and co-ordination of the C. N. R. found the system over- loaded with shops and shopmen?" asked Abraham A. Heaps (Lab. Winnipeg North).

"I would say we were overloaded with shops; but not with shopmen," Mr. Hungerford replied, "having re- gard to the amount of work that had to be done."

Outlook Bright In Western Can.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13—(By The Canadian Press)—In general Canada approaches the new grow- ing season with improved pros- pect as compared with a year ago, says a report on the 1932 crop prospects issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics this afternoon.

Eastern Canada and British Col- umbia report adequate current and reserve moisture and livestock in good condition. The outlook in the prairie provinces, says the report, is encouraging with ample winter precipitation and reserve moisture in northern areas. Those districts which were afflicted with drought in 1931 have received substantial moisture reserves. Reports from Western Canada, the Bureau adds, indicate a better outlook than at the same time last year. Summar- izing conditions by provinces, the report says of the Maritimes: "Late winter precipitation has insured sufficient moisture for early spring growth throughout the Maritime Provinces. The condition of live- stock is reported as satisfactory, with adequate feed supplies avail- able."

A certain reverend gentleman was complaining to another that it was a great fatigue to preach twice a day. "Oh!" said the other, "I preach twice every Sunday, and make no- thing of it."

Unvarying Quality—Always

"SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

Grippy Colds Quickly Stopped

Sneezing and Coughing Ended. Weak Throat is Strengthened.

Carry a Catarrh-O-Zone in your purse or pocket, use it now and you won't have colds. In ten minutes Catarrh-O-Zone knocks out a cold; in five minutes it ends a headache; in half an hour it relieves a bad cough. Inhalant Catarrh-O-Zone five times daily for Bronchitis — the ef- fect is magical. Use it frequently and Catarrh will never bother you. Catarrh-O-Zone is a modern, scientific treatment for coughs, colds, sore throat, sniffles and catarrh. Satis- faction guaranteed. Sold every- where, large size $1.00; smaller sizes 25c and 50c.

CATARRH-O-ZONE
Stops Grippy Colds

O'Leary

A wide circle of friends regret the illness of Mrs. James Gray, Knutsford, who has been confined to her home for some time, and wish her a speedy recovery.

The stork circled over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams, Knutsford, recently, and left them a bonnie baby. Congratulations.

Her many friends regret the

BOVRIL

when you feel tired
PREVENTS
THAT SINKING FEELING