Through the courtesy of Principal Miller, of the C B C, we are enabled to present to our readers today, a portrait of Ben Pitman, the author of the American system of Shorthand, also of the Phonographic Alphabet, and the Lord's Prayer in Shorthand. Of this important branch of study Charles

Miss Annie L. Harris, (C B C).
Miss Jean Webster, (C B C) amanuensis at Jas. Paton & Co's.

The last three are recent graduates from the Institute, and we understand there are several at the C B C about ready for examination. On the 14th of this month the Charlottetown Business College re-opens and it will be noticed that a special class will be organized in shorthand when the term begins. Principal Miller devotes all his time in placing before his students the best in education he can get and when they have completed their work at the C B C see that they get employment. The foregoing list is sufficient to show who is doing the work in Shorthand in this

"I advise parents to have all their boys and girls taught shorthand and typewriting. A shorthand writer who can typewrite his notes, would be safer from poverty than a great Greek scholar."
That the public may know just who in this Province are authorized by the great author to teach his system we append the following list taken from the Register of the Institute:
W H Croskill (licensed teacher) official court reporter and provincial librarian for this province.
