In Memoriam

MR. PETER D. MacDONALD

On March 19th surrounded by his brothers and sisters and comforted by Holy Mother Church, the soul of Mr. Peter D. Macdonald, of Souris, passed to Eternity, at the early age of thirty-one years.

P. D. as he was familiarly known by his host of friends, was a young man of rare parts, particularly in the domain of music, equally at home at the piano, organ or violin, he gave of his best to the public in his many appearances, and his vocal attainments were such that he was always in demand on the concert stage and St. Mary's choir.

Possessed of a kindly and genial disposition his sympathetic nature has won for him a lasting remembrance, among those who are left to survive, and his characteristic gentleness, towards his many friends shall be cherished as a sweet memory of one who was so cheerful and kind.

As a testimonial to the popularity of the deceased, his funeral was attended by such a large concourse of people, that it taxed the capacity of St. Mary's Church.

Slowly and solemnly amid the sighs of his sorrowing friends mingled with the tears of his own immediate brothers and sisters, his brother choir singers chanted with tearful voices the final Psalm while Rev. Father Crooken committed his body to the grave.

He has left to mourn the following sisters and brothers: Misses Beatrice Della and Gertrude at home; (Loretta) Mrs. Adrian MacInnis; (Anna) Mrs. Howard Paquet; (Mamie) Mrs. Fred Mullally and Percy residing in Souris; Elmer of Saskatchewan and Leo in Manitoba.

The many Mass Cards, Floral offerings, Letters of Sympathy and telegrams bore silent tribute to the esteem in which he was held.

The pall bearers were as follows: Messrs. J. C. MacKinnon, Toby Mullins, George Cheverie, Ivan Cheverie, Marcus Mooney and Clifford Peters. R. I. P. L-85-44-14-11.

Card Of Thanks

The brothers and sisters of the late P. D. Macdonald, wish to thank in a special manner, Rev. Father Crooken for the daily visits and spiritual ministrations during his illness.

the doctors who so faithfully attended to him; also to all good neighbors and friends from far and near, for their many acts of kindness. Mass Cards, Telegrams and Letters of Sympathy.

Messrs. Sinclair Morrison and Ray Ellis of South Pinetie and Point Prim respectively have gone to join the S.S. Cartier.

Mr. Angus Murchison of Como P. Q. was home for a short visit last week to his family at Mt. Buchanan.

Mrs. Arthur Cantello of Mt. Buchanan is visiting her parents in Dundas.

Mr. Jack Larabee, Charlottetown, was a recent visitor to Eidon.

Rev. Malcolm Galbraith who has been taking the services of the Church of Scotland since the death of Rev. Ewen MacDougall, sailed last week from Halifax for his home in Scotland. His congregation has been in charge of Rev. J.H. Birt during his absence from Canada.

Mrs. Alice MacKinnley and little son Lane of Pinetie, have gone on an extended trip to the U.S.A.

Mr. Norman Birt and family who have been residing at Eidon for some time have gone to Charlottetown to live.

Mr. M.R. Murchison has been successful in hauling his large barn from Big Point and having it placed on his farm at Point Prim to replace the one that was burned last year. The work was under the direction of Mr. James Cook. Belle River, and cold weather coupled with heavy snow on the ice made making good time a problem. It is understood when travelling permits, Mr. Cook has similar work to do at Pinetie.

Another cold snap at the time of writing gives one the impression that spring is not around the corner. However, foxes are arriving and we hope those interested in that branch of industry will have good results.

Mobile Easter Gives Moderns An Old Debate

(By The Canadian Press)

Right you are, Easter on April 17 is late this year but it might be eight days later and on various occasions in the present generation has gone the limit in lingering in the lap of spring. This movable feast has a wide spread for its wanderings—anytime from March 22 to April 25.

Nowadays, the annual festival observed throughout Christendom to commemorate the resurrection of Jesus Christ is marked on the Gregorian calendar for the first Sunday after the full moon following the vernal equinox—when the sun crosses the equator on its way north in the spring.

Unlike some Christian festivals there is no taint of paganism in Easter's origin but the controversy over the date of celebration is as old as Christianity itself. For many centuries the so-called eastern churches argued with the western on this question. The council of Nicea in A. D. 325 tried to settle it but the vagaries of the sun and moon thwarted the well-intentioned efforts of the ecclesiastics by appearing at varied times in different longitudes.

Corrections to the Gregorian calendar in 1582 smoothed matters to some extent but it was not until 1752 that Great Britain and Ireland and British possessions got into step with other nations for Easter. Some of the eastern churches still ignore the Gregorian calendar in this respect and their Easter may fall before or after the date kept by the majority of Christians.

IN CALENDAR REFORM

There is a modern trend to the controversy over the date of Easter, in the effect of its mobility on the case for calendar reform. Sponsors of the proposed "world calendar"—all years alike and all quarters equal—point to the movability of Easter as one of the grave defects of the present set-up of dates.

ONCE RARE ORCHID BLOOMS AS ROSES

BOSTON, April 14.—(AP)—Orchids were a novelty even to the best flower growers at the time of the Great War, rarely seen by the public. Today they are as familiar as roses to almost any assembly of Bostonians.

Their period of popularity began in Boston with the election of the late Albert C. Burrage to the presidency of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. He sponsored the debut of the orchid and for 10 years watched its upward career under his own guidance until the orchid became one of the best-loved flowers in any large flower show. Even the American Orchid Society came to Boston to give a show.

Side by side with the great pink and white heads of the Cattleya, large as dinner plates, will be orchids whose blooms are not much larger than the head of a pin. More delicate hues of purer colors are never found than these flowers present. In this work of developing the science of orchid culture, Robert Dolg of the Burrage Shows has had the aid of his sister who has become a specialist in her particular field, that of taking the pollen from one orchid flower and placing it in the fruiting body of another, a process of cross-pollination which is a means of hybridization that promises much for the future of American orchids.

Kensington and Vicinity

The Ladies Aid of the United Church in Kensington held a successful "Pantry Sale," in P. J. and C. Kennedy's store on Saturday. Sometime during Sunday night or Monday morning, this fair town was again visited by thieves, they prey this time being McKennie and Co's, General Store. Entry was made quickly and quietly by removing a piece of glass from the front door, the glass formerly being cracked was tightened up by a stove bolt and washers, enabling them to open the lock easily, with their hand, after removing glass. A considerable amount of money left in the till on Saturday night for change Monday morning was taken, also about twenty five dollars worth of men's and women's fine shoes, the shoes being removed from their boxes and carried a-
