MT. STEWART NOTES

The Tracadie Dramatic Club, presented their three act Comedy Drama, entitled "Sally Ann," in Mount Stewart Hall under the auspices of the Mt. Stewart Women's Institute on Thursday evening, May 14th. It was a decided success from start to finish many of those taking part acted in a truly professional manner giving much pleasure to the large audience assembled to see them. After the play dancing was indulged in until a late hour, music being furnished by the Tracadie String Orchestra.

A general clean-up of the village is being sponsored by the W. I. already many improvements are noted. Patriotic citizens who love home, and country, have swung into line in hearty co-operation with the W. I. and are painting and beautifying their buildings. Now if all would catch the spirit of the movement, step on the gas, grab the whitewash, or paint brush and apply to their buildings and fences, what a transformation could be worked on this village of the Hillsboro is a short time. It could be made a thing of beauty and a joy forever by supplementing nature with art.

Trout fishing seems to be the sport of the day hereabouts. Groups of anglers may be seen every day along the banks of the river, the size of the largest fish caught has not been divulged yet, but no doubt many monsters have been hooked in.

The Women's Institute of Cherry Hill held a concert and dance in their school on Friday evening May 15th. It was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. A bedspread was drawn for, and won by Kemble Douglas. The proceeds of the evening will be devoted to renovating the school.

The Crawfords of Cherry Hill have bought the land adjoining their property formerly owned by Cameron McLaughlin. The Crawford family came here from the U. S. a few years ago from the U. S. and have, we are glad to say, settled here permanently. Mrs. Crawford was formerly Miss Mable Coffin of Cherry Hill.

There has been a large number of births in this village, and adjacent country this spring, mostly of the male sex. On a recent Sunday six babies were baptized by Rev. Father McLellan, and at least four of those were boys.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Desmond Doyle, of this place and Mrs. Artie McMillan, of West St. Peters, both entered the hospital to undergo operations, we trust they will be successful and that they will make a speedy recovery. We also regret to hear of the continued illness of Mrs. Louis Handrahan of Pisquid and Mrs. William McKenzie, of Mt. Stewart.

We are pleased to learn that John McEachern is recovering from scarlet fever and also an injury to his head.

Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. McLeod Douglas, who recently sustained another loss in the death of her father Mr. John Jay. Her mother passed away eight weeks previous to his demise.

Miss Gladys Affleck who has been ill of pleurisy for the past few weeks is recovering we are glad to report.

Rev. A. P. McLellan of St. Andrews went to Charlottetown on Monday to be present at the installation of the new Bishop.

The Mimacs of this place are quite excited over the trial of one of their tribe in Charlottetown on the 19th. A fracas between two of the Indians took place recently at Scotchfort, one of them we understand received a severe beating at the hands of the other. This is unusual as the Indians here are ordinarily a peaceable, law-abiding people.

her home at St. Andrews, after spending some time with friends at Mt. Stewart.

The cake eating contest put on in the Hall recently must have been a great success as not only was the cake eaten but also the pans and napkins, leastways the pans never showed up after it was over.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan McKenzie, returned to Mt. Stewart after spending the winter in Charlottetown.

Farmers in this vicinity are busy tilling the soil, notwithstanding the drop in the price of potatoes, many are planting large acreages taking a chance on the markets of the future. The Douglas Bros. we understand are planting forty acres. More power to them.

IN MEMORIAM

MEREDITH PARKMAN
An Appreciation

Not now, but in the coming years, it may be in the Better Land We will read the meaning of our tears
And sometime we will understand.

It would seem impossible for the family and friends of the late Meredith Parkman to understand now why he was taken so suddenly and unexpectedly from a life which was being filled so well and so fully, which gave so much joy to his family. Especially do our hearts go out in sincerest sympathy to the dear mother, who had just recovered from a long illness, and who was so tenderly dealt with, encouraged and helped in every way during her illness by her loving son, God, in His supreme wisdom has seen fit to remove him from the home and the loved ones who found in him such a tower of help at all times.

Meredith's life was a short one, but his splendid living and high devotion to duty have left a memory which will ever live in the hearts of those who were privileged to know him intimately. He was a capable farmer, progressive, industrious, and business men senior to him in years, coming in contact with him, experienced in Meredith a shrewd practical farmer, capable of making, by his intelligence and integrity in the business field, friends of those with whom he had to do. His straightforwardness, promptness and attention to anything with which he had to do made for him a reputation as a bright, prosperous farmer, and indications were that he would be an outstanding man in the community.

To his family their loss is irreparable, for him it is truly the Springtime, the joy of a new life where there is no more death and sorrow or weeping. To no one is given in this life perfect joy, as few homes there are where the vacant chair is not found, and notwithstanding our grief and loss we would not wish to bring them back even if we could, for now they have passed from death into life, and are alive for evermore.

Again we say to the greatly bereaved father and mother, sister and brother all sympathy is extended to them from their many friends and, in the time when they are bowed down with grief may the Unseen Presence be their shield and strength.

The appreciation of those who came in business relations with Meredith is such that held him in the highest esteem, and he will be missed not only in his home, but in the community and by a large circle of friends. But now we rejoice that even with the sorrows of death he is removed from a world of care to that Home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.—"M"
