ETHIOPIA LAYS

Chairman Guinaru announced at the close of the session that he would submit a proposed procedure for dealing with the dispute at the next session.

Italian officials said they did not understand the walkout of the delegates to mean "necessity" Italy was leaving the League. They were represented as resenting the "extreme violence" of Jeeze's language.

BITING ATTACK

Rocco left in protest against such a biting attack on Italy by Professor Gaston Jeeze, the Ethiopian representative, as the Council had not heard before.

The purport of the Italian submission was that the council should declare itself disinterested in the threatened conflict between Italy and Ethiopia and that it should sanction freedom of action by Italy. That position Litvinoff said he could not accept.

ITALY'S CLAIM

It means in effect that the other members of the Council should repudiate their obligations as members of the League. Italy argued that Ethiopia was a barbarian country not entitled to rank with civilized states.

No one, Litvinoff continued, sympathized with the internal regime of Ethiopia as revealed by the documents submitted to Italy. But the League Covenant drew no distinction of race or color. The Council could not deny to a member of the League its inalienable right to maintain its independence.

"I urge the Council," Litvinoff concluded, "not to stop short of any effort or any decision to prevent a conflict between the two members of the League."

Exciting Day

The speeches by Professor Jeeze and Litvinoff were the only two of the second day in the drama of Geneva.

Professor Jeeze appealed to the Council to act without delay to avert the threatened conflict. The usual incident having failed, he declared, Italy at the last hour had brought new charges in the hope of catching Ethiopia by surprise.

Italy charged Ethiopia with being a barbarian state and sought to place her outside the law. Italy claimed she was no longer bound by treaties. She refused to recognize equality with Ethiopia. She claimed for herself full liberty of action and "woo to anyone who sought to bar her road."

Was Italy really seeking an outlet for her surplus population, Jeeze questioned. Or was she hoping to secure in Ethiopia hundreds of thousands of soldiers whom she would some day fling in Africa or Europe against those countries which sought to prevent her from realizing her imperial dreams.

Italy had trained her youth to militarism and to ideas of conquest. It was not that type of civilization that Ethiopia sought as she ap-

Annual C.W.L. Convention Sept. 10-11-12

The Catholic Women's League of the Diocese of Charlottetown will hold their Annual Diocesan Convention in Georgetown, on September 10-11-12th. Plans have been formulated and preparations are in progress, which with the co-operation of the many interested subdivisions throughout the Island, will tend to make a highly successful Convention. The opening meeting takes place on Tuesday evening in Georgetown Hall, and will feature addresses by prominent clergy, and reports of National and Diocesan work. A splendid musical program will be an enjoyable feature.

The ladies of Georgetown Sub-division will be hostesses at a Banquet to be given on Wednesday evening, September 11th at "The Highlands." This will be supplemented by addresses and musical numbers.

Of additional interest, is the announcement that the National President, Mrs. J. Coffey, of Montreal will be present at the Convention. All business sessions will be held in St. James Hall.

Plan now to come to Georgetown, where a cordial welcome will be given you. Remember the dates, September 10-11-12th.

pealed to the League under the terms of the Covenant.

By Andrew Berling, Associated Press Foreign Staff (By Guardian's Special Wire) ROME, Sept. 5.—Italy will wait for the League of Nations to act before her troops enter Ethiopia, persons close to Premier Mussolini said today.

If Duce, they said, does not want to begin war until the League has definitely disposed of the Italo-Abyssinian controversy, regardless of the fact that whatever that disposition may be, Italy does not propose to back down.

May Postpone Action

What the Italian Government fears, they added, is that the League Council may postpone action. This might require Italy to begin her campaign while the League still has the matter under consideration; something Mussolini wishes to avoid.

The Italian press supported these statements today by asserting the League now has before it sufficient material on which to base definite action "against Ethiopia." This, the paper said, is the only action of the League Italy will recognize.

The Giornale d'Italia said: "Italy's confidence in the possibility of any collaboration on specific basis of Ethiopia on a specific basis of treaties and accords has surpassed its extreme limits. Italy therefore considers the possibilities of negotiation with Ethiopia, or new accords, definitely exhausted. This method of collaboration has failed."

League's Hands Tied?

Even the Vatican Observator Romano indicated it does not believe Geneva can do anything, saying "the difficulties of a juridical nature applying to the pact are complicated by difficulties of a political nature, therefore any attempt at solution of the conflict by Geneva seems particularly arduous." The opinion prevailed in official circles that Italy must impose its own conception of civilization on Ethiopia even if that means leaving the League of Nations.

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 5.—More troops are rushed to the frontiers today as Emperor Haile Selassie issued new decrees to restrain verbal and written attacks upon Premier Mussolini and Italy.

The Emperor ordered Kidane Miriam Takie, editor of the Amharic language publication, "Voice of Ethiopia," arrested for using violent language against Italy. A restrained attitude toward Rome was demanded by Haile Selassie. He ordered all publications to refer to Il Duce politely as "Mr. Mussolini" and never to attack him or Italy.

Rains Continue

Although the end of the rainy season—long heralded as the probable time for hostilities to begin if war cannot be averted—is anticipated this month, the Associated Press correspondent at Jigjigala, northern Ethiopia, reported heavy rains are continuing. Such rains as exist are waterlogged wherever the Italians would have to advance.

There is a strong undercurrent of feeling among natives against Europeans, the correspondent advised, but authorities are prepared to prevent serious manifestations. Fearing a sudden Italian attack, women and children in the Jigjigala district are evacuating.

Makes Talkie

He was represented as encouraged by the possibility that Pope Pius may act as peacemaker if the League fails to find a solution of the quarrel. Haile Selassie wired the Pontiff his appreciation of a recent declaration for peace.

LABOR TO TAKE HAND

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—While diplomatic representatives conferred lengthily tonight on the situation following a dramatic session of the League of Nations Council, organized labor prepared to crack an economic whip against Italy if she was on Ethiopia.

An international trade union committee will meet tomorrow to discuss means of paralyzing Premier Mussolini's East African campaign by the efforts of labor if League attempts to solve the question fall. Victor Basch, President of the League for the Rights of Man, submitted to Premier Laval of France and the President of the League Council a memorandum appealing for drastic action by the League and urging the Assembly to have recourse to sanctions in the event of Italy "perpetrating" the "crime which is being prepared."

Pleasant Grove

The regular meeting of the Pleasant Grove Women's Institute was held on August 14th at the home of Mrs. W. E. Hardy. There were nine members present and one visitor. Meeting opened by repeating the Creed in unison.

Miss Laura Watts was appointed as a delegate to attend meeting to be held in Charlottetown in connection with our District Convention.

PASSENGERS OF

aboard the Dixie, gave the first inkling of the conditions which caused his command to shatter itself on French Reef in the midst of the hurricane which ravaged the Florida Keys.

TERRIFIC RAINS

He said he was unable to see because of terrific rains, and was blown out of his position to a degree that he believed himself on Carysfort Reef when he sent out his SOS at 8:16 p.m.—a call for help which was unheard—because his wireless antenna was carried away.

"I had not seen a light since we picked up, and passed Sombrore lighthouse," he said in his first public account of the wreck.

"The waves were breaking over the bridge, which is 55 feet above the waterline. At times I could not see a foot ahead. I have been in hurricanes before, in 1915, 1919, 1926 and 1932, but never in one as bad as this."

The skipper, a 50 year old veteran of the sea and the father of two daughters, himself narrowly escaped death Monday night when the sun deck, on which he was standing as he attempted to fight his way aft from the bridge, was blown away. He saved himself only by hanging desperately to an awning brace.

PRaise CREW

Stories of praise and heroism for the master and crew of the Dixie were told by the line's passengers as they were landed.

"If we could only have felt as calm as the Dixie crew acted, everything would have been fine," said Mrs. J. G. Fisher of New Orleans.

"The terrible experiences of the night at sea have been now obliterated by the wonderful heroism of the crew," asserted Mrs. Lydia L. Sturt of Newark, N. J.

"There was no hysteria, no all sang," said Miss Florence E. Steiler of San Francisco.

"If any of the passengers were frightened," said Miss Winifred Indge of Westmount, Que., "they stifled public show of it."

John Laycock of Baton Rouge, La., described the survival of passengers in the midst of the howling storm and mountainous waves as "miracle."

"Waves that must have been 40 feet high and driven with terrific force, splashed over the whole ship, even the bridge," he said. "But all of the passengers and all of the crew are safe—by some miracle."

Officials of the Moogan line chartered a special train to carry all the passengers to New York and their homes.

TRAVELOGUE OF HOLY LAND INSPIRING

To see depicted before their eyes the very hills which Christ trod, the historic spots which the Master frequented, the scenes of His labours and death, all in the vivid colours of nature was the unusual privilege of those who attended the musical travlogue, "Christian Palestine," in St. Paul's Parish Hall last evening.

Screened with splendid musical accompaniment, and with the gifted interpretation of Mr. Stephen Haboush, a native Golan, this unique feature was both inspiring and educational. An element of reality was lent to that which for most people is left to the imagination, as the beauties of nature in the Holy Land were revealed, or as history with its gripping interest and drama was unfolded. Present too was the thrill of emotion, as the audience realized that in the scenes shown occurred some of the most significant events that the world has witnessed.

Mr. Haboush and his wife appeared in the quaint costumes of native Palestine. The former explained the pictures as they were shown, contributed interesting sidelights, and indicated briefly the religious or historical import of phases which might be otherwise overlooked or underestimated. Damascus, the oldest existing city in the world, was portrayed adequately, and the audience viewed edifices and landmarks which have defied millenniums. Something of the social and religious background of the age of Christ was given, and the significance of the parables was graphically indicated.

With reverence the audience followed the lecturer through the localities in which Christ preached and taught groups and multitudes.—the Jordan Valley and River, the Sea of Galilee, and the little towns, Gallee, Mount Hermon, and other places known to every student of Bible history. But it was in Jerusalem and its environs that the lecturer lingered longest, as there took place those incidents, sacred to Christians everywhere. The Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane, and Golgotha were shown as they appear at the present time. Models of the building which have occupied the Temple Area through the ages gave the history of Palestine in brief. Especially impressive was the mosque of Omar, the building now occupying the area, screened in marvellous detail, and revealing the grandeur of oriental architecture and art.

The sacred music which accompanied many of the scenes and actions was provided by the photographers, and was the contributions of great artists.

FIND TRAMPING JOLLY HOLIDAY

(By The Canadian Press)

EDMONTON, Sept. 4.—Two youthful shopgirls from Trail, B. C., arrived in this city recently from a long tramp. The Cariboo, with its rugged beauty lured them first and they spent several weeks trekking from Trail to Kamloops, Williams Lake to Quesnel, Baker-Ville to Bear Lake and back again to Prince George.

At Prince George the holidayers took a train to Jasper, whence they came to Edmonton. Their names are Miss Midgeley and Miss Nora Smith.

Twenty miles a day was the minimum march for these adventurers who never asked for a life although they got plenty. Auto camps at nightfall were their destination and they only miscalculated twice.

"It was fun sleeping under the stars on those two occasions," they told a reporter.

Breeches and light weight jerseys were their wearing apparel and their ruck sacks were imported for their journey from Norway. Perhaps the proof of the success of this first trip lies in the fact that they are already contemplating a second.

The only fellow travellers they met on their journey were brave knights of the road tramping up the Cariboo in search of gold.

"Light-hearted and optimistic they were, too," one of them remarked.

PRINCE DIRECT'S HIS HOUSE FOLK

(By The Canadian Press)

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 5.—(C. P.)—When the Prince of Wales' butler answers the ring at York House, London, one is admitted to a cream-panelled hall with antique speckling prints on the wall and an electric brazier glowing comfortably at the foot of the stairs, writes Hattie Grimstead in the Argus.

"You notice a cream-painted automatic telephone standing on the oak table," the writer continues. "When the Prince recently redecorated and modernized his residence, he saw that every room was provided with its own telephone, specially enamelled to match the color-scheme.

"To set off effectively feminine frocks and uniforms of every hue. Corcoran and Mrs. William Gallant.

It was decided to have a grab bag at the next meeting for the purpose of raising funds. The September meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Charles Gallant where the roll call will be answered by "why I joined the Institute."

After the business part of the meeting was over much merriment was derived from guessing the "Mystery Man," the prize being won by Mr. Stephen Gallant. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in singing, music and dancing. Meeting closed by singing the Institute Ode.

Surprise Shower To Bride-to-be

On Tuesday evening the leaders and girls of Zion C. G. I. T. assembled at the home of Mrs. J. M. MacFadyen, Rizl Apt. City to tender Miss Frances Moore a kitchen shower in honor of her approaching marriage.

Upon entering the room, where the color scheme was beautifully carried out in pink and white, a charming bride and groom escorted Frances to a nicely decorated chair. A carriage well laden with gifts was wheeled in by the bride and groom and where amid peels of laughter, Mrs. J. A. MacMillan, dressed in old fashioned costume, read the humorous verses, which added much to the enjoyment of all present.

A very lively "sing song" was participated in by everyone, and after the playing of games and contests, a dainty lunch was then served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Neil Matheson, Miss Alice Partridge and Miss Katherine Carson.

The "bride-to-be" was then bounced and the singing of "Taps" and God Save the King, brought a very happy and enjoyable evening to a close.

Rain Delays Prairie Grain Harvesting

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—Grain harvesting in the Prairie Provinces has been delayed by intermittent rains but cutting is practically completed except in North-West Alberta, according to the weekly telegraphic crop report issued by the Bank of Montreal. Threshing is becoming general, the report says. Further damaging frosts have occurred in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

In Quebec with harvesting under way the crop outlook generally continues favorable. Ontario crops in general are good and dry weather has facilitated threshing and the cutting of a good second crop of alfalfa. Spring grains are proving somewhat discolored as a result of lodging. In the Maritime Provinces recent rains have been beneficial. Favorable weather has also been helpful in British Columbia and good crops are expected of apples, pears, plums and hops.

Details follow for the Maritime Provinces: In Prince Edward Island the harvesting of a good average grain crop is nearing completion. In New Brunswick and Nova Scotia a patchy grain crop is now being harvested; roots and fruits are fair to good, and pastures show some recovery since rains fell.

PRICE RISE

out of Churchill and General Manager J. D. Read of the Saskatchewan Pool Elevators asserted that 500,000 bushels of wheat have been sold from Churchill stocks this week.

"This would leave only one cargo in the northern port, which Mr. Read said, was more than likely to be sold before winter halts navigation.

By Percy Whiteing Canadian Press Correspondent (C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) TOKYO, Sept. 5.—(C. P.)—The price of Japanese wheat has risen in the past two months from 64.5 yen (currently $1.61) per bale of two bushels to 7.5 yen ($2.21) and the trend upward continues. The price is already about 1.6 yen (47 cents) above the average price in 1934.

This year's wheat crop in Japan had been estimated at 46,500,000 bushels but the present estimate sets it at 43,000,000 bushels, which would be 15 per cent less than the 1934 crop. This decrease is one of the main causes of the price rise.

Expelled From Trinidad

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Sept. 5.—Otto Von Sickenen, Czechoslovakian geologist who recently claimed to have found great deposits of gold and radium in Dutch Guiana, was revealed today to have left Trinidad for Boston under a government order of expulsion from the colony.

He sailed Tuesday on the Canadian National Steamship Lady Hawkins under an assumed name. Officials of the line said he was listed in their records as Otto Vost.

The government refused to disclose its reason for expelling Von Sickenen, who claimed he was here awaiting a passport. The order, signed by Governor Sir Claude Hollis, was issued more than a fortnight ago.

Failing to comply with it promptly, Von Sickenen was brought in to court on this charge and convicted. Sentence was suspended on his promise to leave.
