British Gov't. Accepts Idea Of Arms Alliance

Lord Halifax Reports On Negotiations With Daladier In Paris And Maysky At Geneva.

(By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, May 24—(CP Cable)—The British government has accepted in principle the idea of a military alliance with France, Poland, Rumania and Russia, it was learned tonight.
The decision was reached at a two-hour cabinet meeting at which Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, reported on his negotiations with Premier Daladier in Paris and Soviet Ambassador Maysky at Geneva.

Germany Shows No Disposition For Showdown

LONDON, May 24—(CP Cable)—Germany has shown no disposition for a showdown with the Poles over the border incident at Kalthof Sunday when a Danzig was shot to death by a Polish chauffeur, official circles pointed out today.
The attitude of Germany towards the incident, these sources said, is open to interpretations—either Germany is not ready for a major incident with the Poles over Danzig or they do not want to use the Kalthof affair for that purpose.
The German government has used just such incidents in the Sudetenland last summer as sufficient provocation to demand annexation of that part of Czechoslovakia.

HOUSE APPROVES PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH INDEPENDENT STATE IN THE HOLY LAND

(By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, May 23—(CP Cable)—The House of Commons today approved the government's proposal to establish an independent Arab-Jewish state in the Holy Land.
After two days of acrimonious debate on the Palestine policy, the house voted 268 to 179 in its support.

LORD ELGIN ADDRESSES CAN. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

(By GUY RHOADES
Canadian Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, May 24—The Earl of Elgin, whose grandfather was Governor-General of Canada from 1847 to 1854, today told the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain that the challenge of force and violence had brought the Empire together "as never before in our day."
Lord Elgin addressed the Canadian Chamber of Commerce after the organization had addressed a cable to the King and Queen on the occasion of Empire Day and had received a reply from Their Majesties, journeying toward Winnipeg.
Lord Elgin paid tribute to the spirit of the government and citizens throughout the British Commonwealth. He declared governments often find it difficult to work in advance of public opinion, but businessmen were unhampered by such considerations and would search their minds to determine what they could do to help their government in the face of difficulties.

TWENTY-SIX PERISH IN SUNKEN SUB

(By The Associated Press)
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 23—All living survivors aboard the sunken U. S. submarine Squalus have been safely brought to the surface, it was announced here early this morning.
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 24—A possible second tragedy stalked the last eight survivors of the sunken submarine Squalus tonight when a rescue chamber in which they were being hoisted to safety became jammed 150 feet below the surface, leaving them suspended for more than two hours.
Twenty-five men had been hauled to freedom from the crippled submarine in three slow trips of the nine-ton diving bell—and 29 others had been given up for dead in the waters 40 fathoms below—when suddenly the second blow fell.
The last eight survivors, together with a youth man who had descended as the operator of the rescue chamber, had been hauled up 90 feet from the ocean floor when their progress was halted. Naval officers at the scene reported a cable was jammed.
Members of the high command gave out statements there was no cause for worry. A diver was sent down swiftly to clear the snarl, but his minutes and then hours dragged by the concern of those on the surface became apparent.
As midnight neared, however, word was passed from the rescue chamber that fresh air was being given to the nine men jammed like sardines into the diving bell.
An officer explained "two hose connections had been made with the chamber so surface air could be pumped down to the men and stale air drawn off."
Shortly after 8:30 p. m. A.D.T. the rescue chamber, which operated between the surface ship Falcon and the sunken Squalus like a slow-moving elevator, had been pulled to the surface for the third time.
Nine men stepped out, bringing to 25 the number actually rescued at that hour and leaving below only eight more who were known to be alive.
Simultaneously, a navy spokesman, who had announced seven men were saved on the first trip and eight on the second, today actually had brought up on the second trip, thereby easing the load for the final trip of the huge diving bell.
They upon cheer rose from the decks of the Falcon as the first seven survivors stepped earlier today into the free air. Each, as he was rushed quickly to a dressing room, chamber, made history.
Not only was this the first time

King Addresses World In Empire Day Broadcast

Cheering Throongs Ignore Rain To See Their Majesties As They Travel Winnipeg Streets.

(By R. K. Carnegie, Canadian Press Staff Writer)
WINNIPEG, May 24—British subjects in the four corners of the world today heard King George, speaking from the centre of Canada in an Empire Day address, declare that spiritual dignity and material happiness of human life must be general before the Empire can claim to be of service to its own people and the world.
He said the Empire's wealth and power were but instruments and the end was "freedom, justice and peace in equal numbers for all, secure against attack from without and from within."
The King's speech of more than 800 words, the longest he ever has broadcast, was carried not only to British subjects around the globe. Principal radio chains in the United States, France and many other countries took the words of the King to their listeners.
The King spoke midway through a day of intense activity during which he and the Queen rode about Winnipeg in an open car. It was their first day in the west and their eighth in Canada since arriving at Quebec.

Queen Mary's Condition Is Satisfactory

LONDON, May 24—Queen Mary was officially stated tonight to be suffering considerable pain as a result of the automobile accident in which she was bruised yesterday.
Her Majesty Queen Mary's progress is taking a satisfactory course, though stiffness and pain are troublesome, said a bulletin issued at Marlborough House, her home. "An X-ray examination excludes any damage to the bones. The condition of the eye is improving."
Mention of the eye was in reference to an injury disclosed earlier today. This injury, "although painful, is not a source of anxiety," an earlier bulletin had said.
The Queen Mother received a long cable from her son, the King, and Queen Elizabeth, who are in Winnipeg.

British Troops Will Join French Army For War Games

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, May 24—A French newspaper reported today that British troops would join the French army this fall in annual war games which usually are held in eastern France behind the Maginot line of fortifications facing Germany.
The British military affairs writer for the newspaper Excelsior, said a battalion of British guards would take part in the Bastille Day celebrations July 14 and "contingents of British troops will participate in our coming grand manoeuvres."
He said the war games, in September, would bring a large delegation of British officers and troops.
Only authorized military information may be published in French newspapers under new regulations decreed by Premier Daladier. The War Ministry, however, refused either to deny or confirm that British troops were coming to France, but said it was familiar with the report.
A London spokesman for the British war office said "absolutely nothing" was known there concerning the report.
British officers frequently have been privileged observers at French manoeuvres in the past, but troops of the two powers have not worked together since they were Great War allies. Then they were under the unified command of Marshal Foch whose successor in event of another Great War is expected to be General Maurice Gustave Gamelin, chief of the French Army general staff.

Anglo-Polish Staff Talks Said Underway

(By The Associated Press)
WARSAW, May 24—Although official confirmation was lacking, it was reliably understood here today that a British military mission to Poland has begun conversations in Warsaw with Polish military leaders.
It was believed secrecy was observed because of a desire not to jeopardize the progress of Britain's European diplomacy, including negotiations for an Anglo-Russian agreement.
Polish observers said any actual military discussions of how Britain could fulfill her pledge of aid to Poland in case of war must take into consideration how far Russia could go in supplying military equipment to Poland.
Meanwhile tension between Germany and Poland found new expression in allegations and counter-allegations that transit facilities between the two countries are being interfered with.
Polish circles denied Berlin reports that a Polish frontier guard had fired on a German motor car at Tczew, a Polish station at the Danzig border.
The Polish version was that the Polish frontier guard fired in the air to warn the chauffeur of a German car when it appeared that the chauffeur was trying to cross the frontier on foot.

German Truck Driver Fired On

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, May 24—A third shooting affair on the border between the Free City of Danzig and Poland brought a new protest from the Danzig Senate today as Nazis buried their first victim in Kalthof with the condolences of Chancellor Hitler.
A German truck driver, en route from East Prussia to Germany, was shot by a Polish border patrol at the Iczew (Dirschow) bridgehead. The driver was not hit. A similar incident was reported at the same place a month ago.
(Poles said a Polish frontier guard fired in the air when it appeared the German driver was attempting to cross the frontier on foot.)
Arthur Greiser, president of the Danzig Senate, sent two notes across the street to the Polish Commissioner, adding to a series of protests exchanged since Gustav Gruebner, a veteran Nazi, was killed in Kalthof last Sunday.

Martyr's Funeral For Gustave Gruebner

KALTHOF, Danzig Territory, May 24—Nazis gave a martyr's funeral today to Gustav Gruebner who was shot last Sunday by a Pole. (Polish authorities said the Pole who killed Gruebner fired in self defence.)
A large wreath of lilies bearing Chancellor Hitler's name in gilt letters arrived by plane just before the services started in the local Nazi headquarters.
Arthur Greiser, president of the Nazi-dominated Danzig Senate, said Gruebner "now goes to Valhalla to report to Horst Wessel and others who gave their lives to Nazidom."

Many Celebrate Holiday In Traditional Style

Yesterday, Victoria Day, was observed in the Province with the usual fishing trips, while on Belvedere Golf course, followers of the game had their first taste of sport following the long winter. Beautiful summer-like weather prevailed and many sunbathers were in evidence by nightfall.
Many fishing parties visited favorite ponds and streams and varied the "luck." Some good catches were reported but few were reported to have fallen into the clutches of Island anglers. Not a few record breakers got away, however, at least unofficial reports said so.
In some places "hardy" swimming enthusiasts tried the water. It was "fine," they said, but not many tarried too long.
The day passed without serious accident on street or highway, City Police and R.C.M.P. reported.
Last night Prince of Wales College students celebrated the end of their year by holding their Convocation dance. Tuesday night the Kinamen Club held a very enjoyable dance in the Hotel Charlottetown.

Bodies Of Five Are Recovered

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., May 24—The bodies of five Peterborough residents, drowned early Monday when their automobile plunged into the Trent Canal at Lakefield, were recovered tonight after a stretch of the canal was partially drained.
Police authorities, however, still were baffled by the circumstances of the accident. No concern was felt for the five until last night, relatives believing they had gone to Toronto Monday to see the King and Queen.
The dead were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee, both 35; Miss Ella Davis, 15; John Riley, 25; and Earl J. Harrington, 38. The Lees are survived by three children, the oldest 13.
The bodies were recovered from the canal by nightfall. The bodies were recovered from the canal by nightfall.

Closing Ceremonies At Mt. Allison

SAKVILLE, N. B., May 23—Closing ceremonies at the Mount Allison educational institutions concluded tonight with graduation exercises of the school for girls. Ten students received their diplomas. Frances Clawson, Charlottetown, was valedictorian.

Labor Captures Seat From Gov't.

(By The Canadian Press)
LONDON, May 24—The Labor party today captured the Kensington House of Commons seat by a by-election that attracted 43 per cent of the electorate to the polls.
John Willmot won the seat for Labor, polling 10,715 votes to Major Angus Keddy's 7,119. Major Kennedy is a Conservative.
In the 1928 general election the late Sir George Harvey, Conservative, polled 12,401 votes to 11,856 for L. W. Matters, Labor. Today's result showed that while the Labor vote remained almost steady, some 5,000 less persons voted for the government.
It was the second loss for the government since it announced its conversion to a previous Conservative majority of 79 votes in Southwark north in a Labor margin of 1,500 votes. On the same day the government retained the seats of Westminster Abbey and Birmingham-Ston.

Given 16 Years To Repay $198

(Canadian Press)
GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, May 24—The matter of the $198 Rammarase Persaud owes Malaraj Maraj has been hanging fire for some time—and probably will be for another 16 years or so.
Back in 1925, Maraj, a Georgetown moneylender, obtained a court order for the payment of $2 monthly on the loan he gave Persaud. When April, 1939, came without the first payment, Maraj took the matter to the courts.
Because Persaud earns only $6 a month as a drug store clerk and has to support himself, his wife and six children, the Supreme Court ruled he should pay $1 a month on the loan. It he meets all payments, the loan will be paid off by November, 1955.

Princess Louise Indisposed

LONDON, May 23—(CP Cable)—Princess Louise, because of what was described as a severe indisposition was unable to attend a Brighton ceremony tonight.
The Princess, sister of the late King Edward VII, is 91 and the eldest surviving daughter of Queen Victoria.
