

How do you serve Vegetables?

It is really so easy to make the everyday vegetables more appetizing and nutritious without any extra trouble. Thousands of women have found that the same handy OXO CUBES that help them to utilize all sorts of leftovers are equally valuable when preparing vegetables.

Instead of serving these "plain boiled", they dissolve an OXO CUBE or two in a little water and add to vegetables which are cooked in their own juice. The addition of the fresh beef flavour and the extra food elements of the concentrated beef make all the difference in the world in the taste of the average vegetable.

Carrots, cauliflower, stewed potatoes and beets are often served with a cream sauce. To be good, this was made with butter and cream. But good cooks have found that they can make a better "cream dressing" with the plain juices of the vegetables, thickened with flour and flavoured with OXO CUBES. Oxo Cubes give a richness and tastiness that once you try them, you will always desire them.

Making vegetables more attractive, is only one of the many ways in which OXO CUBES are of daily service in the kitchen. Learn the new ways of putting flavour and sound food value into all sorts of meat, fish, and vegetable dishes.

The new Free Oxo Cook Book is full of such recipes and it is just the kind of cook book you have always wanted.

The Iron Horse

BY EDWIN G. HILL

Winter was coming fast. Snowstorm succeeded snowstorm. The line was kept open by a procession of snow plows which backed the great drifts. Track laying became impossible but Crocker and his aids never gave up. Thousands of Chinese were put to work to complete the tunnels at the rear.
"How can you make stone masons out of them?" Brandon asked the boss.
"Why not?" demanded Crocker. "They built the Chinese Wall, didn't they?"
Between storms the army of ants, scattered up and down the divide, launched their incessant attacks with black powder, crowbar, pick and shovel, blasting snow and ice, as well as rock, from the hard-packed ravines. The Chinese stoned with sweat as they toiled in the bitter cold, but they were invariably cheerful at their hard labor over their pork and rice. Davy and Casey each had a big gang of willing yellow men under him as they carried on the fight against the crippling winter. At night when they met, ate supper, and stretched themselves out after a bitter day, Davy put off sleep to hear Pat's tales of his Celestial crew.

"Sure an' th' monkey faces know their business, Davy," Pat began after a day in the snow shed. "When I first took charge, there was an av'ntim—we're good friends now—says to me, 'What wanchee?' He looked at me so, this cross between a limmon peel and a bad case of jelly janders. 'What wanchee?' he says to me, 'I guess I have been an awful idiot, Pat. I seem to have messed things up every chance I got, when I came back from the hills and had the first run in with Jesson, when I fell for that fake note and butted into Haller's and the fight I had promised not to get into, and again on the train when I was too damned mean to go to her and tell her what was really in my heart.'"
"I was th' same meself, Davy. I raimber when in the heat of me toolish youth I gave me back to Nora Brady, a back as stiff as a ramrod, a avoidin' the pladin' of her eyes, I cannot recall now what 'twas all about, 'twas very young and his head was hot."
"Did she forgive you?" asked Davy.
"Truthfully speakin', she did not," confessed Mr. Casey. "She burned me haughty spirit wid a few well-chosen wurrds, and the mixtin' of hills and long snow sheds, assemblin' his material from steamships which had fought stormy seas for nineteen thousand miles, taxing his locomotives and construction trains with burdens of rails and ties, he made ready for the last desperate spurt, the final leap forward to the prize in northern Utah.

"To Be Continued"
TEST WAS TOO EFFECTIVE.
Laura: "Yes, you see she told him her father had lost all his wealth, just to test his love."
Ada: "And then?"
Laura: "Well, she will know better next time."

Most Women

Have discarded old hygienic methods to assure immaculacy at all times

FEW modern women but employ a new and different way in hygiene. A way that supplants the old-time "sanitary pad" with true protection. Wear filmy frocks and light things... any time. Dance, motor for hours without doubt or fear.

It is called "KOTEX"... five times as absorbent as the ordinary cotton pad!
Thoroughly deodorizes... thus ending ALL fear of offending.
Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You ask for it without hesitancy simply by saying "KOTEX" at any drug or department store. Costs only a few cents. Proves risky old ways a folly.

No laundry—discard like tissue

Your reputation as a housekeeper often is judged by your cake. Cake failures usually are due to flour. Some flour bakes one way sometimes and another way at other times.

Quaker Flour always bakes the same—and it is always the best. The hourly tests as the wheat is milled and the daily baking in our own bake-shop, assure you that all Quaker Flour is of a uniform quality.

For all baking purposes Quaker Flour is best. Your absolute satisfaction is guaranteed by our money-back offer.
