Temperance Celebration at Murray Harbour

King George Division of the Sons of Temperance has just celebrated the 5th anniversary of its organization. An enthusiastic meeting was held in the Public Hall at Murray Harbour, on the evening of Thursday, Oct. 8, attended by a large number of people, and the following program was presented.

Singing, by a group on the platform, and the audience joining in, "Let The Lower Lights Be Burning," and "Throw out the Life Line."

Brief address by the chairman, Rev. T. R. Goudge. Solo and chorus, "What Shall the Answer Be?" Mrs. Margaret White, and chorus.

Dialogue, "Home Brew and Gingerbread," by Ross White and Jean White. Instrumental music by Edna Senebaugh, Carrie Chapman, Silas MacKay and Percy Senebaugh.

Historical sketch by Ross White. Male Quartette, "The Harbor Lights of Home," by Percy Senebaugh, T. R. Goudge, Carl Jordan and Louis Harris. Address by Rev. C. Waterworth. Duet by Rita and Alice Chapman, members of the Band of Hope. Instrumental music, and offering which amounted to over $8.00. Duet by Mrs. Silas MacKay and Carrie Chapman. National Anthem.

Mr. Waterworth opened his address with a humorous story of a dorkie who was praying for the preacher, and thus captured the interest of the audience at once. The speaker gave much useful information about the situation in our Province, and challenged us to work for the cause of Temperance here. He also gave first hand information, from his own observations, about the operation of "beverage rooms" in the United States and Ontario, and warned us that these are the old time bars back again in a worse form and with merely the name changed. While we have by no means ideal conditions here under Prohibition, it is far better than under Repeal, and should be much better if the people had what they voted for. We need to work for that.

Ross White, in the historical sketch, told how the Division was organized on Sept. 23, 1931, at the close of a public meeting in the same hall in which this meeting was held. The organizer was Mr. R. H. Ward, Deputy Worthy Patriarch of the National Division of the Sons of Temperance of North America.

Thirty persons signed the application for a charter on that date, and 23 of these are still members of the Order. A total of 105 members are in good standing in the Division now. Eighteen of these were members of Prince Albert Lodge, I. O. G. T., in former years. Meetings have been held every Thursday evening except one during the five years. A very bad storm was raging that night.

King George Division has paid fraternal visits to neighboring Divisions on a number of occasions, and entertained them in return. The Grand Division has also held two of its quarterly sessions here. Public meetings, a concert, and a play—"Ten Nights in a Bar Room"—and attendance in a body at church services, have also featured the activities of the Division.

The Prince of Wales Band of Hope has been carried on in connection with the Division, the Band numbers 35 at the present time, and 18 former members of the Band have been initiated into the Division on their coming of age.

In concluding the historical sketch, a cordial invitation was given to friends of Temperance to join and attend the Division, and assist in this worthy and needy work.

The Belgian King's speech before his cabinet, in which he came out against "defence treaties" with other nations, was interpreted by French officials as meaning he wished protection of Belgium's frontier by other powers, but without any reciprocal military protection.

The main fear expressed by French officials was that other small nations such as the Netherlands, and Baltic and Scandinavian countries might follow the Belgian lead.

French Foreign Office spokesmen said there would be at least two months of negotiations before any definite results of the speech could be determined.

Belgium, they pointed out, still formally was bound to France by treaty, by the Locarno Collective Security Pact and by membership in the League of Nations.

A high military source held that the vital purpose of the Franco-Belgium Mutual Assistance Pact was to protect France against any German flank attack.

Some informed quarters expressed belief that Leopold's speech had been delivered to "make a show" for preservation of German and French equilibrium for purely Belgian internal reasons.

"Belgium still is under all her obligations as a member of the League of Nations," one high source said, "and she simply wishes to avoid, like the Netherlands, commitments outside Geneva. But she'll have to join with the others if war comes."

Will Fulfill Obligations

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, Oct. 15—(A.P.)—The Belgian ambassador told Foreign Secretary Eden his country would fulfill its League of Nations obligations, reliable sources said tonight.

The ambassador, Baron Cartier de Marchinne, was reported personally to have assured Eden that King Leopold's "neutrality" speech was concerned solely with Belgium participation in future conferences of signatories to the Locarno Pact for collective European security.

Meanwhile with the Russian tension somewhat eased, hope of British officials for the peace structure of Europe were bolstered by a non-committal German reply to a questionnaire on future Locarno conferences.

A Russian spokesman said his country was content to wait a while longer before pressing for revocation of the Spanish Non-Intervention Committee to act upon the Soviet demands for a French or British blockade of Portuguese ports to halt alleged violations of the Spanish Non-Intervention pledge.

Leopold's speech, urging that Belgium return to her pre-war neutrality status with no military assistance pacts, shocked British Locarno enthusiasts.

The German reply to the British Locarno questionnaire was not made public, but informed sources said it was merely an apparent attempt to ascertain the extent of the Italian role in future conversations.

Germany was understood to have protested vigorously against the inclusion of Russia in any discussion in which Germany would be invited to participate.

British official circles also heard an unconfirmed report that Portugal had countered the Russian blockade demand with a declaration that Spanish Government ports should also be blockaded against non-intervention violations.

Blow to France

BERLIN, Oct. 15—(AP)—The "neutrality" speech of King Leopold excited newspaper comment in Germany tonight which centred on editorials concerning "French discomfiture."

"Paris is dismayed" ran the caption of an editorial in Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. The Foreign Office mouthpiece, Deutsche Diplomatische Politische Korrespondenz, contented itself with

WEDDING BELLS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Church Parsonage on Sept. 23, 1936 when Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newsome of Rose Valley, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to George, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Sherren of Cra-paud.

The bride was attended by Miss Marion Sherren, sister of the groom, while Mr. William Newsome, brother of the bride, ably supported the groom.

Reverend Hugh Millar officiated. After the ceremony the happy couple motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding reception was held, the guests being the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

In the evening a large crowd of serenaders gathered to chivari the newly wed couple. Prior to her marriage, the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower by a large gathering of friends, there being over two hundred guests. Early in the evening the bride-to-be was led to her chair by Miss Belle Nicholson and Miss Sadie Chown. Mrs. Eliza Abbott opened the presents while Mrs. Albert Todd read the verses.

The bride-to-be thanked her friends very nicely for the many beautiful presents she had received, after which all joined in singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow."

The rest of the evening was spent in dancing, Todd's orchestra supplying the music.

Their many friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Sherren a happy married life.
